BRUCE FOR NICARAGUA

Stimson Believes Peace Near

Report to State Department Reckons Terms for End of Strife

Hostilities to Enable Rivals to Push Plan for Disarming

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Belief that the Nicaragua civil war is at an end was expressed by Henry L. Bruce, personal representative of President Coolidge, in transmitting to the State Department a summary of terms of peace laid down at conferences of Liberal and Conservative leaders, and which provides for agreement by both factions.

Bruce will tomorrow to enable Liberal commander-in-chief to endeavor to persuade his followers to surrender their arms to the United States, was disclosed in official circles of the State Department announcement tonight.

The conditions enumerated in the telegram as governing the cessation of civil war made no mention of any threat on his part that the marines would disarm the Liberal troops which failed to turn over their weapons. In a statement yesterday, however, Bruce expressed the hope there would be no armament except for the small groups of "irreconcilables."

WOMEN AT PARTING

Federation Split Complete

New Southland Organization Plans Given Start at Mass Meeting

Break Laid to Long Series of Injustices to Delegates from Los Angeles

BY MYRA NYE
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, May 6. (Exclusive) The new Federation of Women's Clubs, split off today from the California Federation, will be called the Southern California Federation of Women's Clubs. Headquarters bought last month in Los Angeles by the Los Angeles District Federation will be purchased by the new organization as tentatively planned by the delegates assembled here in the twenty-sixth annual convention. All plans, however, are to be submitted to the various clubs of the five counties in the Los Angeles district for their approval.

Deep emotion but no hysteria was manifest in a mass meeting which started last night and held over till the small hours this morning in the Peacock Room at the Hotel Senator. Two hundred women were present, only those who had voted for revision of the by-laws, being admitted. In response to a roll call of clubs by Mrs. Orville Stout, president of the Women's Club of Hollywood, representatives of sixty-five clubs responded. Sixty of them said definitely they would work for the new federation. There was only one definitely dissenting vote, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, mother of the California Federation and its first president.

TEARFUL PLEA

She ended her tearful plea saying: "However, you are of a new generation of club workers. A mother cannot expect her children to follow her all the way. My love and sympathy goes with you whatever you do."

Mrs. Frank Gibson, who was to speak on "The Making of History," meaning the history of the California Federation, said to Mrs. Burdette: "Can I say now I am grieved beyond speaking?"

"You can feel no greater grief than I," responded Mrs. Burdette.

Mrs. William Read of Ebell and Mrs. Charles F. Crocker both stated that the indignation among the Los Angeles delegates here to Sacramento not only in the failure to pass the amendments presented by these two clubs, but in many ways on the platform, in conferences, and in the halls of the convention and committee meetings, were too great to be longer borne. Mrs. Turner said she would work to make the new

STAGE STAR TAKES VOWS OF CLOISTER

Madeline La Varre, Hailed as Footlight Favorite, Now Sister in Convent

NEW ALBANY (Ind.) May 6. (AP)—Sister Joan of the Cross sat quietly through vesper service at the convent of the Sisters of Mt. Carmel here today. If there crossed her mind any thought of the adulation of two continents which had been her due as pretty Madeline La Varre, star of the stage, she gave no indication of regret that she had forsaken the footlights for the cloister.

Madeline La Varre, who assumed the vows of the sisterhood yesterday, was the daughter of Sarahet, Australian dancer, and Ike Rose, who, at 61 years of age, is on the Loew vaudeville circuit. She was educated in a Belgian convent and then began her career on the legitimate stage.

Miss La Varre played for two years in London in Bruce Bairnsfeather's "The Better 'Ole." For two years she was with the Winter Garden shows and then was starred with Al Woods's musical comedies in New York and Chicago. Later she was on the B. F. Keith circuit.

Mr. Rose was present at the Sisters of Mt. Carmel chapel yesterday when his daughter took her novice vows.

OCEAN FLYERS FEARED LOST

Two on Trip From Africa to Brazil Missing Within 120 Miles of Goal

PARIS, May 6. (AP)—Much anxiety is felt here over the fate of the "Paris-Latin-America" aviators, Capt. Saint Roman and Commander Mourneyrac, who have not been heard from since the reception this morning of a radio message from them that they were within 200 miles of the Brazilian coast on their hop from St. Louis, Senegal, to Pernambuco, Brazil.

News of the flyers was eagerly watched for tonight by the large Latin-American colony in Paris and by French aviation officials who vainly attempted to stop the flight several days ago.

The aviators' action in eliminating type used by Capt. Saint Roman in plane, converting it into a plane that could descend safely only on land, is blamed here for the nonarrival of the flyers at Pernambuco.

In response to a request from French aviation circles, Rome also reported that no news had been received of the arrival of the aviators.

The distance from St. Louis to Pernambuco is about 1875 miles, and would be covered in a plane of the report. If it were true, Saint Roman from eighteen to twenty hours, depending on the headwinds encountered and the degree of variation from the course.

A message from Dakar yesterday said the aviator might land at St. Paul's Rock, about 540 miles from the coast of South America, before proceeding to Pernambuco. A Pernambuco newspaper last night posted a bulletin saying the plane had passed over St. Paul's Rock at 6 p.m. There was no confirmation of this report. If it were true, Saint Roman should have reached Pernambuco at midnight.

MAY BE MAROONED ON ISLAND OFF COAST

RIO DE JANIERO (Brazil) May 6. (AP)—As the hours wore on, anxiety increased here today over the safety of Capt. Saint Roman, French aviator who has not been heard from since 1 o'clock this morning when he reported his position by radio as 120 miles off the Brazilian coast on his attempted trans-Atlantic hop from the African mainland.

Amateur and professional radio men throughout Brazil began attempts to get in touch with the plane after it left St. Louis, Senegal, at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning. They picked up a message from the machine at 11 o'clock last night, when Capt. Saint Roman calculated that he was 200 miles from the Island of Fernando do Noronha, which lies off the coast of the State of Pernambuco, Brazil.

Later, at 1 o'clock this morning, he flashed that he was about 120 miles from the mainland. Since then no news has been received, causing great uneasiness here and the fear that the plane has fallen. Apprehension was increased by reports that the plane left Africa without pontoons for alighting on the water.

The possibility was advanced, however, of a forced landing at some isolated spot on the coast. In such a case the wireless apparatus on the plane might be put out of commission, accounting for the inability of radio men here to communicate further with the aviator.

CALIFORNIA UNABLE TO PICK HERO

Societies Disagree on Second Choice of Name for Hall of Fame

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (Exclusive)—Polite diction strove valiantly to mask strong feelings today as the California Historical Society and grand officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West agreed to disagree on the naming of California's second greatest citizen to grace the Hall of Fame at Washington alongside Fra Junipero Serra.

The net tangible result of the meeting was a resolution asking Gov. Young to postpone signing the bill that would name Fra Serra first and Thomas Starr King second. Even the resolution was not adopted unanimously. Only six of the ten representatives of the California Historical Society voted for it and the Native Sons showed their disdain by ignoring the vote entirely.

Whereupon a letter was forwarded to the Governor, telling him that at his suggestion the two organizations had met to settle the controversy of relative fame and had failed to agree. A copy of the Historical Society's resolution was inclosed.

Will Rogers Remarks:

PAWTUCKET (R. I.) May 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This is my first, last and only opinion on the "brassier" case. The moral of Gray's testimony as I gather it is that no matter what town you are in, you can get liquor, and the whole mystery of the case, as I see it, is how did he buy all this liquor on $5000 a year? Both parties claim they were tempted by the other. Well after looking at pictures of both of them I have decided that neither one had much resisting power in the first place. The tabloid readers are still reading Mrs. Snyder's testimony. The case is moving faster than they can read.

Troops Sent to Hunt Yaqui Band on Arizona Line

NOGALES (Ariz.) May 6. (AP)—A detachment of picked soldiers from the United States Infantry stationed at Camp Stephen D. Little was ordered out tonight to patrol the international border and to be on the lookout for a band of thirty Yaqui Indians who are believed to be headed for Bear Valley.

American army airplanes patrolling the border reported the sighting of the Yaquis to officers of Camp Stephen D. Little. Col. Faulkner then ordered the detachment out.

NUNGESSER BIDES TIME

Plane Ready for Atlantic Hop

Soldiers Keep Crowd from Craft Waiting Clear Day to Leave France

Flight from San Diego to St. Louis Delayed by Storms En Route

LE BOURGET (France) May 6. (AP) In a guarded shed, in this airport, Capt. Charles Nungesser's plane, the White Bird, is receiving the finishing touches of preparation for the projected flight of the French war ace from this base to New York. It had been expected that the take-off would take place before dawn tomorrow, but after a conference this evening at which weather conditions were studied it was reported that the flyers are unlikely to leave tomorrow.

Capt. Nungesser and Capt. Francis Coli flew from Villa Coublay to this starting base this afternoon. After a perfect flight they made a flawless landing here.

As the big plane came down to earth a squadron of guards with fixed bayonets rushed out on the field and drove the crowd of reporters and photographers over the dead line between the civilian and military aviation fields. But the crush was so great that the crowd broke through the cordon, whereupon a whole company was called out and surrounded the machine. The guard, which is being maintained tonight, is so efficient that the photographers were unable to take close-ups of the plane.

COLD RATIONS

The rations of Capt. Nungesser and Capt. Coli during the flight will be, for the most part, cold dishes such as caviar, bananas, pates de fois gras, sandwiches and iced tea, coffee and chocolate. They will have an alcohol lamp for the heating of beverages, as well as a filter to enable them to use sea water for drinking if they should be left adrift in the ocean for any long time.

Their equipment also includes two parachutes and two lifesavers.

Three routes for the long jump are under consideration, with the choice to be made according to atmospheric conditions at the time the start is made. One route touches Le Bourget, Cherbourg, Fastnet Rock (off Ireland,) the Magdalen Islands (in the St. Lawrence River,) and New York. The second is over Le Bourget, Cherbourg, the Bay of Fundy, Boston and New York, and the third is by way of Le Bourget, Cherbourg, Newfoundland, Halifax, Newport and New York. It is expected that if possible they will take the southernmost route in order to escape the risk of encountering icebergs.

SAN DIEGO-ST. LOUIS FLIGHT POSTPONED DAY

SAN DIEGO, May 6. (Exclusive)—Rain storms and other unfavorable conditions between San Diego and St. Louis on the route which was to have been flown today by Capt. Charles Lindbergh, who this summer is to attempt a nonstop New York to Paris flight, resulted in postponement of his flight until tomorrow between 2 and 3 p.m., he announced after conference with the office of Dean Blake, meteorologist in charge of the local Weather Bureau, and with naval aeronautical officers at the North Island naval air station, who informed him of unsettled weather conditions.

Lindbergh's flight will take him in a straight line directly from San Diego to St. Louis. Weather conditions on his route are unsettled today with a large storm area centered in Southern Utah, moving southeastward and reports of traces of rain over Oklahoma and Kansas. St. Louis reports a trace of rain, while Kansas City reports a rainfall of .62 of an inch.

By leaving tomorrow at 3 p.m., Lindbergh should arrive in St. Louis about 11 a.m. Sunday, since he plans to take his time over the 1600-mile route. Time required for the San Diego-St. Louis leg of his flight from here to New York is estimated to take between sixteen and eighteen hours.

Lindbergh appeared at the Ryan flying field shortly before 1 a.m. today dressed in flying clothes ready to complete the final details incident to his taking off this afternoon. Upon learning of the unfavorable weather conditions he announced that today will be spent in further testing of his San Diego built Ryan monoplane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," at Rockwell Field. Should weather conditions be all right tomorrow, he will supply his plane with fuel in the morning and be all ready to leave San Diego by midafternoon.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF FAMED AMERICAN

MAXIM DIES OF CANCER

Explosive Expert Ill Two Years

Inventor of Powerful War Munitions Handicapped During Youth

Scientist and Author Visitor to California in Search for Health

LAKE HOPATCONG (N. J.) May. 6. (AP)—Hudson Maxim, inventor, author and explosives expert, died at his home at Maxim Park late today of cancer of the stomach and anemia. He was 76 years of age.

Only a nurse and his wife were at the bedside when Mr. Maxim died. H. B. Maxim, an only son, of Woodbury, N. J., started for his home before death came at 5:45 o'clock, and messages failed to reach him soon enough for his return home.

Mr. Maxim enjoyed good health until two years ago, when he first began to suffer from anemia. He became ill while on a tour of Europe. He continued his experiments on his return, and last winter physicians advised a trip to California.

He was forced to cut that trip short because of what he called "a combination of nostalgia and anemia." Returning on his seventy-fourth birthday, he spent most of the time since in bed.

About three months ago Dr. H. H. Nelden, his family physician, discovered that Mr. Maxim had a cancer of the stomach, but kept the fact from his patient. All hope for his recovery was given up at that time.

LAPSES INTO COMA

Last midnight Mr. Maxim lapsed into a coma which continued until death.

The physician and friends reported that about a year before his death Mr. Maxim asserted that he and not Einstein was the discoverer of the theory of relativity. A pamphlet on the subject remains uncompleted.

Maxim's death ended his experiments to make naval torpedoes more deadly. Believing that another great war was approaching, he was eager to develop primary experiments in the substitution of nitroglycerin for superheated steam as a motive power. He was confident that this would more than double the range and effectiveness of the so-called automobile torpedo.

A foe of the pacifists to the end, he maintained that the country was poorly equipped for the impending test of battles in which he believed it would be involved.

He was, nevertheless, a life-long hater of war; a staunch advocate of peaceful arbitration, a champion of all mankind in trouble, and the self-appointed guardian of 1000 little birds that nested in the great trees of his palatial estate in New Jersey.

Two of Maxim's discoveries in his experiments with high explosives may be said in a large measure to have revolutionized modern warfare. They were the first smokeless powder made in America and the first to be adopted by the United States government; and "maximite," the first high explosive bursting charge ever successfully employed in armor-piercing projectiles.

FIGHT BEGUN ON PLAGUE

Flood Victims Vaccinated

Serum for 100,000 Refugees; Parishes Cry for Aid as New Breaks Loom

Homeless Placed at 323,837, Record Number, With Waters Spreading

VICKSBURG (Miss.) May 6. (AP) Every penny of the Red Cross fund and as much more as the American public can give will be needed to care for the flood refugees of the Mississippi Valley, Secretary Hoover declared tonight in summarizing the situation of the lower valley.

Three hundred and thirty thousand people must be cared for as a result of the devastation already wrought by the Mississippi, he said. The river already has spread over 3400 square miles of Louisiana lowlands, he said, and the crest of the flood is just passing Vicksburg.

"There is about 9000 square miles of Louisiana still kept dry by the levees," he pointed out, "but these levees, upon which thousands of men are working, have not yet felt the full power of the flood."

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) May 6. (AP) — More than 100,000 of the 173,286 refugees in the sixty concentration camps within the seven States of the Mississippi Valley flood area have been immunized with typhoid and smallpox vaccine.

With a small scattering of new cases of both diseases reported to Dr. William Redder, medical director of the Red Cross, today, efforts were made to hasten vaccination for all persons in the flood zone, since the recession of waters is expected to accentuate dangers from disease.

Vaccination has been extended to reach those persons not in refugee camps but who have elected to remain in their flooded homes or in places of security within flooded towns.

Meanwhile the Red Cross, fearing that levees on the Atchafalaya River in South Central Louisiana may break under the strain of flood waters from the Mississippi River crevasses, moved to establish new relief centers in the parishes of St. Martinburg and St. Lambre.

SUPPLIES RUSHED

Advised by residents of those parishes that a break in the levees seemed only a matter time, Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief for the Red Cross, ordered supplies rushed to the section where the relief work will be undertaken chiefly by local chapters. Between 8000 and 10,000 refugees are expected in St. Martinsville and St. Lambre should the levees yield.

The flood has placed 323,837 persons, a record number for disasters, under care of the Red Cross, with the flood waters pour from broken dikes and swelling hourly as additional in Louisiana and officials would make no attempt to predict the final total.

The new mark, announced by Mr. Baker, does not include complete counts fro mthe inundated sections of Louisiana.

HUNDREDS TRAPPED AS FLOOD LAPS AT HOMES

NEW ORLEANS, May 6. (AP)—While a thrilling drama of life-saving was unfolding across inundated Northeastern Louisiana today, engineers directing the forces combating the Mississippi flood, adopted a policy of watchful waiting along wide fronts where danger is likely to develop as the crest moves on to the gulf.

Serious situations were reported in some of the flooded sections of the huge funnel between the Mississippi and the Quachita rivers, but the relief machine was straining every nerve to prevent any serious loss of life.

Reports received here from many sections of the flood area were that hundreds of persons in remote places were trapped in their homes. The task of searching them out and taking them to safety was the one upon which the rescue squadron concentrated.

Several thousands are reported on Macon Ridge, which probably soon will be swallowed up by the rushing flood waters, but officials expressed confidence that all of them will be

Postal Receipts in Los Angeles Show Large Gain

WASHINGTON, May 6. (Exclusive) With the exception of Jersey City, N. J., Los Angeles made the biggest gain in postal receipts for April, as compared with April, 1926, of any large city in the country. The receipts of the Los Angeles office last month totaled $812,623, as compared with $708,822 in April, last year, a gain of 14.64 per cent. The average gain of the fifty leading offices was only 2.91 per cent.

San Francisco's receipts last month were $749,103, compared with $708,000 in April, last year, an increase of 5.80 per cent.

BANKS SWELL FLOOD FUND; SHRINE BENEFIT TONIGHT

Jack Dempsey and Theatrical Stars Head Programs for Relief; Total Now $125,136

Los Angeles banks, acting through the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association, yesterday responded to the appeal of the American Red Cross for contributions to the relief of the Mississippi Valley flood victims by the appropriation of $10,000. The check was made payable to The Times Relief Fund and was signed by F. W. Smith, president of the Pan-American Bank of California, who is secretary of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association.

The executive committee of the clearinghouse originally recommended a contribution by member banks of $5000, but decided to double the amount when the Red Cross raised its estimate of financial relief from $5,000,00 to $10,000,000.

Every dollar received for the monster benefit performance for Mississippi flood sufferers at the Shrine Auditorium tonight will go to the relief fund, all expenses being paid by the Shrine, according to announcement yesterday. Another huge benefit show will be staged tomorrow afternoon at the Gables Beach Club, with Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, as the headline attraction.

Los Angeles has raised $125,136 of its quota of $250,000 for flood relief, D. C. MacWatters, chairman of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, announced yesterday. The figures are for donations and receipts from all sources tabulated at noon.

The program of the Shrine benefit is one of the most elaborate assembled for a single performance. It is headed by the Duncan sisters, Rosetta and Vivian, in their original Topsy and Eva skit, which made them famous. Others of note on the bill will be Ivan Bankoff and Beth Cannon, Lynn Cowan and his Boulevard Band, the Shrine Patrol with its wooden soldier drill, La France and Harnett, the Tennessee Four, Three Kitchens, Walter Weems and company, Henry Fink, the Shrine Chanters, Fanchon and Marco's Hollywood Beauties Revue, Lupe Valez, noted Mexican dancer, and Ben Laietsky and his orchestra.

The performances will start at 7:30 with an organ recital by Claude Reimer, to continue until 8 o'clock, when the first act will appear. The concluding feature will be the preview of a feature picture which is not scheduled for release until several weeks. Tickets are on sale at the Shrine and Philharmonic auditoriums, Halbrite's and Birkel's stores. Every seat in the huge auditorium will be reserved and R. A. Heffner, in charge of the show, asks that everyone be seated before the curtain rises at 8 o'clock.

TIMES FUND GAINS

The Times' fund at 3 p.m. yesterday totaled $91,820, a gain of $14,814 from the amount reported in Friday's issue. The largest single amount yet received on the Hollywood quota was announced yesterday when the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce reported the contribution of $3000 by a Los Angeles woman, who asked that her identity be kept a secret. This donation brings the total of Hollywood subscriptions through the Chamber of Commerce to $8844, leaving the sum of $13,456 yet to be raised to make up Hollywood's quota of $22,000 assigned by the Red Cross.

The Hollywood High School will present benefit performances of the school's spring opera, Primi's "Firefly," this afternoon and tonight at El Capitan Theater, with every seat donated to the relief cause, and this is expected to reduce the Hollywood quota several thousand dollars. Every person connected with the theater has agreed to donate his services to boost the fund. Several additional features scheduled for next week are expected to clean the slate entirely.

A $1000 appropriation from the club treasury and $600 in individual pledges were announced yesterday by the Los Angeles Rotary Club during the ceremonies incidental to the installation of the club's new officers.

QUOTA SUBSCRIBED

Word was received from San Fernando that its quota of $1000 already had been realized, and an attempt will be made to double the sum. At noon yesterday the three banks of the town reported that slightly more than $1500 had been contributed, with many other sources yet to be heard from. The Kiwanis Club gave $651, and the Exchange Club $308. It is believed that approximately $1000 will be realized from the American Legion benefit in the high school auditorium Thursday night.

Ninety-seven members of the nurses' graduating class of Los Angeles General Hospital raised $65 with a tea held in their classrooms, according to announcement by Ann Sindelar, president of the class, and graduates of Lincoln High School will give a benefit party next Thursday in honor of Florence Nightingale's birthday anniversary.

Among other benefits announced is a dance and entertainment to be given by Los Angeles County Missouri State Society next Tuesday night at Moose Hall, 1034 South Grand avenue. The lodge is donating the hall for the purpose.

A letter of appeal has been sent to all members of the Lincoln Heights Commercial and Industrial Association by William A. Wilson, president, and generous donations are asked for the relief of the flood sufferers. The letter points out that Lincoln Heights never failed before in an emergency and never has the need been so great as now.

FRUIT SHIPPED

A carload of Southern California lemons is being rushed to the Mississippi Valley by the Orange County Fruit Exchange, with transportation and refrigeration donated by the Southern Pacific Railway. Fruits, canned goods and other supplies from Southern California contributors also are being handled without charge by the railroad company.

The Salvation Army branch at Huntington Park announced yesterday that it was co-operating with other organizations in raising a fund and expects to send in its first collection within a day or so. Between $700 and $800 already has been collected and a large supply of canned goods is to be shipped today to the stricken region.

A vivid glimpse of the conditions in the devastated area is contained in a letter written by a resident of Vicksburg, Miss., under date of Sunday, the 1st inst. The letter, received by E. L. Cook, 3350 San Marino street, follows in part:

LIKE IN FRANCE

"I think we know a little of what it must have been like in France, except, of course, the awful carnage. Ten thousand refugees, white and black, coming in all day and all night, all in six days—the majority of them with only the few clothes they had on. I was assigned to a committee to go to the white camps to find out what was most needed by the refugees. Found from three to ten and eleven in some tents, in some cases babies 2 and 3 weeks of age, and from two to seven other children. We have been going out in the morning, making up our lists and hearing stories that made you weep. One woman who had taken refuge in a tree with her baby in her arms dropped the child, so exhausted was she, and saw it swept away by the torrent. Another case: Man and wife and two children were in a tree which began to waver. The man got down to try to shout for help and saw the tree washed away with his family in it. . . . I saw in the paper that the B. B. Club furnished 15,000 sandwiches one day for the people as they got off the boats and I did not know there were so many clothes in the world as have passed through the Legion rooms and the annex (Red Cross.)"

ADDITIONAL BENEFITS

Plans for two additional benefit performances were announced late last night. All the proceeds from a special performance of "Alias the Deacon" at the Hollywood Playhouse tomorrow afternoon will be given to the relief fund, in addition to which Berton Churchill, star of the show, will make a generous personal donation. Many additional features are promised by the directors of the theater.

The other benefit show was announced by S. S. Millard of the California Theater, who will present a special showing of the sex film, "Is Your Daughter Safe?" at 11:30 p.m. tonight. Men only will be admitted and police permission was granted yesterday for the extra show, owing to donation of the proceeds to the sufferers' fund.

RELIEF FUND REACHES TOTAL OF $7,813,908

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—The Red Cross flood-relief fund today reaches a total of $7,813,908. Small chapters in practically every State in the midwestern part of the country are now showing a splendid response to relief appeal, Red Cross headquarters said, and in many cases these chapters have doubled and even trebled their quotas.

Eastern States have contributed $5,029,470; Midwestern States, $1,524,000; Pacific States, $748,987, and insular possessions, $11,471.

AIRMEN AT BAY CITY WILL AID RELIEF FUND

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (AP)—Delegates to the Aeronautical conference here will assist the Red Cross campaign for Mississippi flood relief tomorrow.

Arrangements were made today to have a fleet of fifty airplanes fly over the city at noon, bombarding the streets below with appeals for relief contributions, and advertisements of benefit programs to be given at local theaters at midnight.

London takes care of many of its victims of street accidents by placing forty first-aid stations around at busy traffic centers.

"TIMES" FUND FOR RELIEF OF FLOOD VICTIMS

The Times, which started the Los Angeles fund for the relief of the Mississippi Valley flood victims with a contribution of $1000, will receive, acknowledge by publication and forward to the Red Cross any contributions sent to this paper. Checks should be made payable to The Times Relief Fund and mailed to The Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

The flood situation grows daily more appalling. The number of refugees is now estimated at 300,000 with a death list and property loss which cannot yet even be approximated. The need is desperate and The Times urges all who are able to contribute any amount to do so quickly and as generously as possible.

If preferred, contributions may be sent direct to the local Red Cross, Transportation Building, Los Angeles.

PLAGUE FOUGHT IN FLOOD'S EBB

OTHERS THREATENED

With almost a score of towns already flooded, others are threatened with serious damage. Water in Tallulah was three feet deep and rising rapidly, while there was two or three feet in Rayfield.

South of Alexandria, where a threatening situation is being developed by the rising tide in the Red River, more than 100 idle men literally have been conscripted by the courts for levee work and plantation owners have been sending large forces from their fields to the danger points.

Back waters from the La Fourche lowlands still were battering the levees at Monroe, a town of 30,000 persons, and had entered the low sections, which were being evacuated. The water is not expected to get much higher and it is believed the city will escape any serious flood.

Although the weight of the great lake to the north had set up a swift stream down-State, the eighty-mile front along the old Red and Atchafalaya rivers still was being held for the protection of the Louisiana sugar-cane section to the south.

NEW ORLEANS HOPEFUL

There were no reports of any additional crevasses along the Mississippi nor were any danger points detected by the workers and guards who are on watch over long stretches of the embankments.

An increasing feeling of security was noticeable in New Orleans as a result of the forecast by Dr. I. M. Cline, Weather Bureau meteorologist, that the river here will not rise above twenty-one feet even if all levees between here and Baton Rouge hold. This is several feet below flood stage.

Dr. Cline stated today that he based this prediction on the effect of the Caernarvon crevasse opened to the south. He recalled that during the flood of 1922 with an even narrower crevasse at Poydas, near Caernarvon, the river here fell steadily even while it was rising at points to the north.

"If this crevasse (Caernaryon) deepens to anything comparable with the condition in 1922," he said, "the river cannot rise materially at New Orleans, notwithstanding the fact that there is a flood of much greater proportions now bearing down on Old River."

HOOVER AND PARTY LEAVE FOR BATON ROUGE

VICKSBURG (Miss.) May 6. (AP)—After setting in motion rehabilitation machinery for the flooded Mississippi delta region to the north, Secretary Hoover and his party left here late today for Baton Rouge, where similar action will be taken in conference with Louisiana officials.

With $1,000,000 estimated as necessary for immediate crop needs in the delta section, the Red Cross set aside half of that amount and Gov. Murphree and C. L. Crosby, civilian flood dictator for the State, agreed to call a conference of bankers looking to the raising of the remainder through local subscriptions.

Secretary Hoover was accompanied here by Secretary Davis of the War Department who conferred by long-distance telephone with the Mississippi River commission and others in charge of flood control in the valley with a view to getting preliminary work started immediately on a comprehensive program for flood control to be presented to Congress in December.

James L. Fieser, acting chairman of the national Red Cross, is with the President's representatives and will confer with officials of his organization throughout the flood region.

From Baton Rouge the Hoover party will proceed to New Orleans and then return to Memphis for further conferences there with representatives of Arkansas and other States affected by the flood.

CONGRESSMEN TO INSPECT FLOOD AREA

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—A Congressional delegation will make a week's tour of inspection of the flooded area of the Mississippi Valley beginning the 30th inst.

Subcommittees of the Senate Commerce Committee and the House Flood Control Committee will meet in St. Louis at the invitation of the Mississippi River Flood Control Association and travel down the river to get a first-hand view of the situation to be used in drafting relief legislation.

Chairman Jones will head the Senate committee and Chairman Reed will be in charge of the House committee.

Bootleggers of Flood Zone Sell From Tree Tops

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) May 6. (AP)—In the swaying tree tops of half a dozen Mississippi River islands near Memphis, ingenious bootleggers have erected great whisky stills and houses during the last few weeks to do a land-office business while their less fortunate competitors were put out of business by the flood, Sheriff Knight reported today.

"High above ground, the clever devils have built houses, using tree tops of great cottonwood and willow trees for foundations," Sheriff Knight said. "New lumber proved to us that this unusual piece of work is a product of the floods. While treacherous flood waters have made raids difficult we have seized twelve giant stills during the last few days with waters receding. At one place alone there were stored in the tree tops forty-five vats each holding 1000 gallons of mash. Two of the stills seized each had a capacity of 750 gallons."

BAY CITY PLANS FOR VON MALTZAN'S VISIT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (AP)—Dr. Kurt Ziegler, German Consul-General here, announced today that Baron Ago von Maltzan, German Ambassador to the United States, would arrive here the 14th inst. for a four-day visit. Dr. Ziegler announced that members of the local consulate and a reception committee appointed by Gov. Young would meet Von Maltzan at Davis, and that the Ambassador later would be received at the State Capitol by the Governor. The trip from Sacramento here will be made by automobile. The Ambassador will leave for Santa Barbara after completing his visit here.

Cinema Yacht Goes Aground; Crew Gets Off

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 6. (AP)—The two-masted yacht Truant, said to belong to a Los Angeles cinema concern, was aground a mile north of San Simeon today. She was reported in no danger and was expected to be towed into deep water by a tug from Los Angeles.

Members of the crew declared they were steered off their course by ranch lights, mistaking them for the Piedro Blanco lighthouse. The crew left the ship.

The Garbutt & Walsh tug Salt, with towing and wrecking equipment, left Los Angeles Harbor yesterday afternoon to pull the Truant off. She should arrive at noon today.

EX-MAYOR OF ALTURAS DIES

ALTURAS, May 6. (AP)—L. W. Gibbins, 61 years of age, manager of the Alturas Electric Light and Power Company, died of heart disease here today. He was for many years Mayor of Alturas and chairman of the Modoc County Board of Supervisors. He left a widow, four daughters and two sons, all living in California.

CLUB REVOLT COMPLETE

federation possible but she would wait on the action of her club. She has called a meeting for this purpose next Friday following the regular session of the club. Mrs. Read made it plain that she was absolutely uncompromising in her stand against the California Federation.

"I am absolutely antifederation," she said. Mrs. Boutt is also. She already has the backing of her club. Mrs. V. W. Green of the northern district, newly elected president, spent an hour in conference this afternoon with Mrs. Turner, making a plea for the latter to give Mrs. Green a chance to show she would be fair to the south as well as the north.

"Mrs. Green was the woman who made the motion for the State federation to indorse No. 28 on the last November ballot and to withhold approval of No. 30, which the south favored," said Mrs. Read in the meeting early this morning. "This was the beginning of all this acute trouble. The use of the Southern women against their will seemingly to indorse political measures can be stood no longer," she said. Mrs. Read was referring to the measures for reapportionment of representation in the State Legislature, No. 28, which was adopted by the voters, reducing Los Angeles county's membership in the Senate to one, although it increased the county's delegation in the Assembly. No. 30 would have placed representation in both houses strictly on a population basis.

MANY REMAINING

Mrs. Turner, with the secretary of her club, Miss Therese Levy, left after the conference for Los Angeles. The greater part of the Los Angeles delegation remained to hear Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. James Birney Lorbeer, both scheduled to speak late today. Both made fine speeches and received ovations from their delegation.

So indifferent to their pleasure have the northern women been to the Los Angeles delegation that the latter soon canceled their reservation to go on the annual play-day excursions scheduled for tomorrow. At the banquet at the Hotel Senator last evening when Gov. and Mrs. Young were guests of honor, no Los Angeles district women participated in the speaking and a few refused the hospitality of the State board.

Mrs. Gibson's witty address was the refreshing feature of the whole convention and Dr. Arthur Henry Rinehardt who spoke on "The Child and the Modern World," inspired the entire delegation.

NEW PRESIDENT IN PLEA FOR UNITY

SACRAMENTO, May 6. (AP)—With a request for unity, co-operation for the general good of the federation and a laying aside of all [illegible], Mrs. W. W. Green of San [illegible], president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, took the chair of office this afternoon at the concluding session of the annual convention of the organization.

"Let there be no north, no south, no east or west," Mrs. Green declared as she formally accepted the responsibility. "Let California, all of it, and mine, be our motto."

The convention body overwhelmingly favored San Diego as the next convention city. A recommendation will be made to the State board to be made to the State board at its next meeting that the next convention be conducted in the southern city. Santa Cruz also extended an invitation. At the request of Mrs. Lydia Lawhead, of the northern district, the San Diego invitation was accepted, subject to the approval of the State board.

Tuberculosis Association State Elects

SACRAMENTO, May 6. (AP)—C. Browning of Los Angeles was today re-elected president of the California Tuberculosis Association at the opening business session of the annual convention. Physicians, teachers, nurses and social workers are in attendance.

Three incumbent officers of the association also were re-elected. They are Dr. George E. Bogue of San Francisco, first vice-president; Robert A. Peers of Los Angeles, second president, and Dr. Gertrude Baker of Pasadena, secretary-treasurer. Dr. R. G. Hodgkin of Berkeley was elected third vice-president.

GOODCELL SUED ON CAMPAIGN LITERATURE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (AP)—Rudolph Spreckels, wealthy San Francisco financier and civic leader, and Rabbi J. L. Magnes, prominent Jewish leader, were named defendants in a suit for $50,000 damages filed here today by Dr. Jessica Peixotto, professor of economics at the University of California.

Dr. Peixotto charges that Spreckels and Magnes, in connection with the campaign for the recall of Mayor James Rolph, Jr., published and circulated a pamphlet containing statements which were false and libelous. The pamphlet, she says, was distributed by the Spreckels-Magnes faction in the recall campaign.

EXCHANGE SEAT BRINGS $80,000

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Sale of a seat in the New York Curb Exchange, the first to be sold since the stock market boom began, was announced today by Edward H. Williams, Jr., who said that he had sold his seat for $80,000 cash. Williams, who is president of the Williams-Lafayette Corporation, a holding company for a stock exchange firm, has been a member of the exchange for the past seven years and in a few months he will be eligible to apply for membership in the exchange's gratuity fund, which makes the seat worth $100,000 to him.

AIR CONFEREES APPEAL FOR PUBLIC SUPPORT

Commercial Aviation Pronounced Insecure Until Earnings of Carriers Are Increased

BY FLOYD J. HEALY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (Exclusive)—Commercial aviation, as such, has ended its year 1 face to face with the necessity of realizing that it is no longer a novelty, but a business. It cannot be a business of stability until those engaged in it realize that the secret of success lies in proper equipment, proper maintenance and proper regard for its financial integrity [illegible] in heavier-than-air machines, capable of transporting mails, persons and packages through the clouds, probably will come forever, but the foolhardy practice of putting into the air improperly equipped planes and engines in run them on a margin of safety in case that the financial success of the operators is endangered is a thing that must be studiously avoided.

CONFERENCE MEETS

The chief commercial operators of the country flatter themselves today that their thoughts in the midst of their back-slapping on their achievements. They met at the Hotel Whitcomb in the second annual Aeronautical Conference as a preliminary to the dedication tomorrow of San Francisco's new municipal airport at Millbrae, near Burlingame.

What has been accomplished, the conference learned, but there is still much to be attained if the future commercial development of aviation, given to private enterprise by Uncle Sam, is to be a success.

The meeting was most aptly put by Harris M. Kingsbacher, president and general manager of Western Air Express, Inc., Los Angeles-to-Salt Lake line which bested all other airways during its first year of operation, when he called attention to the fact that commercial aviation in the United States is not in competition with the railroads, but with the highways.

"The American air mail service, now in operation today, does not have a volume of business that, at first paid the contractor his costs of operation," he declared. "Only one has been efficient to meet 'out-of-pocket' expenses, set up reasonable depreciation reserves and show a reasonable margin of profit.

"The existing contract routes were created to place the burden of developing commercial aviation upon the nation who can derive benefits from its use. Experience of the past year shows conclusively that any national development of air transport must, in its infancy at least, depend upon air mail pay for its costs."

He said that some contract operators are trying to pinch through on these costs in the belief that a subsidy will be returned nor can the safety be assured. Hanshue said:

TWO HAZARDS

"Commercial aviation today faces two hazards. The danger of inexperienced, incompetent operation and the equipment unfit for such service; the fact of economically unsound undertakings in air commerce.

"The remedy for both evils lies with the Federal government which sponsored commercial aviation as a stimulus to the aeronautical industry in furtherance of the national defense.

"Under the Air Commerce Act, the Department of Commerce can enforce the use of sound equipment and the employment of competent and adequate air and ground forces. Under the Kelly bill, authorizing contract air-mail routes, the Postoffice Department can prevent advertisement of air-mail contracts on routes made possible either from economic or natural reasons or the letting of any such contract at a price which will not return revenues sufficient to properly equip and maintain the operation.

"Both of these should be rigorously applied if commercial aviation is to have a sound and healthy growth. Failure to enforce either will result in an undependable, dangerous operation of little value, eventual collapse of the service and heavy financial losses to those who are persuaded to back any such unsound venture.

"The instances of unbalanced equipment, or underbuying or overbuying, of investment in expensive installations unwarranted by the operation or failure to provide proper installations are numerous. There are air-mail routes along which the traffic volume does not warrant continuance and others where the contract price is too low to pay the cost regardless of volume. These mistakes must be rectified or the operations eventually abandoned.

"The quicker the American people come to recognize aviation as a business and treat it intelligently as such, the sooner will this new industry assume its rightful place in the transportation system of the nation, to the benefit and profit of all."

As a prospective industry, San Francisco welcomes aviation with open arms, averred Supervisor Milo F. Rant, representing Mayor Rolph at the conference. The first step comes tomorrow with the dedication of the new airport and the Supervisor expressed the hope that the field will prove the nucleus for an airplane manufacturing business to be built up around it.

More than 100 representatives of aviation organizations and interested bodies attended the conference, which was presided over by Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale. Dr. Young flew to the scene in a small Kinnear plane from the Glendale field, that has been dubbed the "toy" of the more than fifty airplanes on hand to participate in maneuvers tomorrow.

Prof. Everett P. Lesley of Stanford University's aviation department, extolled the work being done there and at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, to further aviation development. He gave praise to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics and the Guggenheim Foundation for providing the funds making the studies possible. Army commanders are co-operating with chambers of commerce and other organizations to stimulate interest and development, according to Col Harry Graham, commander of Rockwell Field, San Diego. Similar expressions were advanced by Lieut. A. E. Montgomery, of the naval air station at San Diego.

Others who spoke highly of air accomplishments, of the importance of municipal landing fields, and who looked fat othe future with optimism included G. E. Hegardt, port manager of Oakland, Congressman Free of San Jose; City Engineer O'Shaughnessesy of this city; Assistant Postmaster William F. Burke; H. V. Thaden, of the Thaden Metal Aircraft Company; Fred Dohermann, Jr., of the San Francisco Regional Planning Association, and Valentine Gephart, national secretary of the National Aeronautical Association.

SCHOOL BOARD MEN JUST BOYS

Two Show Youngsters How to Stand on Heads at Father's Day

Clair L. Peck and John B. Beman of the Board of Education yesterday proved they hadn't forgotten all their playground stunts. They dared each other to stand on their heads for five minutes at the Father's Day celebration at the Third-street school.

It was Peck's birthday, so he led off and performed the feat in the presence of 125 other fathers who attended the celebration, John B. Beman followed, and both were loudly cheeerd by the children, among whom were Beman's and Peck's two small boys. Later in the afternoon when they took their places on the board, they were boasting of their achievement.

Foreign Office Announces British View Established and Matter Closed

LONDON, May 6. (AP)—Secretary Kellogg's reply to the British note on the war debts question was received today at the Foreign Office, where it is stated that the British viewpoint has been sufficiently established and that there is no desire to start a controversy.

The British Treasury is not likely to issue further comment than the statement made in the House of Commons yesterday by Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill.

The explanation by Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, that through a typographical error the words "except Great Britain" were omitted from his statement regarding the amount of money accruing to America's debtors from Germany in the form of reparations, drew sarcastic comment from the Daily Express.

WHIPPING NOT DEATH CAUSE

PORTLAND (Or.) May 6. (AP)—Following an autopsy today on the body of Leonard Stafford, 12 years of age, Dr. Frank R. Menne of the University of Oregon medical department, announced there was no connection between the death of the boy and a light whipping administered to the youth a week ago by the principal of the Ockley Green School, which he attended.

FIGHTING ENDS IN NICARAGUA

Stimson Reports War Over With Truce Declared

Americans Will Supervise New National Election

Liberals Assert Threats of Force Were Made

immediate measure, the State Department summary said.

NEUTRALS LACKING

"I am quite clear that in the present crisis no neutral or impartial Nicaraguan exists," Mr. Stimson said. "Moreover, any attempt by the Nicaraguan Congress to elect a substitute for Diaz under the form of Nicaraguan law would almost suddenly, in the present situation, become the occasion of further bitter factional strife."

The announcement added that it was on this basis that Stimson emphasized to the Liberal leaders "that the retention of President Diaz during the remainder of his term was essential and would be insisted upon."

"They all yielded to that statement, and Gen. Moncada has undertaken to persuade his troops to lay dow ntheir arms," the announcement continued. "A truce until Saturday was declared for that purpose, and the American forces have been drawn up between the two armies in order that they may receive the arms of both."

The State Department announcement follows conference between Assistant Secretary Olds and President Coolidge, and came after a White House warning that statements made in regard to the peace development by either Nicaraguan faction should not be accepted "too literally."

REPORT EMPHATIC

The Stimson report was emphatic in expressing his judgment that distrust of any election conducted under other circumstances than American supervision was the main factor in preventing a peaceful adjustment in Nicaragua. Doubt as to the guarantees for a fair election under the Diaz government and inability of the Liberals to reconcile themselves to Diaz's continuance in office were the two main difficulties he had encountered, Mr. Stimson said.

"In the past, the party in power in Nicaragua, whether Liberal or Conservative, seems to have made use of its government position to control and manipulate elections, with the result that the opposition, feeling that it could not have a fair chance, has at times resorted to violence," the summary of the Stimson report continued. "His (Stimson's) mission, has, therefore, been concerned with an effort to find a way to overcome the difficulty that whatever might be said on theoretical grounds for the idea of a neutral President, as agreed upon by both parties, as a practical matter it would not be possible, in the existing circumstances, to find any individual who would be acceptable to both sides."

In a message received today, Mr. Stimson said: "My investigation has shown that this evil of government domination of elections lies, and has always lain, at the root of the Nicaraguan problem. Owing to the fact that a government once in power habitually perpetuates itself or its party in such power by controlling the election, revolutions had become inevitable and chronic, for by revolution alone can a party once in control of the government be dispossessed. All persons of every party with whom I have talked admit the existence of this evil and its inevitable results, and all of them have expressed an earnest desire for the supervision of election by the United States in an attempt to get rid of the evil forever."

As an element of the program of pacification and readjustment, President Diaz proposes that the Nicaraguan Congress enact a law creating an electoral commission to be controlled by Americans nominated by the President of the United States, "and he offers to turn over to this board for its purposes the entire police power of the state," the summary of the Stimson report went on. "The organization of a nonpartisan constabulary, under the instruction and command of American officers, is further suggested by President Diaz who, in this connection, asks for the continuance in Nicaragua of a sufficient portion of our present naval force to insure order pending the organization of the constabulary."

References in dispatches from Nicaragua to the use of American troops to disarm Liberals may be in relation to this aspect of the peace terms, since they would impose upon the American forces the duty of policing Nicaragua and suppressing any group that remained in arms, until such time as the new constabulary should be ready to assume its duties. The status of the American Marines in such circumstances, however, would be that of a police force temporarily loaned to the Nicaraguan government and acting by warrant of Nicaraguan law in maintaining order in that country.

LIBERALS DISCLOSE LETTER BY STIMSON

MANAGUA, May 6. (AP)—In support of the statement of the Liberal general, Jose Maria Moncada, that the United States had threatened to use force to disarm the Liberal forces in Nicaragua, the Liberal peace delegates made public today a letter written by Henry L. Stimson, personal representative of President Coolidge.

The letter, addressed to Gen. Moncada, says that President Coolidge has authorized the American forces "to accept the custody of the arms of those who are willing to lay them down, including the government, and to disarm forcibly those who will not do so."

The text of the letter, the original of which was shown by the delegates to the correspondent of the Associated Press, follows:

"Dear Moncada:

"Confirming our conversation of this morning, I have the honor to inform you that I am authorized to say that the President of the United States intends to accept the request of the Nicaraguan government to supervise the elections in 1928; that retention of President Diaz during the remainder of his term is regarded as necessary for the proper and successful conduct of such elections; and that the forces of the United States be authorized to accept the custody of the arms of those who are willing to lay them down, including the government's, and to disarm forcibly those who will not do so.

"Very respectfully,

"HENRY L. STIMSON."

HUDSON MAXIM TAKEN BY DEATH

Famed Munition Inventor Victim of Cancer

Boy With Lowly Start Wins as Explosives Expert

In addition to these, he also invented a steam-propelled torpedo and perfected a high-velocity rifle shell with a speed of a mile a second.

Hudson Maxim as a boy received practically no education, yet as a self-taught scientist he bordered close upon the ambition of Goethe in another line "to make all ktiowledge his own." He was 9 years of age before he learned the alphabet, and despite the violent winters of his native Maine, he was 16 before he owned his first pair of shoes and his first hat. He pitched hay for three days to earn seventy-five cents to buy his first geography, chiefly that he might look up France "to see where Napoleon used to live."

The senior Maxim, although a poor miller, was an insatiable student. Philosophy, history, science, astronomy and the mystery of space and eternity were the subjects discussed at his fireside, hence his children came early and naturally by their love of the more serious subjects. He also possessed a remarkable memory, which was inherited by Hudson in generous measure. When nearly 70 years of age the latter could recite from memory scores of poems that he had not seen since his school days.

Against odds which to many would have been insurmountable, Hudson Maxim struggled to obtain an education. Choosing the most difficult courses offered at Kent's Hill, Me., he completed his academic studies at the age of 25, and was graduated with a wide knowledge of chemistry, engineering and the natural sciences. Hardly was he out of school when he had formulated the hypothesis of the compound nature of so-called atoms, which has become a generally accepted theory only within the past few years.

As a young man he first decided upon the printing and publishing business as a career, and spent five years in this work at Pittsfield, Mass. Even at this time his inventive mind was working, with the result that he originated a process for color printing which was tried out on the Evening Journal of Pittsfield, said to have been the first daily newspaper issued in colors in the United States.

BACK TO CHEMISTRY

His love of chemistry, however, was not finding sufficient expression in the printing business, and in 1888 he sold out and began experimenting with explosives and ordnance. In 1890 he built a dynamite factory and smokeless powder mill at Maxim, N. J., a place named for him, and in co-operation with Dr. Robert C. Schupphaus perfected the powder later adopted by the United States government.

It was in connection with this invention that the strife between Hudson Maxim and his brother, Sir Hiram Stevens Maxim, first came to light. It seems that Hudson Maxim, whose baptismal name was Isaac, had dropped this name early in life and assumed that of Hudson Maxim. Sir Hiram, inventor of the Maxim gun, later accused his younger brother of attempting to set up a company in New York by misrepresenting himself as "H. Maxim," inventor of the gun. The controversy continued for a number of years, whereupon Hudson Maxim issued a statement to the effect that he never had invented a gun and never intended to. The brothers were unable to reconcile their differences, however, and remained enemies for more than twenty years.

Hudson Maxim was born at Orneville, Piscataquis county, Me., February 3, 1853. When he was a boy of 15 he had won considerable fame as a wrestler, having thrown all comers at several country fairs. Yet he never was able to beat his sister, Lucy, four years his senior, who could throw him in less than a minute. He attracted so much attention as a wrestler that a New York promoter induced him to engage in several professional bouts at a Houston-street (New York) resort, in which he threw several well-known wrestlers, including Matt Grace, then collars-and-elbow champion of the United States. The man who was to become known as a dignified, intellectual scientist a few years later could have been a professional wrestler from that moment, but "Murderers' Row," as that section of Houston street was then called, failed to attract him.

MARVELOUS VOICE

In connection with his physical power, it may be added that Mr. Maxim had a marvelous chest and throat development, with vocal chords which enabled him to be heard in articulate speech more than a mile away.

His experiments with dynamite, nitroglycerine, guncotton and other explosives resulted in many hair-breadth escapes, yet he never seemed to fear the dangerous substances with which he was associated for so many years. He had seen his assistants blown to atoms upon several occasions, had building shattered over his head, and great pieces of metal imbedded in the walls around him upon countless occasions, yet he never relaxed in his efforts to increase the power of explosives. His own gift to science was his left hand, which was blown off in an experiment with "maximite."

During the latter years of his life he was actively associated with the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., the firm that bought his original smokeless powder patents. He later became consulting engineer and expert in the department of research for this company, although he also gave a large part of his time to experiments with torpedos in connection with the E. W. Bliss Company, munition manufacturers of New York.

Among the other more important achievements with which Mr. Maxim was credited were: Perfection of "stabilite," a smokeless powder producing better ballistic results; invention of United States service detonating fuses for high explosives, Armor-piercing projectiles; invention of "motorite," a new self-combustive material for driving automobile torpedoes, and of processes and apparatus for manufacturing millie perforated powder grains.

He was the author of "The Science of Poetry and the Philosophy of Language," "Defenseless America," and "Dynamite Stories."

Mr. Maxim was a member of the naval consulting board since 1915, a past president of the Pan-American States Association, and of the Aeronautical Society of New York.

He leaves his widow.

WHY GRAY SLEW SNYDER REMAINS TRIAL ENIGMA

Law Does Not Permit Confessor to Tell What Was in His Heart as He Dealt Out Death

BY W. E. WOODWARD
Author of "Bunk"

QUEENS COUNTY COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, May 6. (Exclusive)—Judd Gray on the stand as a witness in his own behalf is not allowed by the rules of legal procedure or the law, or something, to tell what he felt or thought during the long months when he and Mrs. Snyder were planning the murder of her husband. He is permitted only to tell what he said and did. His testimony must deal only with actualities. As a result he appears as a grotesque mechanical doll, buying a sash weight, a bottle of chloroform, striking a man with the sash weight, drinking liquor and so on.

This procedure makes it extremely difficult to discover Gray's motives. The moral or emotional basis of his downfall remains about as obscure as it ever was although the testimony has revealed every movement he made for months before the murder. He endeavors now and then to say what was in the bottom of his heart, but the law apparently limits his disclosures in this direction to a statement that he "was dominated by Mrs. Snyder."

TRIFLES EXPLORED

In the meantime he is drawn out at great lengths as to whether his eyeglasses were on his nose or in his pocket, when he struck Albert Snyder, and where and when he got his breakfast. The law deals extensively in geography and chronology. It bends its huge energies to learn in what direction Gray walked and how many steps he took; and vast problems hang around the question as to whether the train left at 10:27 or at 11:41. But why he took the train at all is left largely in doubt.

Precisely what is meant by being "dominated by Mrs. Snyder?" Nobody has so far explained this domination very satisfactorily. It is entirely probable that Gray himself does not know the reason for her hold on him. He says he thought her "charming"—but "charming" is as vague as "domination."

The State, soaked in the materialism which seems to pervade the whole body of the law, charges that Gray wanted, and expected, part of the life-insurance money that would come from the slaying of his paramour's husband. And the Snyder defense—in its turn a prosecutor of Gray—makes the same charge. But Mrs. Snyder on the stand had to admit there was no agreement to divide the insurance money. She had to make that assertion or invalidate her own defense, which is based on the contention that Gray conceived and carried out the murder against her will.

DOESN'T KNOW WHY

Gray says he did not expect any money, and he adds that he "doesn't know why" he killed Snyder. If the scope of the inquiry into the motives could be sufficiently broadened to include Gray's emotional life, as well as the facts of his material existence, his motives might be uncovered.

My impression is that he was dominated by Mrs. Snyder because she stood for the time being in the place of his mother. His mother-fixation, if it exists, as I think it does, could be disclosed by questions as to his early life; but this, I am sure, would be outside the legal frame of this trial and would be altogether out of order.

I would like very much to learn what he thought of his own father and of his childhood experiences with his parents. I suspect that Albert Snyder stood in Gray's ego as the shadow of his father. Although he had never seen Snyder he called him "the governor" in referring to him. He did not get this term from Mrs. Snyder, she always referred to her husband, in talking to Gray, as "the old crab." But to Gray he was "the governor."

His pet name for Mrs. Snyder was a mother's name; he called her "mom" and "mommie." He testifies—or confesses—that on the night of the murder he called frantically for "mommie" when Snyder clutched him by the necktie and was getting the best of it. Then he cried "mommie, for God's sake come and help me." And "mommie" came, he says, and cracked her husband over the head. As this case unrolls, inch by inch, it seems to me that it embodies, in some faint undefinite way, a picture of the oedipus complex.

CASE UTTERLY SIMPLE

As far as the material facts of the murder are concerned, this case is utterly simple, and a layman like myself can only sit here in amazement and stare at the gyrations of the lawyers in clouding the issue.

In England the whole matter would have been disposed of long ago. The English courts are prosaic; they lack melodrama; but they have a marvelous directness of movement.

In this case a man and his mistress killed the woman's husband. The killing was not done in self-defense; the husband was asleep. Both of them confessed to the murder. The confessions were made when the two accused persons were a hundred miles apart. Now, a man, on the witness stand, confirms his own confession, implicates himself and the woman, and tells a story so obviously truthful that the lawyers are unable to shake it in the least.

What else remains to be done? Is not the case complete?

DEATH TALE FINISHED

Gray Completes Testimony

Snyder Case Recesses Till Monday When Lawyers Will Summarize

Paramour Sticks to Story Through Seventeen Hours on Witness Stand

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Henry Judd Gray, the little corset salesman who contends her participated in a murder under the dominance of his paramour's mind, staggered from the witness chair in the Snyder-Gray murder trial today with "I've told you the truth," as the final sentence of seventeen hours of testimony. He surrendered the chair to the first of six character witnesses who vouched for his truth and veracity. There followed fifteen minutes of rebuttal and the testimony of the case was completed.

"The defendants will retire," commanded Justice Townsend Scudder.

Tears in his eyes, but his head erect, Gray reeled back to his cell under guard. Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, the Queens Village housewife who testified that Gray killed her husband against her wishes and then tried to fasten the crime on her, marched stoically out behind him, pale but haughty beside a police matron. Gray's mother and sister, both crying, were escorted to Gray's cell.

Counsel for State and the defense conferred with Justice Scudder and court was adjourned until Monday, when summations will begin the day. Counsel for both agreed that the jury be given the case late Monday.

CROWD LINGERS

The promised "thrills" of the testimony were ended, but part of the crowd, as large today as ever, grouped itself about the table where the State exhibits lay, including the five-pound sashweight with which Gray testified he hit Albert Snyder, the magazine art editor for whose murder he and Mrs. Snyder stand jointly charged.

Court guards, worried by the long battle with these curious spectators, removed the exhibits and dispersed the crowd. They filed out reluctantly, expressing sympathy for Gray, whose demeanor and testimony, which included a demonstration and dramatic recital of the attack on Snyder, seemed to have caught the "rays of limelight" that usually fall upon "the woman in the case."

Of the seventeen hours Gray was on the stand seven were spent under the lash of a dual cross-examination. When Dana Wallace of Mrs. Snyder's counsel ended his six hours of cross-examination today, Dist.-Atty. Newcombe took over the witness. His half-hour of questioning, like that of Wallace, did not cause Gray materially to change his story.

He had testified directly for ten hours that Mrs. Snyder planned to kill her husband, insinuated the idea into his head when he was stupified by drink and debilitated by station, and then, when her mind gained ascendency over him in an occult manner he could not explain, led him by the hand to the side of her sleeping husband, where he began the attack that ended in Albert Snyder's death.

STICKS TO STORY

Under cross-examination he admitted that he might be mistaken, "within a week" about some dates of lesser importance, and he altered his testimony here and there where he said he believed his memory had lapsed, but in the main he stuck to his story through sarcasm, belittlement and the charge that he left "the Snyder home after the murder and deserted the woman you say you loved in the hour of her need."

To that sentence, Gray replied: "I left the house, Mr. Wallace, if that's what you mean."

Gray had testified that he was an automaton, strangely moving in a world of whisky, intrigue and bedroom-murder plots; a tender-hearted fellow, with no grudge to acquit and no venemous thoughts, lured into an act he reprehended while he contemplated it, solely by the "magnetism" of Mrs. Snyder.

"If you didn't attack Albert Snyder for his insurance," asked Wallace, "why did you agree to help kill him?"

"That," Gray answered, "is what I would like to know."

"Alice of Buffalo" was the theme of part of Wallace's cross-examination. Gray said she was a "perfect lady" and that his wife knew he "went out with her." Wallace bowed and backed, but Gray maintained that he had told the truth.

UNEXPLAINABLE

Gray acknowledged that the letters he had posted by Haddon Gray at Syracuse after Gray had left that city for Queens Village, were written at 3 o'clock that afternoon. At the top of each was written, "Saturday, March 12, 6 p.m."

This indicated that the dazed mental condition which Gray had described as his when he moved through the last chapters of the tragedy was not so great as he had contended. But Gray explained, loosely, that sometimes he did things which he could not explain to his own satisfaction.

Dist.-Atty. Newcombe then asked Gray to describe the part Mrs. Snyder played in the killing. He brought out by adroit questions that it was while Gray was atop Albert Snyder, struggling with him in a bed littered with chloroform bottles, picture wire and pliers that Mrs. Snyder picked up the sashweight Gray had dropped and struck her husband on the head.

"Did Snyder's struggles continue after she struck him?" Dist.-Atty. Newcombe asked.

"No, I don't recall that he did," Gray replied.

Gaseous Trail Left in Air of Earth Held Responsible by Cult Founder

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Gaseous trails left in the earth's atmosphere by Halley's comet in 1910 today were blamed for the World War by Dr. P. Homer Curtiss, founder of the "Order of Christian Mystics," who addressed the Woman's Universal Alliance.

The gas made humanity nervous and suspicious, he said, and if another war occurs in 1929 the Pons-Winnicke Comet of last June must be blamed.

Generation of a great wave of humanitarianism was suggested to neutralize the cosmic forces.

Francis Gow-Smith Ends Brazilian Adventure With Rarest of Indian Relics

NEW YORK, May 6. (Exclusive)—Francis Gow-Smith, explorer for the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation, not only has come out of the dangerous jungles of the Matto Grasso in Brazil with his life, but, according to George G. Heye, has gathered what is the most valuable Indian collection in the United States.

He had not been heard from since the receipt of a letter dated November 8, 1926, until a cable was received by the museum yesterday from him at Sao Paulo, Brazil, announcing that he had the cherished Nambiquara and Parecis collections after being robbed and maltreated by bandits.

"The reason this is the most valuable collection of Indian costumes, weapons and utilitarian articles," Heye said, "is that it is a very dangerous country. Not only is it infested with bandits, but the Indians themselves are very unfriendly toward white men. We believe that the bandits he mentioned were Brazilian revolutionists, who took to the jungle after their defeat."

The last word from him before the cable was from Juruena and announced that he was among the Nambiquaras.

"They are the most primitive Indians I have so far visited," he wrote, "sleeping on the ground and eating practically raw food. Men and women are completely nude."

YOUTHS BARRED IN HOLD-UP CASE

De Autremont Trial Judge Issues Order

Hundred Students Forced to Quit Courtroom

Investigator Tells of Finds Near Crime Scene

COURTHOUSE, Jacksonville (Or.) May 6. (AP)—Circuit Judge Thomas, presiding at the trial of Hugh De Autremont, charged with murder of the four men killed in the hold-up of a Southern Pacific train in the Siskiyous in 1923, ordered all students of high schools and grade schools from the courtroom when the trial opened today. About 100 boys and girls left the room.

The first witness today was Frank Ramares of Sacramento, special investigator of the Southern Pacific Railroad, who testified late yesterday to finding a dozen or more articles at or near the scene of the crime which the State expects to link to the accused and his fugitive twin brothers.

Twenty-five of the State's sixty-one witnesses have been called.

Ramares told of finding near the rendezvous of the bandits in the Siskiyous a can of salad oil, a bullet-riddled tin can, five exploded 45-caliber pistol shells and an exploded dynamite cap, identified previously as similar to those stolen from an Oregon City construction camp in 1923, and a tree, stripped by an explosion of bark and limbs. The blast, the State will hold, was a test by the bandits.

His explorations in the crime vicinity revealed sixty-five trees were used as targets from which the five bullets were extracted and presented as evidence.

Vincent Arregas, another Southern Pacific investigator, with headquarters at Sacramento, also testified. He assisted Ramares in his explorations of three weeks at and near the scene of the hold-up.

Fred M. Stanton of Weed, Cal., former Southern Pacific officer, who helped in the hold-up search, testified to the finding of a cap a mile south of the tunnel mouth, which the State maintains belonged to one of the De Autremonts and was lost in the flight.

WOMEN WAGE FIGHT ON PERSONAL TAXES

DARBY (Pa.) May 6. (AP)—Darby women have won an important point, in their opinion, in their revolt against payment of a $4.05 personal tax. They have convinced the tax collector, Robert Shaw, that the levy is "unpopular" and the collector has called a meeting to give the women an opportunity to tell why they object to payment of the impost. Despite repeated threats of authorities that those who failed to pay the tax would be sent to jail, none has been arrested.

Wide Plans Assault on All Records

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 6. (AP)—Harvard's three best distance runners will provide competition for Edvin Wide when he tries to shatter all known records for the two-mile run in the Harvard stadium tomorrow. They are Capt. E. C. Haggerty, intercollegiate one-mile champion, and Jim Reid and Leslie Flaksman, who finished third and fourth in the indoor collegiates in New York last winter. Wide will try to better his own outdoor record of 9m. 14-5s., as well as the indoor mark of 8m. 58 1-5s., established by Paavo Nurmi of Finland at New York in 1925.

HAMILTON BAFFLES OAKLAND

Angel Southpaw Pitches 9-3 Victory; Bob Hasty Rotted in Hurry

OAKLAND, May 6.—Los Angeles made the series with the Oaks a stand-off by winning today at Oakland by a score of 9 to 3. The Oaks were beaten in the first inning and "Oil" Hamilton saw to it that they stayed whipped.

Long Bob Hasty started the pitching for the Oaks and he had nothing that the Angels did not hit. Four runs scored in the first inning and after that it was a question only of the size of the score. Dick Cox, the man who prevented Art Delaney from getting a no-hit game on Thursday, opened on Hasty with a double and he scored on Staley's single. Jacobs followed with a hit and Hood contributed a long fly to Shinners, to let Staley score. Jahn also got a hit and Krug was walked to fill the bases. While a double play was being made on Mitchell's grounder, both Jacobs and Jahn scored, for Marty Krug jockeyed around until Jahn scored from second, after which he allowed himself to be tagged out.

TIGERS-BRUINS IN BIG GAME TODAY

Occidental and U.C.L.A. Nines Hook Up in Crucial Tilt

BY BRAVEN DYER

THE U.C.L.A. and Occidental baseball teams hook up at Patterson Field, Eagle Rock, this afternoon in the "croocial" game of the 1927 Southern Conference season. Unless the Bruins can pull the unexpected and stop the undefeated Tigers today, Wilkie Clark's athletes seem destined to run off with their third consecutive championship.

Occidental has waltzed through Redlands, Caltech, Whittier and San Diego, winning the Aztec game by the lopsided score of 23 to 0, probably a record for Southern Conference competition. The Bruins have defeated La Verne and Pomona, but were rudely and unexpectedly upset by Redlands in a 3-to-2 encounter. The Bengals are the lone undefeated team in the circuit and following today's clash have only Pomona and La Verne to meet.

Coach Sturzenegger's Bruins are the underdogs today and as such have a fine chance of winning. The Occidental team is surprisingly well balanced, combining the effective and puzzling pitching of Bud Teachout with the excellent defensive and offensive playing of such stars as Solly Mishkin, Les Haserot, Mike Godett, Vic Conde and others.

It is a matter of history that U.C.L.A. teams often pull the unexpected when thrown against their Eagle Rock rivals. For two years running Occidental football squads have been heavy favorites to win, only to have the Bruins rise up in all their manly glory and run off with the Swift's Premium.

The Bruins also recall with no little satisfaction a 3-to-0 victory scored over Teachout in last year's big game. They contend that beating Teachout in 1927 will be no harder than it was in 1926. Whether they are correct in this assumption remains to be seen.

Graham has done some neat twirling for the Bruins and if right today should give the Occidental sluggers plenty of trouble. He held Pomona to four measly blows last week, and the Bruins won handily, 10 to 3.

Two other conference games are on tap today. Caltech goes to Claremont to tackle Earl Merritt's Sagehens. The Engineers have a sweet hurler in Big Jeff Wineland and also displayed plenty of hitting ability to swamp Whittier last week. Redlands plays Whittier at Whittier in the other game of the day.

PREXY WILLIAMS PLANS TO PUT BRAZILL ON PROBATION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (AP)—Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast League, announced here today that Frank Brazill, third baseman of the Los Angeles club, was to be placed on probation for his assault on Umpire Mal Eason at Los Angeles, April 21. Brazill probably will be allowed to play with his club again next week.

FRANK BRAZILL

HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Brazill was fined $250 and suspended indefinitely for attacking Eason during a dispute over a decision. At first it was intimated that the player, one of the club's stars, was to be kept out of a uniform for the balance of the season.

Williams consulted Mike Sexton, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, and the latter accepted the Coast League head's recommendation that Brazill be placed on probation. Williams said today that he would have another conference with Eason before making final disposition of the case. He expects to leave for Los Angeles tonight.

Sheiks Get Seven-Run Lead in First Two Innings

McCabe Relieves Mulcahy to Protect Stars' Margin

BY BOB RAY

By amassing the grand total for Hollywood, of seven runs off the sometimes-celebrated slants of Walter Kinney in the first two innings, Oscar Vitt's Stars took what is technically known as a commanding lead over the Portland Beavers and turned in an 8-to-6 victory in yesterday's run-fest at Wrigley Field. The victory made it two straight for the Stars and evened up the series at two-all.

Despite the fact that a lot of runs were made by both sides, the athletes showed considerable speed on the greensward with the result that the contest was over in just one hour and twenty-seven minutes, which ought to be some kind of a record for an 8-to-6 contest.

After the Stars had run up a seven-run lead in the first two innings it should have been a walk-away for the Home Guards, but Phil Mulcahy blew up in the third and the Beavers scored five runs, so everybody got interested in the struggle again. However, Dick McCabe took the mound for the Stars in the fourth and succeeded in staying the run-making tendencies of the Beavers, thus making the day safe for Bill Lane and Hollywood.

AMERICANS BOWL OVER EUROPEANS

Tilden and Hunter Master German Tennis Aces in Net Play on Berlin Courts

BERLIN, May 6. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, American tennis stars, today mowed their way through Germany's best players in the international lawn tennis tournament at the Red and White Club, each winning his match in straight sets in a fashion which visibly depressed the German tennis fans.

Bill Tilden

Tilden defeated the veteren Otto Froitzheim, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, while Hunter defeated Dr. Heinz Landmann, 6-2, 6-1, 9-7.

It occasioned little surprise that Tilden outmaneuvered and outserved Froitzheim, but the additional circumstance of Hunter's disposal of Landmann in three straight sets was a blow which tennis associated officials admitted "was pretty sad."

Tilden was extremely erratic at the start of his match, but when Froitzheim was leading, three-two, Tilden knuckled down and plowed through the remaining games in easy fashion, taking the set, 6-3.

Tilden had little difficulty in capturing the next set, 6-2, but in the

STRONG SURPRISES WILLIS

Seattle Scrapper Outpoints Rival to Carry Away Decision in Hollywood Legion Star Bout

Pitting his own clever boxing ability and ringcraft against the jaw-jolting punches of his rival, Everett Strong, the aggressive Seattle middleweight, reversed the dope and defeated Cowboy Jack Willis in ten rounds at Hollywood last night.

Willis, a universal favorite, because of his hard-hitting ways, was utterly outgeneraled and outboxed. Strong won eight of the ten rounds. He nullified the cowboy's dynamite with his wet blankets of cleverness.

JACK WILLIS

It wasn't a case of a handy boxer merely staying out of range of a rugged puncher. Strong gave Willis a neat shellacking. He kept pounding away at the body and face of his man, and clearly had the edge. Willis began to tired about the nose early in the fight and Strong pecked away at this, keeping the claret flowing freely all the time. There were no knockdowns, although both men landed enough of the hard ones to keep things moving.

Willis undoubtedly had the knock-out formula in either hand, but Strong injected the human equation into it and kept him too busy trying to fend off a lot of gloves. It was a good fight.

Jackie Spencer Wright had a little too much on the ball for Dallas Bate-

DORIS JACKSON WINS AS FISH SCARE MERMAIDS

LONG BEACH, May 6.—Miss Doris Jackson, 17-year-old Long Beach swimmer who recently saved a youth from drowning in the surf here, today defeated Mrs. L. E. Fourrier, also of Long Beach who was an entrant in the Wrigley ocean marathon last January, in a match race between the Belmont and Pine-avenue piers, a distance of approximately three miles.

Starting at the Belmont pier at 9:30 a.m., the women were taken from the water at 12:10 p.m., less than a quarter of a mile from their goal, with Miss Jackson 100 yards in the lead. A strong undercurrent, the low temperature of the water and the presence of a large school of porpoises which frightened the swimmers near the end of the race, all combined to cause the premature finish.

INDUSTRIAL TRACKFEST TODAY

Battling for gold (medals) and glory in more than thirty track and field events, some six hundred athletes, representing the industrial teams of Southern California, meet this afternoon at the Coliseum. The games are under the auspices of the Recreation and Athletic Association of Southern California, and should be one of the biggest athletic events presented in the big bowl this year.

Most of the competitors are former college and high school athletes who are now engaged in mortal combat with John J. World and are taking time out to return to their former pursuits. The event was inaugurated last year and was a big success. Inasmuch as the athletes have had longer time to get into shape, this meet should be even better.

Tommy Lee's Pirate Cops Class R Yachting Opener

SAILS TO WIN IN FAST RACE

Summer Yachting Season Under Way at San Pedro

Commodore Churchill's Boat, Galliano IV, is Second

Two More Events Will Be on Tap Today and Tomorrow

SAN PEDRO, May 6.—The Pirate, Tommy Lee's redoubtable Class-R sloop, fittingly opened the summer yacht-racing season at San Pedro yesterday by winning, by five seconds, a hair-raising race that was a classic for the entire twelve miles.

With her nose right under the Pirate's golden stern, Commodore Owen Churchill's new Galliano IV, passed the finish at Welch Rock an instant after Tom huffed. Five seconds astern of the Galliano was Syl Spalding's Debra, splendidly sailed by Ben Weston.

The three leading boats staged a continual battle for the windward advantage from start to finish, although Tommy got the Pirate across first and was never headed. He worked out a good lead on the beat up to Point Fermin, held his own in the long run down to Long Beach but both Galliano and Debra came within an ace of catching Pirate on the beat back to San Pedro in light airs.

Sterling Jeffers brought Al Christie's new Heather across in fourth place, the Davis brothers were fifth with Patricia and Nick Potter finished sixth with California, which sprung a bad leak and nearly foundered. A medium westerly made it sporty going for the fleet.

Today and tomorrow the other two events of the three-race series for a set of trophies offered by the California Yacht Club, will be sailed.

DARLING WINS IN FAST TIME

Bert Darling, U.S.C. freshman sprinter, sped over a damp track in a drizzling rain to win a 100-yard dash in 9.8 at Santa Ana yesterday. The meet was an informal affair, the Trojan yearlings meeting the combined Santa High School and Junior College teams. Darling, who has been suffering from a twisted ankle for the past few weeks, surprised in an interclass meet three weeks ago by placing second to Charley Borah in the century, nosing out Capt. Ed House of the varsity. The frosh walked off with yesterday's meet without trouble.

Wright was the more clever of the two and had the better of the rough going, landing the clean hard punches. It was a good battle, Bateman holding up his end all the way, but was unable to break through Wright.

The scheduled six-round special ended abruptly in the first round when Herman Auerbach swung a low right-hand punch into Billy Clark, terminating hostilities by a foul. The two middleweights were mixing furiously when the low blow landed.

In the four-rounders, Bud Coughlan outpointed Joe Abramson and Dick LePan shaded George Brady for decisions.

DEDICATE NEW GOLFERS' HOME

Brentwood Members Accept $225,000 Clubhouse

Ham and Works Honored at Great Celebration

Thompson and Gaines Lead Collegiate Stars

BY BILL WISE

The new Brentwood Club home, erected at a cost of more than $225,000, was formally dedicated by more than 500 members and friends, last night. Judge Lewis R. Works, president, and Harry Ham, secretary, presided at the ceremonies, held in honor of the most auspicious event in the history of the Santa Monica organization, established in 1915.

HARRY HAM

Thomas R. (Tom) McCall, C. L. Bundy, J. J. Jenkins, Dr. C. P. Thomas, Harry M. Gordon, A. M. Chaffee and others, comprised the first board of directors that leased the 138 acres, now owned by Brentwood, in 1915. The purchase of the property, which has more than trebled in value, was negotiated in 1920, following a progressive reorganization. The then sand layout was first planted in 1922 and the all-grass course that has been improving yearly, is now one of the best in the West.

To Harry Harrison Ham, more than anyone else, belongs the credit for first introducing the idea of a new club home. The popular and progressive club secretary worked practically single-handed at the outset but early in 1924, enlisted the aid and active support of the entire executive and membership personnel. Ham's fight for the new clubhouse that will stand as a criterion of west coast country club homes received official and unanimous recognition from the record crowd of members and friends participating in the dedication ceremonies last night.

It was exceptionally interesting to note that in addition to supervising all phases of construction, Ham personally selected all furnishings, silverware, china, lighting fixtures, attendants, livery, and, in fact, everything connected with the new home and even found time to select the trees and shrubbery that will soon add much to the new edifice.

A. A. Laam, Judge Works, John Parkinson and others, assisted Ham in his later fight for a new home, but paramount credit for the entire structure must go to the progressive secretary, who is also one of the most popular golf officials in this vicinity.

The new Brentwood home is second in size only to the Olympic Club, in San Francisco, the largest on the west coast. Luxurious fittings are in direct keeping with the new club, which is of Spanish design. The club is located on the extreme west side of the property, on a gently swelling knoll overlooking the entire golf course and would be a credit to the finest golf and country club organization in the world.

In addition to a fine golf course—and a superfine home, Brentwood boasts of Wee Willie Hunter, club professional. Wee Willie was formerly British amateur champion and has twice won the California open championship—the title he now holds. In addition to Hunter, Brentwood claims another champion, Mrs. Dan Jones, women's California golf champ and one of the best influences in the country, for better feminine golf.

BEAR NETMEN TO GO EAST

California Will Send Two-Man Team to National Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament

BERKELEY, May 6. (Exclusive)—Although the chances for successfully defending the singles and national doubles titles captured in 1925 and 1926 are negligible, California will have a two-man team in the 1927 national tennis intercollegiates at the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, the latter part of June. This was the effect of an announcement last evening by the Associated Students executive committee.

Bud Chandler won the singles titles in the seasons of 1925 and 1926 and doubled with Gerald Stratford and Tom Stow in that order to also win the doubles matches. Chandler, was the main body about whom California's tennis satellites revolved. With Chandler graduation went the Golden Bears' tennis opportunities.

The two men to be sent east will come from the following group of five tennisers: Capt. Tom Stow, Bradshaw Harrison, Dick Hoops, Johnny Risso and Andy Burke. Harrison has been ineligible so far this season on account of scholastic standing. It is expected that his marks will have attained the required plane by June. Previous to his qualification Harrison was ranking player on the California team. A series of elimination matches will probably be sponsored to determine the two racketers for the eastern excursion.

SPLIT HOLD IS ACE HIGH WITH LUTZE

Nick Plans to Use it Exclusively Against Paul Jones

Paul Jones, the wrestling cowboy from Texas, who has gained fame and prestige among the heavyweight matmen of the world through the use of his split holds, is due to find out, from personal contact, just how much agony they produce, according to Nick Lutze, of Chicago, who meets Jones in a two-hour match at the Olympic Wednesday night.

Up until about a month ago, Lutze had given the split hold little thought. He knew how good it was, but he seemed perfectly satisfied with his backknife scissors. But now that he has that hold down perfectly, he decided upon the split as the next one he would become thoroughly acquainted with.

Lutze has been practicing with the hold for some time, and he gave one of them, the leg-split, a slight workout here against Tommy Drask, the "Flying Dutchman." The way Drask squirmed pleased him so much that he now intends to use it against the grappler who has become famous with it.

Whether he will have as much success with it as Jones, is doubtful. Lutze is more active in the ring than the Texan, and probably will leave more openings for Jones to grab off a stray arm and leg and proceed to separate them from the rest of the body. Jones is a more cautious wrestler. He seems to sling to his opponent once he is on top of him, leaving very few openings for the other fellow.

The hook body scissors will be another hold Lutze will have to evade. It is as effective as either Joe Stecher's scissors, or Lutze's short-arm scissors. Jones has sought a bout with Lutze for a long time, as he has always believed he could beat the Chicagoan if Dare would give him the chance.

Renato Gardini, the big Italian wrestler, will clash with the speedy Charley Hanson in another big bout. Matty Matsuda meets an unknown who is said to be one of the best middleweights in the country, while Chris Michaels of Hollywood, and Leon Papiano meet in the curtain-raiser.

Redlands Wins Over Pomona; Cinches Flag

REDLANDS, May 6.—Redlands High School virtually cinched the Citrus Belt League championship in baseball here this afternoon by defeating Pomona High School, 2 to 1, in a wildly exciting pitchers' battle between Green of Redlands and Keogh of Pomona. Redlands scored in the second inning when Gardner beat out a bunt to first base. Stagg drew a walk and Nowell loaded the bases when he singled through short. Watkins, with two strikes on him, singled to left field and Gardner scored. Stagg rounded third, and, as the throw-in was slow, he raced for home and beat the ball to the plate.

Pomona scored in the third when Gillingwater hit to right field. It was good for two bases, but he tried for three. The ball was relayed and Pansacho overthrew third, the ball enabling Gillingwater to score. The score:

Redlands	2	5	3

DEL LORD TO PILOT MIDGE II IN CLASSIC

Del Lord, now that he has a little time he can call his own, has announced that he will race Midge II in the speed-boat races which will be held the 15th inst. at Balboa and will himself drive his 151-class hydroplane. In the three heats he will have an interesting mechanician in the person of Rosetta Duncan, whom he has just directed in "Topsy and Eva." Lord, who is the president of the Pacific Coast Hydroplane Association has thirteen cups to his score and recently broke all records at Newport when Midge II averaged a speed around the course of fifty miles an hour.

LOUISVILLE TO GET UNDER WAY

Churchill Downs Attracts Turf Satellites

Derby Eligibles Do Battle in Feature Events

Historic Stake on Schedule for Next Saturday

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 6. (AP)—Fifty-two years of glorious history behind it, Churchill Downs, was ready tonight for the inauguration of the fifty-third spring meeting Saturday.

As a prelude to the Kentucky Derby, to be run the 14th inst., the Kentucky Jockey Club has two races on the opening day's card in which derby candidates are entered.

One of these, the Clark Handicap, is as old as the course itself. The other has less age and value, but will be watched with interest for two of the outstanding derby hopefuls are entered.

FORECAST RAIN

In all, eleven derby aspirants were entered for the two races. Four were named for both, the trainers reserving final decision as to which race to go in until tomorrow. Rain today and tonight and the forecast for showers and thunderstorms tomorrow probably will cause some to be scratched away from a muddy track.

A classy field of eighteen 3-year-olds and upward was named for the handicap, at a mile and one sixteenth. The derby horses entered were Scotland, War Eagle, Jock, Royal Julian, Creek Indian and Nor' Easter.

Older horses whose names went through the box for this $10,000 added race, were Boot-to-Boot, Helen's Babe, Old Slip, Sun Utar, Almadel, King Nadi, Prince of Wales, Percussion, Percentage, Marconi and Flatiron. Jockey Earl Sands will have the mount on the last named.

OSMAND TO RUN

The two outstanding derby candidates in the trial at one mile, are Osmand and Candy Queen. Others entered for this race are Rolled Stockings, Kiev and Canaan. Scotland, Nor' Easter, war Eagle and Creek Indian also were made eligible.

The Idle Hour Farm stable's three derby horses here and Hydromel and Mr. Kirkwood were among the few prominent candidates whose trainers elected not to put them under colors Saturday. All of the best derby aspirants probably will be given a race before the big day next Saturday.

Col. Matt J. Winn, vice-president and general manager of the jockey club, remarked today that everything pointed to one of the most successful meetings in the history of the track.

POINT 6
There are 7 Other Points that make Hendan Better

"...a shirt's a shirt," but a Hendan shirt has many special features that make it look better, fit better, and launder better than ordinary shirts—for instance

The Pattern is Carefully Matched on Collars, Pockets and Shirt Fronts...

AS A RESULT, even in the most complicated designs, the center plea[t] causes no break in the pattern on the front of the shirt, and the garment shows an attention to detail which is especially appreciated when coats or vests are discarded. The same care is exercised in matching both sides of the collars, both cuffs and both pockets to the shirt itself.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

For those who like slugging, but with a tennis racket instead of a fist or a baseball bat, we'd like to recommend the present north-vs.-south match at the Ambassador which finish up today and tomorrow. With the exception of Bill Tilden the players participating in this first intersectional match are probably the hardest servers in the game today. Since everybody likes hard hitting, this looks like a golden opportunity to enjoy an unexcelled menu of it. Casey, Brown, Herd and Doeg are four of the hardest hitters in the country on service and Gorchakoff and Stratford, who hit considerably harder than the average, appear rather gentle by comparison.

Today's matches, which bring together all the sluggers in four consecutive singles contests, promise to be the prize program of the series and anybody who likes to see the ball whiz across the court as though shot from a gun, ought to get an eyeful without difficulty. The match which brings Gorchakoff, Southern California champion and Stratford, former California State champion, together, should be productive of the best tennis of the day. Both are powerful and accurate hitters from any position on the court and the match between them ought to provide a lot of fireworks for the cash customers.

The American tennis invasion of Europe has started with a rush with Tilden and Hunter cleaning up on the Germans. The aggressiveness of the game as played by the Americans is rather disconcerting to the foreign players always. Then Helen Wills left for Europe yesterday too. The San Francisco players down here for the north-south series all say that she is playing at least as well as she ever did and probably is playing better. She certainly demonstrated at the Hotel Huntington that she is hitting the ball harder than she ever did—and that was always her outstanding asset. With Lenglen out of her way she will be mighty hard to head off.

Plans are under way to make the Southern California tennis championships this year the best in the history of that famous event. The tournament is to be played in about a month, immediately preceding the Pacific Coast doubles, and several Northern Californians have promised to participate in both events.

PORTLAND ACE CLOUTED HARD

high-powered relief hurling, the Stars getting but one run and three hits off him in the six and a third innings the former Seal right-hander toiled. But Johnny's work went for naught because his mates weren't able to overcome that seven-run lead piled up by the Sheiks in the opening rounds.

Paul Strand, who, while with Salt Lake, established, and still holds the record for slamming out the most safe hits in a season, grabbed off batting honors for the day by punching out four of the Beavers' ten safeties. One of Strand's clouts was a home run over the left-field wall with one on that wound up the Portland scoring in the third inning.

Hollywood got to Kinney, who has been the Ducks' most effective twirler so far this season, for two runs in the opening frame, an error by Wendell helping out the local cause. Lee led off with a single and went to second on Kerr's infield hit to Cissell. Sweeney bunted in front of the plate and all hands were safe and the bases filled when Wendell's throw to first pulled the elongated Mr. McCurdy's No. 12's off the bag. Tierney was hit by a pitched ball, forcing Lee over the plate with a run. Frederick hit a short sacrifice fly to Strand and Kerr scored and Sweeney advanced to third after the catch. Sheehan hit into a double-play, Prothro to Sigafoos to McCurdy, to end the inning.

STARS SCORE FIVE MORE

The Stars kept up their ambitious and enthusiastic efforts in the second inning to put over five more markers and drive Kinney to the showers. Kinney started his own downfall by passing McDowell, and Cook followed with a single over second. Mulcahy sacrificed. Lee was also walked, filling the bases. Kerr punched a sacrifice fly to Bagwell, McDowell scoring and Cook ambling to third. A wild pitch by Kinney put Cook over the plate and Lee on second. Sweeney came through with a single down the third-base line and Lee romped home. At this juncture, Manager Ernie Johnson came out and imparted some words of cheer into Mr. Kinney's ear, but what the Beaver southpaw needed was something other than encouragement, Colton Tierney keeping up the excitement by banging a double to center that scored Sweeney. Couch then came on the scene and Frederick socked his first offering to right for a single that brought Tierney over with the fifth run of the frame. Sheehan forced Frederick at second to end the rally.

Portland put on its five-run spurge in the third by bunching five hits off Mulcahy with a couple of Hollywood errors. Cissell singled infield for a starter and Wendell followed with another hit. Couch popped to Lee and Tierney tossed out Sigafoos to relieve the situation, but Elmer Smith slapped a single to right that scored both Cissell and Wendell. Smith taking second when Frederick bobbled the ball. Prothro was safe at second on Lee's wild heave to first, Smith counting. Strand then punched the ball over the left-field barrier to account for the Ducks' five runs of the inning. Bagwell singled infield, but Tierney threw out McCurdy to end the round.

The Stars got their last run in the fourth when Sweeney walked, stole second and scored on Frederick's single over second.

The Beavers made their final threat in the sixth but could make only one run out of their three hits, a double play killing off their rally. Strand and putting Bagwell on ples, but McCurdy fanned. Cissell sizzled a single to right, scoring Strand and putting Bagwell on third. Whereupon Wendell hit into a double play, Lee to McDowell, the Star shortstop making a brilliant play on the hard-hit roller. Score:

GROOM ASCOT SPEEDWAY FOR TOMORROW'S RACING CARD

Late this afternoon workmen will take charge of the track at Ascot for a final massaging and manicuring to put it in the finest possible condition for the big program scheduled tomorrow, when more than thirty of the fastest cars and daring pilots in the dirt-track racing game will go to the post in the eight-race card for the benefit of the Mississippi Valley flood victims.

Ten per cent of the gross receipts of the day and all of the profits have been promised to the Red Cross committee by Promoters Macdougall and Lutz, and officials of the internal revenue department of the Pacific Southwest Bank will have charge of all money. Everything except the actual cost of staging the race program will go to the flood sufferers.

Many thousand gallons of calcium chloride will be sprayed on the track tonight and early tomorrow morning following much dragging and harrowing to iron out all bumps and waves. The calcium chloride will lay all the dust and prevent any interference to the drivers or spectators.

Gates will be opened tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock when the qualifying trials will be started. The infield will also be opened to permit spectators to watch the races from inside the track, but there will be no crossing into the infield allowed between 10 and 12 o'clock while the qualifying dashes are in progress.

TWO STELLAR BOUTS ON TAP FOR TONIGHT

Promotor Carlo Curtis offers tonight at the Main Street Athletic Club a very attractive card containing two great stellar bouts. In one of them, Jimmy Shoemaker, who is being acclaimed as a second Jim Jeffries, takes on Bud Easterbrook; in the other, Mateo Magdaleno, pleasing little Mexican fighter who holds the bantamweight championship of Mexico, meets Benny Diaz, the Mexican-American windmill that has put on the shelf a good number of promising fighters.

In the six-round special event, Kid Romo clashes with Red Bennet. The four-rounders are Johnny La Rose vs. Ad Martin, and Mayfield Groves vs. Pat Patrick. Joe Rivers, the great Mexican fighter of other times, will referee tonight's bouts.

GRIMES RADIATES CLASS

Australian Champion Favored to Beat Doc Snell in Main Event at Olympic Tuesday Night

Boxing critics have done an about-face in regard to their opinion of Billy Grimes, triple Australian champion, in the last few days. The impression of the foreigner when he first started work in the gymnasium was that he was a clown fighter.

Doc Snell was generally picked to beat him in their match next Tuesday night at the Olympic. Now Grimes is showing so much better that he will be the choice instead of the Tacoma druggist.

Grimes shows a new punch to the fans every day in his workouts. He is boxing all big fellows because no boys his size will take a chance with him in the gymnasium. The champion hits too hard.

He does a lot of weaving around, but he comes up out of his crouches with a tremendous wallop to the body or head. His two best blows are the old solar plexus, which Bob Fitzsimmons, his countryman of some twenty years ago, made famous, and what he calls the skyrocket.

The skyrocket starts from a crouch and as Grimes comes in he shoots the right high and down over his opponent's guard to the jaw. This was the blow he used when he knocked out Havilah Uren for the lightweight championship. He stopped Eddie Butcher with the solar plexus to win the welter laurels of his country.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams may use Grimes with Santiago Zorrilla if the champion makes an impressive showing against Snell. Snell has already fought Zorrilla and lost on points in a fast fight.

Dave Shade is on his way west, accompanied by Leo P. Flynn, and Wadhams may shift the Shade-Willis match up a week to the 17th inst., taking the date left vacant by Joey Sangor's failure to keep the Zorrilla appointment.

ANGLERS FLOCK TO CLUB

The Rainbow Angling Club management announces that overnight accommodations for tonight are again all taken, indicating that many fishermen will be present along the stream tomorrow. All of this week has found large parties of anglers, many of them visitors here from the East. Limit catches have been caught, the fish averaging around nine and ten inches in length.

LOCAL TRACK STARS TO ENTER SANTA ANA MEET

Trojan and L.A.A.C. Athletes to Show Wares in Orange County Program on 21st Inst.

SANTA ANA, May 6.—Charley Borah, Morton Kaer, Ed House, Jimmy Payne, Bob Maxwell, Murray Schultz, Lee Barnes, Jack Williams and a score of other track-and-field celebrities will appear at Poly Field here the afternoon of Saturday, May 21, in the third annual Orange county A.A.U. meet.

This was disclosed today by Graham Harris, local junior college coach, who is in charge of plans for the classic which annually draws down the curtain on the cinderpath season here. Harris today forwarded entry blanks to every high school in Orange county, to Alhambra and Compton high schools and sent special invitations to numerous well-known Southland intercholastic runners. Twenty events, including several sterling special numbers starring the leading college men of Southern California will be held this year.

Perhaps the most important will be the special 100-yard dash between Borah, the great U.S.C. sprinter who last year forced Charley Paddock to a new world record; Ed House, captain of the Trojans, and a 9.8 man. Schultz, Caltech crack short-distance negotiator, and Al Clayes, former Santa Ana Junior College ace now a member of the Hollywood Athletic Club team. Frank Wykoff, Glendale High School's pride, also will be extended an invitation, Harris stated. Another outstanding race will be the special mile in which Harris hopes to match Harold Breeding, the Santa Ana High School genius, with Bob Vawter of the local junior college; Dog Hall of Long Beach, Guy Hover of Chaffey, Martinez of Chino and Storms of Hollywood.

Kaer, all-American football player and one of the fleetest low hurdlers in the nation, will compete in a special 220-yard low stick race against Payne, the sensational Trojan freshman from San Bernardino; Bob Maxwell, former Pomona College star and now captain of the Los Angeles Athletic squad, and Charley Webber, former junior college hurdler and now of U.S.C. Harris said he also would make an effort to obtain Charley Paddock to run a special 220-yard dash against Harvey Bear, captain of the Poly track team, and Wykoff of Glendale. The University of Southern California men will come to Santa Ana the day before they leave for Philadelphia to take part in the I. C. 4 A. meet, which they have won for the past two years.

YANKEE TENNIS STARS TRIUMPH

third Frottzheim appeared to find himself and got a lead of 5-1. Tilden, however, again staged a rally and swept through the set, losing only the ninth game to win, 6-4.

Hunter in his opening set with Dr. Landmann took the first, three games, the second and the third being at love, before Dr. Landmann, who repeatedly overdrove the backline, appeared to realize what was happening. The German player took the fourth game, but Hunter captured the fifth and sixth, lost the seventh on a double fault on his service and then swept through the last game, taking the set, 6-2.

Apparently without effort, Hunter then took five straight games in the second set amid the almost audible groans of the crowd before Dr. Landmann got one, Hunter taking the last game and set, 6-1.

Dr. Landmann, who was clearly off form, pulled himself together in the last set and afforded the only real fight of the day. He carried Hunter to deuce, losing the set only after the American player made a determined rally which gave him the set, 9-7.

Dr. Landmann's defeat was a particular shock to German enthusiasts, since he conquered Vincent Richards and Howard Kinsey, both of whom rank higher than Hunter on the American scale, last season.

but it did not rain hard enough to make the track muddy.

PICK GLENDALE TO TAKE MEET

Some fifty Southern California high-school runners, headed by Glendale's championship squad, left last night for Modesto. The Dynamiters, boasting the sensational Frank Wykoff in its array of stars, was a top-heavy favorite to take first honors in the meet, while other Southern California runners were expected to place well up.

Coach Normal Hayhurst's team, consisting of Wykoff, Slocum, Falter, Mainland and Zahn, was expected to take five first places in the northern meet, with probable new State records being recorded in at least three of the events. Wykoff appeared to be a certain triple-crown winner, needing only to repeat his victories of the Southern California meet in the 100, 220 and broad jump.

WHITE MYSTERY NINE TO FACE MONTEBELLO

The White Mystery Boosters, sponsored by Eddie Maier, former owner of the Vernon Tigers, will tackle the Montebello nine on the latter's diamond tomorrow.

Wally Knox, who pitched the Mysterymen to a win over the strong Bakersfield club Sunday, will be on the hill again with "Skeets" Skiles on the receiving end. First-sacker Art Bourg, who has been with the Soapers for the past six months, has reported to the Jacksonville club and will be replaced by Jack Segrist, former Oregon Aggie star.

EARL HAMILTON BAFFLES ACORNS

trouble up to his neck in the third. Staley began it with a hit and when Jacobs laid down a bunt Hasty grabbed the ball and threw it out of the reach of Jimmy Reese, so both men were safe. Hood blasted a hit and that was the blow-off for Hasty.

Al Gould went on the job and got the side out, but two runs had scored. Gould pitched well enough after that until he was lifted in the seventh to let Del Baker make a three-base hit, and Pete Daglia, the big boy from Napa, pitched the last two rounds. A run was scored off him in the eighth.

Hamilton was wild, walking five, but he was hard to hit. Buzz Arlett and Jack Fenton, the two heavy hitters of the Oaks, could do nothing with him. The Oaks got a pair of tallies in the fifth on one hit and that was a pop fly from the bat of Lary that fell just outside the reach of Mitchell. But in that round Hamilton walked three men before Lary got his puny hit.

In the seventh Del Baker grabbed a bat to swing for Gould and he hit what should have been a single to right, but Dick Cox tried to take the ball while on the run and missed. The ball rolled to the fence and Baker got three bases. Shinners followed with a hit to score Baker and then the Oaks were all washed up for the afternoon. Score:

Luckenbach Hands Bouquets Out in Southland

Officials at San Francisco Removed from Jobs

Admiral Line Flagship to Re-enter Service

In the passing out of brickbats and bouquets on this coast by Lewis Luckenbach, executive vice-president of the Luckenbach Line, the bouquets were reserved for the Los Angeles personnel. He recently appeared unheralded on this coast and lopped off several official heads at San Francisco.

But the announcement of advancement of two Los Angeles representatives of his line came only yesterday. Along with it came commendation from the chief on the highly efficient conditions he found here.

T. J. Maddux, who has been assistant general freight agent at Los Angeles, is promoted to district manager at Portland. He left, for the north last night, after the office and dock forces gave him a farewell remembrance.

W. L. (Billy) Robertson, pier superintendent, has been advanced to the post of terminal superintendent, and has had responsibilities of operations added to his job. Expeditions freight handling long ago gained him the sobriquet of "Mile-a-Minute Billy."

Incidentally, three of their fast freighters will be in port today, the K. I. Luckenbach, which Capt. R. McKinnon brought yesterday from the Gulf, with first-hand reports of New Orleans' flood; the Robert Luckenbach, eastbound, and the Edward Luckenbach, from the North Atlantic. McKinnon will transfer to the Edward, which will transfer to the Gulf service, while the K. I. will take the former's North Atlantic run.

Fourteen inches of rain hit New Orleans in the two hours just before he left, Capt. McKinnon said. There was four feet of water in the city's streets. The day he left the Governor put on control measures requiring vessels to be towed downstream to prevent washing against the levees banks.

The liner H. F. Alexander, flagship of the Admiral Line, and one of the fastest American merchantmen afloat, will be back on the coastwise passenger run in two weeks, it was announced yesterday by R. B. Schutten, Southern California manager. The liner will leave Seattle the 17th inst., and arrive here via San Francisco the 20th inst., departing that night on her return trip. Capt. Zeh will command her.

Laid up for months in Seattle shipyards the H. F. Alexander comes back on the run more pretentious than ever. She has been thoroughly overhauled and reconditioned. 9722 much new furniture and draperies, and with scores of new beds replacing the last remaining bunks in the liner.

Known as the "greyhound" of the Pacific, she maintains a schedule calling for a sustained speed of twenty-one knots, which might be increased a third should occasion warrant.

Los Angeles Harbor yesterday received her first visit from the German motorship Odenwald, a Hamburg-American freight and passenger carrier in from Northern Europe to enter the Pacific European trade. Los Angeles Steamship Company is agent.

Several travelers disembarked here, and the vessel will discharge 3700 tons of her 7500 aboard at this port, comprising pipe, agricultural and general. More freight was offered than she could carry, several hundred tons being left behind, according to Capt. Heinrich Brodhering, here on his first visit in twenty years.

The ship, diverted from the Germany-Chile run, is one of several which will augment this run, including two greater motorships now building in Europe, as announced recently on the visit of Dr. Cuno, head of the line.

SEVEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Eighteen Others Injured as Mystery Blast Wrecks Offices In New York Taxi Company Garage

NEW YORK, May 6. (Exclusive)—Seven persons were killed, two of them young women, and eighteen were injured in an unexplained explosion which wrecked the executive offices of the Yellow Taxicab Company in the corner of the company's concrete garage at 514 East Twenty-third street this afternoon. The explosion threw the neighborhood for blocks into wild excitement.

Police reserves were called to preserve order while heroic efforts were made to rescue the dying and to recover the bodies of the dead from the basement and sub-basement of the garage, which began to fill rapidly with water from a large water main broken by the explosion.

With the utmost abandon, firemen, policemen and members of the street-cleaning department plunged into the huge pile of wrecked timbers, twisted gas and water pipes, sheet metal, metal lath and broken concrete and worked unceasingly to release those imprisoned in the rising flood.

Wrecked timbers and metal came crashing out of the cellar and sub-cellar with such speed that firemen and policemen and street cleaners had to jump for their lives. At intervals half a dozen rescuers were knocked down by the moving masses of debris.

The cause of the explosion was still a mystery late tonight to officials of the company as well as the fire, police and building departments of Manhattan. But all agreed that the wreck had been caused by an explosion.

The garage was the same in which pools of refined oil were found by workmen digging six feet under the floor several weeks ago. Other pools of oil were found on premises near the garage, but the source of that supply proved to be a mystery to Columbia University scientists and others who tried to fathom it.

The dead, all employees of the Yellow Taxicab Company are:

Florence Cavanaugh, 19, stenographer; Elizabeth Lovinger, 20, stenographer; William H. Kelleher, 32, attorney; Charles J. Quinlan, 55, head of claim department; Charles Malasky, 21, clerk, legal department; Frank Eurmuhlen, 28, attorney, and Robert O'Rourke, 24, filing clerk.

INDIANS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (AP)—Two Indians were killed and two others escaped injury today, when their automobile was struck by a Southern Pacific train on the Mina branch line near Tonopah, Nev., it was reported in a dispatch received by the Southern Pacific Company here today. The dead men were Clifford Turner and Oscar Ducky, both of Big Pine, Cal.

COOLIDGE DISCUSSES POLITICS

Party Leaders Look Over Republican Prospects at White House Breakfast

WASHINGTON, May 6. (Exclusive) Republican prospects in the West were surveyed at a breakfast party given by President Coolidge today at the temporary White House.

Information as to conditions from the standpoint of the G.O.P. was furnished chiefly by former Senator William M. Butler of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who has just returned from a political tour to the Pacific Coast, and by Secretary of the Interior Work, also back from a western trip.

Other guests at the breakfast included Secretary of State Kellogg, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, Speaker Longworth, Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, Republican leader of the Senate; Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations; Representative Snell, Republican, New York, chairman of the House Rules Committee; Representative Treadway, Republican, Massachusetts, and C. Bascom Slemp, Republican National Committeeman from Virginia and former secretary to the President.

Mr. Butler and Secretary Work, at the invitation of the President, reviewed conditions at some length. In general they indicated that western people are satisfied with the conduct of the Federal government by the present administration. They reported that the western country looked prosperous, notwithstanding effects of the agricultural depression.

The question of the renomination of the President was not referred to specifically, it was stated.

FOOD BY RADIO PREDICTED

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Part of a vision of New York in 1977 entertained by Harvey Wiley Corbett, noted architect: "We shall get our food probably by radio, with convenient radio food broadcasting stations at every corner."

EARRINGS BELIEVED WORN BY DAUGHTER OF CZAR SEIZED

MILWAUKEE, May 6. (AP)—The controversy as to whether Anastasia, daughter of Nicholas, the last of the Czars, escaped the massacre of the imperial family in the cellar at Ekaterinburg, was recalled today by the seizure here of a pair of earrings, for nonpayment of duty.

The earrings are of hand-painted French bisque, antique in design with golden lights glinting in the inch-long pendants, and dimly visible is the worn engraving of a St. Petersburg jeweler's name.

William J. Schmidt, a musician, bought the earrings in 1922 from a young woman who was ill in a sanatorium at Berlin. She was the one over whom a controversy since has been waged, some defending her claims of royalty, others denouncing her as an imposter.

The earrings, seized yesterday by John J. Shea, Chicago customs agent, were said by experts to answer descriptions of a pair famous among the crown jewels of Russia.

Attention of authorities was directed to the baubles by a newspaper account of Mr. Schmidt's adventure in acquiring them. They are to be held pending decision as to whether penalty shall be imposed because they were brought into the country without being declared.

Widow Asserts Dead Inventor Murder Victim

OAKLAND, May 6. (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Bollinger, widow of Jerome Bollinger, 54 years of age, who was found hanging dead from the doorknob of his room Monday, asked the police today to reopen their investigation on the contention that her husband was murdered for certain secret chemical formulas developed by him.

Mrs. Bollinger arrived from her home at Coronado in time to prevent her husband from being buried in Potter's field. She told officers that he developed a process for the manufacture of fertilizer and that the company he was connected with had just accepted his formula. This, she said, would have made him financially independent.

BODY OF JEWISH SCHOLAR TO BE BURIED IN HOLY LAND SOIL

CHICAGO, May 6. (Exclusive)—The lifelong dream of Meyer Horwitz, late Jewish social worker and scholar, to be buried in Palestine, is being fulfilled eight years after his death, Beulah Horwitz-Chedeck, a daughter of the deceased, today is en route to Palestine, taking along the body of her father to see that it reaches the final resting place named in his will.

For many years Horwitz had dreamed of living his last days in the land of his forefathers. He often spoke to his children of his wishes. But when he felt that he would not be able to fulfill his desires, he called in his old friend, Meyer Abrams, and asked him to draw up his will. He asked him to read the will at his grave before his body was lowered, and to instruct his children to follow his orders. He wrote in his will that he would not rest in his grave until his bones had been taken to the Holy Land. But just like the ancient Joseph, he ordered his children to move his body when the opportune time came.

Tuesday his body was exhumed and new funeral services conducted. The Horwitz will also provides that one-seventh of his estate be invested in the Meyer Horwitz Free Loan Society in Palestine. Hundreds of persons have been helped by this fund.

WINDSOR (Ont.) May 6. (AP) — About $13,000,000 out of a total of $17,000,000 worth of liquors exported from Windsor and outports in one year went to the United States, A. E. Nash, Auditor of the Royal Customs Commission, testified at a commission hearing today.

The Bermuda Export Company, he said, sent out beer worth $3,145,730 during the same period.

THIRTY BOARDS AWAITING GUN

Many Creative Bills Still Before Governor

Appropriations for Expenses Already $184,500

Commission to Study Crime Among Those Unsigned

SACRAMENTO, May 6. (AP)—Thirty new State boards, commissions and committees will come into existence as the result of the forty-seventh session of the Legislature if all the legislation passed on to Gov. Young receives his approval. However, this number is not entirely dependent upon the final action of the executive, as several of the committees are provided for by concurrent or join resolutions and over these the executive has no control.

In connection with these commissions and other formal investigating bodies there are appropriations sought from various funds for the expenses of some of them to a total of $184,500. For those where no specified sum is named provision is made that the legal expenses of those so appointed be paid. These provisions will bring the biennial expense from this quarter to a higher figure as a result.

STATE REVENUE SURVEY

Of outstanding importance among the proposed new bodies the legislators have sought to create is the commission to make a complete study of California's revenue and taxation system. This body would seek out sources of income which now are untaxed, and also would work out a system by whic h the present tax burden could be more equitably distributed without causing any economic disturbances.

This commission would be made up of such State officers and other persons as the Governor might designate. For its work a fund of $75,000 has been asked. The provisicu is made that the officers shall receive only their expenses, while the other members shall receive $15 a day in addition to expenses.

A commission to make a complete study of crime, its prevention, detection, prosecution and penology in California also is proposed and is another of the major bodies. This commission would be given a fund of $20,000 to work with. It would consist of seven members.

New self-governing boards, one of which already has been provided for through executive action, would direct attorneys, veterinarians, barbers and cosmetologists. The bar board is the one already approved.

The expenses of these departments would be paid from fees collected from the persons engaging in that line of work.

PROBLEM OF AGRICULTURE

In the line of other commissions there also would be groups to study the economic problems of agriculture, to study the need for a separate penal institution for women, to study uniform State laws, to direct the business of the proposed Mt. Tamalpais Park, investigate the curriculum of the elementary and secondary schools, study the teachers' retirement salary, direct the business of the Olympic Games in Los Angeles in 1932, look after California's interests in the Colorado River situation, codify the school laws of the State, supervise the proposed Mission Bay Park, study the problems of children, make a further study of the narcotic evil, set up statues of California's representatives in the National Hall of Fame, and represent the State at the Federal ceremonial in 1932 for George Washington.

The commission to study the school curriculum and that to manage the Olympic Games, as far as the State's interest is concerned, already have been approved. The commission on the Hall of Fame and for the Washington ceremonial, do not need executive approval. All the others now are before him.

For committees there are two on the Colorado River, three on prisons and convicts, one on the school for the deaf at Berkeley, one for a continued investigation of the water resources of the State, one to determine whether the State should install electric voting machines in the two houses of the Legislature and another to investigate traffic conditions.

NEW COMMISSION PLANNED

The committees on the Colorado River functioned during the legislative session, one going to Washington and the other meeting with representatives of Arizona and Nevada. These will be superseded by the commission to represent the State on all matters relating to California interests in the river if that bill is signed by the Governor.

The school law codification commission would be made up of the superintendent of public instruction, Attorney-General, legislative counsel, and a county and city superintendent. Four thousand dollars has been asked for this work. The agricultural investigation, to be made by three persons, would cost not to exceed $10,000, while the investigation projected for a separate prison for women, to be made by five persons of whom the majority shall be women, would cost not more than $2500.

One thousand dollars is the limit set for the expenses of the three attorneys who would be delegated to study the uniformity of the State's laws.

Under the Tamalpais Park plan $20,000 would be advanced by the State, if matched by $40,000 collected by other interests. The State also would advance $10,000 for the work of the historical association which would work under the State Board of Education in disseminating information concerning California.

Aside from the Colorado River commission, for which the State is asked to set aside $25,000, and the teachers' retirement fund inquiry, which would be paid for from those funds, the other commission measures carry only expense allowances.

The committees to investigate further into the water resources, those relating to the prisons, which would look into the desirability of erecting a third penal institution and to determine whether it would be advisable to give the convicts more work to do; to look into the desirability of building a new school for the blind, and on the electric voting apparatus, all would be joint affairs of the two houses. Only the school and one of the prison committees, with $1000, and the water group, with $15,000, seek appropriations.

LOVE PLOT AT ISSUE IN FILM SUIT

Chaplin Expected to Appear in 'Shoulder Arms' Case if Denied Dismissal

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Love interest is one of those literary objectives belonging to the public domain and has been since the time of Adam and Eve, Federal Judge Bondy declared today during the trial of the $50,000 plagiarism suit over Charles Chaplin's film, "Shoulder Arms."

Counsel for Leo Loeb, who charges that Chaplin stole the idea for "Shoulder Arms" from his scenario, "The Rookie," became engaged in an argument with defense counsel over the question whether the Chaplin film had appropriated its love interest from the Loeb scenario.

Judge Bondy ended the argument with his dictum, which he said would be incorporated in his charge.

Decision on a motion to dismiss the suit was reserved until Monday. If the motion is denied Chaplin is expected to testify next week in defense of his film.

Evidence based on records of First National Exhibitors' circuit showed that Chaplin was paid $140,000 for "Shoulder Arms." The Pathe Film organization, evidence revealed, also paid the film comedian $150,000 and 50 per cent of the gross receipts for the picture.

LEGISLATORS FEAR WOMEN

Wisconsin Assembly Brands Them Moral Hazards in Refusing Sex Jobs

MADISON (Wis.) May 6. (Exclusive)—Senator V. S. Keppel's bill to permit the employment of women as legislative pages, clerks and stenographers was defeated in the Wisconsin Assembly on the ground that women in close contact with legislators would prove a moral hazard both to the women and to the law makers.

Assemblymen contended that women's organizations backing the measures did not know what "dangers would beset a lady who became officially connected with the law-making machinery."

"The Legislature is not the place for women unless members reform their language," Conrad Spearer of Kenosha declared.

Wallace Ingalls of Racine asked Coleman whether he thought it necessary to pass a law to protect women from legislators.

Debate finally was shut off and the House voted 52 to 32 to kill the measure.

MISS ALMY, BROKE, SUES COMSTOCK

Cabaret Singer's Romance With Florida Millionaire Enters Legal Phase

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Jobless and facing a Broadway that doesn't "employ girls who have been jilted," Connie Almy, 21 years of age, cabaret singer, has filed a breach-of-promise suit for $500,000 against Stanley E. Comstock, wealthy real-estate operator of Florida and Chicago.

The engagement of the pair was announced last January at Miami, Fla., where Miss Almy had been singing in a cabaret. Six weeks later Miss Almy returned north—alone. Comstock, already divorced and reported betrothed to Peggy Hopkins Joyce at the time of his romance with Miss Almy, disappeared. He appeared in New York a few days ago.

Miss Almy said Comstock's disappearance convinced her he didn't love her. "I know that he'd just been fooling me," she said. "I gave up my position in Florida because he asked me, and came back here, broke. I can't get a job. Broadway cabarets don't employ girls who have been jilted."

Attorney Francis C. Dale, counsel for Edward West Browning in his successful suit for separation against Frances (Peaches) Browning, filed the papers for Miss Almy.

Mountain Still 'Sale' Lands Six in Federal Net

After Federal prohibition operatives had made arrangements to "purchase" a mountain distillery for $6000 and had made a deposit of $100 to show good faith, Maj. Frank McReynolds, Federal prohibition administrator, and a squad of officers arrested five men and a woman yesterday. The arrests were made in the Tucaipa Valley, about five miles southwest of Redlands.

Included in the equipment which prohibition officers proposed to purchase were two sixty-gallon and one seventy-five-gallon stills and 340 gallons of mash, alcohol and whisky.

Those arrested and charged with conspiracy to violate the National Prohibition Act are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ranier, R. D. Crawford, Bert Denham and N. L. Hughes.

PLAN TO COERCE CHINESE LOSES

Four Powers May Send Mild Note to Chen

Civil Trial for Russians in Hands of North

Communist Force Advancing to Burn Swatow

(Copyrighted, 1927, in all countries, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

PEKING (China) May 6. (Exclusive)—The refusal of the United States government to participate in joint action with the group of powers interested in exacting reparations for the Nanking outrages, which was announced exclusively on April 23, last, through the North American Newspaper Alliance, has been succeeded by a total collapse on the part of the remaining four powers of all discussion of coercion against the forces represented by Eugene Chen.

This change of attitude is interpreted in informed quarters as a bid to gain Washington's adherence to a more peaceful method of approach to the settlement of the very delicate international questions involved. Japan was the second power to balk at coercian, with France speedily following.

Great Britain and Italy, rather than face the music alone, now have agreed also to reconsider their attitude. It is hoped to establish a new unity on the basis of performing a thorough-going dental operation on the second note now under discussion. Fresh conversations started yesterday with this aim in view.

NATIONALISTS SEEK TO SEIZE NORTHERN GUNS

(Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, May 6. (Exclusive)—Under the pressure of the protest by the protocol powers, following a soviet warning, a conference of the military and government officials decided to have a civil trial for all the Russian prisoners taken by the northerners, but has not announced whether foreign counsel will be permitted to defend the prisoners.

Reports indicate that the northern advance was stopped at Sinyang Chow, Honan Province, 620 miles south of Peking, by the Nationalist armies, while Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang's forces are moving swiftly eastward into Honan over the railway with a view to cutting the northern communications south of the Yellow River. The Cantonese are short of stillery, hence the strategy is to lure the northerners with a view to the capture of the guns. There are virtually no details in Peking, but heavy fighting is reported.

COMMUNIST FORCES ADVANCE TO BURN SWATOW

LONDON, May 6. (AP)—An Admiralty communique today says it is reported that a Chinese Communist force is advancing on Swatow, important port of Eastern Kwangtung Province, with the intention of burning the city. The force was said to be seventeen miles from Swatow at last reports. The British cruiser Danae is guarding the British interests there.

It is stated at the Foreign Office that Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, is expected to make a full statement on the Chinese situation in the House of Commons Monday.

Presbyterian Seminary Hit by Religious Row

PITTSBURGH, May 6. (AP)—Differences of opinion on the place of modernism and fundamentalism in the affairs of the school have caused the resignations of a member of the board of directors and an associate professor of Western Theological seminary, a Presbyterian institution.

Dr. Maitland Alexander, a conservative, has resigned from the board of directors because of asserted leanings of the board toward liberalism.

Simultaneously the board accepted the resignation of Dr. Frank Eakin, a liberal for twelve years and instructor and associate professor of church history.

At the formal opening of the hotel, Al commented: "Many persons have journeyed to Albany to face disappointment."

Crackers and Water Break Prison Strike

CALEDONIA PRISON FARM (N. C.) May 6. (AP)—More than 300 white convicts who went on strike here Wednesday night for a fifty-five-hour working week and Saturday afternoons off had yielded today to the lure of crackers and water.

After having wrecked their cell houses, the mutineers were quelled, and the policy of "no work, no food or water" was put into effect.

The prisoners went without food for thirty-six hours and without water for twenty-four hours, but on promise of crackers and water for those who denounced the ring leaders there was a wholesale surrender.

SHELLS FLYING OVER HOTEL HELD NO GROUNDS FOR SUIT

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Ten-inch coast artillery shells whizzing over the corner of a hotel may not be conducive to a full guest list, but it scarcely can be made the basis of a $240,000 suit against the government for loss of business, the Court of Claims has ruled.

Dismissing a claim for that amount by the Pocahontas Hotel in Maine, opposite Fort Foster, Portsmouth, N. H., the court decided that while some shells may have passed over the hotel the value of the property had increased considerably since 1902, and development of the hotel is unimpaired.

Projectiles from the guns of Fort Foster passed over the hotel in 1902, 1914, 1915 and 1920, the owner asserted, averring that this spoiled their business. Since there was a continued threat that firing might occur at any time, the owners contended, development of the property was prevented. The guns themselves, the plaintiffs said, had a bad effect on business, since they were left, although unloaded, pointing at the hotel.

SALISBURY (Md.) May 6. (AP)—Edna Davy, 13 years of age, whom he had unsuccessfully tried to adopt, was left nearly $1,000,000 in the will of Dr. Edward G. Tull, noted surgeon, formerly of New York City, who died last week.

Her sister Ruth, 15, was given a lifetime income of $300 a month. Both girls had made their home with Dr. Tull for five years.

Relatives of Dr. Tull, none of whom received bequests, have brought suit to break the will. The estate was estimated at $1,350,000.

HISTORIC GROUND

By Frank H. Spearman

Reid, Murdoch & Co. Will Occupy Famous Wigwam Site at Lake and Market Streets, April 3rd

New Quarters for a Great Wholesale Grocery House

During the World's Fair one of the greatest of living English statesmen was the guest of a particularly distinguished committee of the exposition management.

Questioned upon his arrival as to what points of interest he most desired to see, he replied:

"First of all, gentlemen, if you please, the historic places. I have especially looked forward to visiting the spot where Abraham Lincoln was first nominated for the presidency. I know, of course, it was in Chicago, but can you take me to it?"

Chicagoans will be less surprised than outsiders to learn that the committee itself was in a measure taken aback and that some inquiry was necessary on the part of his entertainers before they were prepared to conduct the eminent foreigner to the exact location of the famous Wigwam of 1860. It stood at the southeast corner of Lake and Market streets. The Wigwam itself had long ago gone the way of all flesh; nor could the buildings which in 1893 defaced the historic corner have inspired much interest. But today the spot can boast one of the most completely modern ten-story fireproof structures to be found anywhere in this country. It is the new home of Reid, Murdoch & Co., and Monday, April 3, they take possession of their rather remarkable quarters.

LARGEST IN THE WORLD

Remarkable in several ways. For example, it will surprise most people in the city, as well as out, to learn that with the opening of this plant Chicago will possess not only the largest wholesale grocery house in the United States, but in the world.

The model wholesale grocery house of New York City contains 100,000 square feet of floor space, but the new Reid, Murdoch & Co. plant contains over 250,000 square feet.

The location of Lake and Market streets was decided upon after much deliberation, and with special reference to the convenience of the retail grocery trade of the city and its excellent shipping facilities.

Then, too, the out of town merchant buying in the well known dry goods and boot and shoe district is already within three blocks of the great grocery house.

The grocer who visits South Water street will find the big store just at the western outlet of the busy produce market, while the grocer who buys his supplies on the equally crowded Haymarket will find Reid, Murdoch & Co. just five blocks east of the West Side commission center, instead of a long mile, as before.

The South Side grocer drives to the new store up broad and comparatively quiet streets, like Market, Franklin and La Salle. He avoids the intolerable delays and dangers attending a visit to the old grocery quarter, north of Randolph and east of State, where the cable gong-clangs angrily and the driver swears lustily, all day and all night.

For the North Side buyer Wells street affords an approach to the new store which likewise avoids the loss of half a day, and an occasional wheel, in fighting one's way with a wagon through the worst jammed corner of all the badly jammed corners in Chicago.

EQUIPMENT IS COMPLETE

The word "plant" comes nearer defining a great modern wholesale grocery house than any other expression.

Such an establishment is not merely a store; it is a warehouse; and not alone a warehouse, but a factory. Under this one capacious roof, besides all the features of a jobbing business of more than ordinary proportions, there will be a coffee and spice mill plant, a mammoth cold storage plant, a big syrup refinery, a canning and preserving factory—and each of propositions which dwarfs the average institution professing to make a specialty of any one of these various branches. Half of a single 26,000 foot floor, for instance, is given over to a vast icebox for perishable grocery stuff.

When a Chicago business attains dimensions which overshadow those with which it may be compared, it becomes in the broadest sense a Chicago institution and belongs in a manner to every Chicagoan. It stands for Chicago pluck, Chicago brains and Chicago energy.

Such a house as that of Reid, Murdoch & Co. is, in fact, an example of what modern merchandising means, namely, the transaction of a tremendous volume of business under the most rigid possible economic conditions, and at an astonishingly small fraction of profit.

Reid, Murdoch & Co. moved their business to Chicago on Feb. 1, 1865. They located on River street, near South Water, in a four-story building with about forty feet front, extending back to the river.

REMARKABLE GROWTH

It was at that time a representative Chicago grocery house of average size, and nothing can more forcibly contrast 1865 and 1899 in the story of Chicago merchandising than the bare statement, seemingly incredible, that the entire stock of the 1865 Reid, Murdoch & Co. store could actually be placed in the icebox of their store of 1899.

The great fire completely destroyed the former building and its stock. Happily, through the faithfulness of an employe, Mr. Arthur Burnam, now a department manager, the books of the firm were saved.

The day after the fire they leased a lot from L. C. Payne Freer at the northeast corner of Market and Washington streets—just two blocks by the way, from the present new location—where they erected a two-story and basement building which was occupied within three weeks thereafter. At the expiration of this lease they moved to Randolph street, between Wabash and Michigan avenues. The business had already grown beyond the capabilities of any ordinary building, and some time afterwards the structure gave way under the heavy stock, collapsing disastrously and causing a serious loss to the growing firm.

A WORLD WIDE INSTITUTION

Seeking still larger facilities they moved to Michigan avenue, between Lake and Randolph streets. Outgrowing these quarters about fifteen years ago, they leased an additional building at State and South Water streets for their offices and their city trade, still retaining all of their Michigan avenue space and adding to it whenever possible, for their country trade and their manufacturing business, a branch which unheard of in the early days of jobbing, has now become a feature of importance. The details cannot even be touched on here, but wherever and whenever you see the Lion's Head on a label, guarded by the words, "The Monarch Brand," then it is the product of this factory, and you can trust it.

The output of a business so enormous as that of Reid, Murdoch & Co. staggers belief. In the beginning, say 1865, the purchase of a hundred barrels of sugar was a subject of careful consideration and usually included several grades. Now an order for 10,000 barrels of a single kind is not a matter of special comment.

In addition to all their own manufacturing they draw constantly on the manufacturers and producers of the world for their supplies. They contract for the fruit of the olive groves of Spain, and for the leaf of the tea gardens of India. They compete with the Russians for the fine Oolongs of China, and their buyers scour France for the delicacies which are made to tempt the palate of the aristocrat of Europe. Their competition harries the London spice merchant in Singapore, and in Java and Sumatra they forestall the thrifty Dutchman of Amsterdam by contracting the crops of the choicest coffee plantations even before the berry is formed under the blossom.

In a word, the methods are Chicago methods, their ideals Chicago ideals, and only Chicago could have made possible so marvelous a growth from so modest a beginning.

IN PRAISE OF COFFEE

By Frank H. Spearman

Told by Hollywood Author of "Whispering Smith," "Dr. Bryson," "Robert Kimberly," "The Nerve of Foley," "Nan of Music Mountain," "The Strategy of Great Railroads," etc.

Los Angeles to Become a Major Distributing Point

There is no romance, as our own poet, Joyce Kilmer, has pointed out, greater than the romance of the delicatessen and the grocery store. It is the Monarch grocer who brings to you salmon from the Columbia river, fruit from tropical forest and desert oasis, cheese from Holland, currants from Greece, olives from Spain, tea from India and China, coffee from South America, vegetables from more than half of the states of the union, spices from Zanzibar, and Amboyna, East India and Japan, Ceylon and Java, Africa and Borneo, Singapore, Jamaica and Penang.

Monarch Coffee, for example, is composed of a blend containing portions of the fine, hard-beaned coffees growing in the high mountain altitudes of Colombia. This coffee is picked by Indians, comes to Los Angeles all the way by water after it reaches the head waters of the Magdalena river. It is carried from the mountains down to the valleys on the backs of mules. When it reaches a stream down which a raft can be floated, it is placed on rafts and poled and pulled by natives until the cargo reaches the river steamer, and it is transferred to the oceangoing vessel that brings it to Los Angeles harbor.

Monarch Coffee takes the shortest route—from the plantation—where the choicest of the best crops are selected by Reid, Murdoch & Co.'s own representative—through the Monarch roasting plant, to the retail grocer.

Reid, Murdoch & Co. are among the largest American packers of Cocoa. Their teas, their spices, their salad dressings, their canned fruits and vegetables, and canned sea food, reach the consumer under the Monarch Brand. Spices will be soon entering Los Angeles harbor from distant Singapore, tea from Calcutta, and cocoa from the Indies. Virginia peanuts will come through the Panama canal to be ground here into peanut butter—no Oriental peanuts go into Monarch warehouses.

BEGAN IN 1852

The history of the house of Reid, Murdoch & Co. is one of the conspicuous romances in American business. It extends over three-quarters of a century and goes back to the days of Western pioneers. More than ten years before the first transcontinental railroad had spanned this country, the founders of the house of Reid, Murdoch & Co.—Simon Reid, Thomas Murdoch—were outfitting, on the banks of the Missouri and Mississippi, the men that drove the Covered Wagon across the Great American Desert, through the long defiles of the Rocky Mountains, and over the storm-swept slopes of the Sierras, into the sunshine of the golden state, California.

One unswerving policy has signalized their long and successful career—equal and exact justice in buying and selling. During the days that tried men's souls in Civil War times—now so long ago and so completely forgotten, when gold was at a terrific premium and American paper dollars at no ruinous a discount—Reid, Murdoch & Co.'s purchase contracts were scrupulously fulfilled in the terms as written. Even during the panic of '57 the days of wildcat currency and failing banks all over the country, when merchants East and West were discharging their obligations in doubtful currency, Simon Reid and his partner said that no matter what the letter of a contract was, they would keep the spirit of it. And they paid those obligations in gold. It is this spirit of integrity and honor that has built up the house of Reid, Murdoch & Co., and resulted in its survival amid the stress and storm, during seventy-five years of financial upheaval and monetary stringencies.

WIPED OUT BY FIRE

These same two Scotch pioneer merchants, energetic and resourceful, first to sense the growing importance of Chicago, took their business there when the town was little more than a bustling Western trading port. But their prudence was equal to their foresight, and when a great national disaster overtook the growing city of Chicago, and the buildings of Reid, Murdoch & Co., together with those of all other wholesale grocers, were wiped out by the Chicago fire, Reid, Murdoch & Co. were one of the few firms that saved their books intact, and their business went on without interruption. Prior to this overwhelming disaster, Simon Reid and Thomas Murdoch had discounted their bills. And after the great catastrophe they continued to discount every bill; and thus many years ago, advanced their position as national distributors of food products.

CHOSE WIGWAM SITE

It was in Chicago that they built the first great modern wholesale grocery warehouse in the West. And they chose for it, appropriately enough, the site of the Wigwam, famous in American history as that in which Abraham Lincoln had been nominated for the presidency in 1860. Forced by the constant growth of business and the demands of expansion, they built, later, a mammoth warehouse extending the full length of the block from Clark street to La Salle boulevard on the Chicago river, opposite Wacker drive. At their docks steamers load and unload, and at their doors a modern railroad system assembles the products of their far-flung factories and takes away the many-food products that supply three million American families, through 25,000 independent retail grocers. It is this warehouse that serves as headquarters for the distribution of Monarch food products and Monarch Coffee.

The most sanguine dreams of the founders could never have foreseen the huge growth of business which their puny pioneer efforts represent today.

The reams of romance underlying the assembling of the vast quantities of raw materials needed to supply Monarch food products, are never realized by the consumer. Naturally, the greatest of these centers about the imported products such as the coffee, the teas and the spices. But in the long line of highly-specialized Monarch goods, even the lowly pickle has its story of interest. To begin with, Reid, Murdoch & Co. furnish from selected stock, full pedigreed cucumber seed, bred for the proper type of pickle, to the farmers with whom they contract for growing. Their men are always glad to find a farmer with a large family of children. The farmer's contract provides that he shall grow these pickles for Reid, Murdoch & Co. and deliver his entire crop to their salting stations. Such contracts cover from a quarter of an acre to two acres with each farmer. The farmer with the most children gets the largest contract, for the children pick the cucumbers before and after school and during vacation. The average production is about 200 bushels of cucumbers an acre; and Reid, Murdoch & Co. have more than 10,000 acres under contract this spring. They may expect to harvest approximately 2,000,000 bushels of cucumbers. This means in effect that the families of 10,000 of our Middle West American farmers draw revenue on pickles alone, from the manufacturing department of Reid, Murdoch & Co.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS LARGE

The surprising range of operations of a great national manufacturing and distributing organization such as that of Monarch food products, may be inferred from the fact that in the State of Wisconsin alone, this firm maintains 18 canneries. Five more canneries are operated in Minnesota, 3 in Michigan, a very large factory in Illinois, and 2 large pickling and preserving plants in Indiana; and these include everything from the hot beds to bottling machines. Only one hour elapses from the time the red ripe tomato is plucked from the vine until Monarch Catsup is sealed in the bottle.

They maintain plants with independent sales staffs in New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Wilkes-Barre, Tampa, Jacksonville, Phoenix, Los Angeles and Chicago, with a total floor space of 640,000 square feet.

BOOST FOR LOS ANGELES

Among these, the first four in importance are Chicago, Boston, New York, and Los Angeles. They are the only four places that combine both manufacturing and selling organizations. The Los Angeles home of Monarch products will be a substantial addition to the manufacturing interests of Southern California. There is already being installed equipment similar to that of the Chicago factory for roasting coffee, blending and packing teas and cocoas; grading and packing spices; making peanut butter; packing pickles and olives; and making various condiments and salad dressings. The Los Angeles house is thus the first unit in the establishment of a group of Pacific Coast enterprises now under development by Reid, Murdoch & Co. There will ultimately be canneries and factories established in the growing districts of the Pacific Coast, to handle the fruits and vegetables, and the making of catsup, pickles, preserves, jams, jellies and orange marmalade. To the port of Los Angeles will come for Monarch products raw materials from the four corners of the earth.

SOUTHERN BELLES WEARING COTTON TO AID AGRICULTURE

ASHVILLE (N. C.) May 6. (AP)—Old King Cotton smiles as he pops up under a blazing sun for another season, for he is gaining new admirers among beauties of the Southland.

Schoolgirls, working girls, society girls, all are turning toward cotton goods for fashionable dress. Patriotism is behond the movement—an improvement in economic conditions of the South through a greater consumption of cotton—but there are more reasons than one, so it is said, for the popularity of the cotton costume.

Asheville school maidens say they have found cotton dresses cheaper, easier to keep fresh looking, and just as attractive as more expensive cloths.

Feminine persuasion may be partly responsible for many young swains being seen with cotton neckwear and socks.

"RUM SMELLING" BILL VETOED IN MICHIGAN

LANSING (Mich.) May 6. (AP)—Classing the measure as "inquisitorial legislation which would be an almost irreparable blow to prohibition," Gov. Fred W. Green today vetoed a bill which would have authorized search upon the basis of a claim that some one had smelt the odor of liquor.

SAVANTS LAUGH AT REPORT OF MODERN TRISECTING OF ANGLE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (AP)—The announcement that Prof. B. C. Hastings, mathematics instructor of a Seattle high school, had solved the 2000-year-old problem of trisecting an angle is greeted with skepticism by California mathematicians, who declare solution is impossible.

Prof. Rufus L. Green and Prfo. Robert E. Allardice of the mathematics department of Stanford University declare the assertion of Prof. Hastings is absurd, with Allardice adding:

"It is not that mathematicians do not know how to trisect an angle or square a circle, but that they know it cannot be done. Angles can be trisected and circles squared in many ways, but not by the use of a geometric process, by which is meant the use of straight lines and circles."

Prof. D. V. Steed of the University of Southern California says the problem "has been relegated to the museum of interesting but senseless puzzles for many years."

Joshua Little ON WOMEN'S CLUBS

CAVE men used to subdue women with clubs. Now women have clubs of their own before which mere men tremble with awe.

Logicians might argue from this that women now are as civilized as men were ages ago. But most of us wouldn't harbor such a thought an instant. Most of us have clubwomen wives and wouldn't dare.

Besides, women's clubs are very different from caveman clubs. They aren't war clubs. They're antiwar clubs—if you'll believe their constitutions instead of their private fights.

Club women have been putting down war and uplifting literature for generations; which may explain why now war is a mere legend and literature is so immaculate.

The rising generation owes its liberty to clubwomen. It never could have got its head so completely had not its mothers been absorbed in saving the world.

Saving the world is like law-enforcement and charity. If it doesn't begin at home it rarely gets that far.

Jokes aside, clubs undoubtedly have lifted women from the inferior to the superior position, and have done much for peace.

Yes, Palomino, world peace also must begin at home. And some clubwomen are away from home so much they never get a chance to war with their husbands.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Pilot of the Pillars

By Albert Richard Wetjen

In the stern sheets, steering, with one leg pressed against the tiller, a woman stood.

WE HAD stamped and vibrated our way through the Gulf of Papua and had edged through the great Northeast Channel near Bramble Cay, making for the Katow River to drop stores and a new whaleboat before proceeding to Thursday Island. The afternoon after dropping Bramble Cay astern Capt. Bough waddled across to me and waved a fat hand.

"The Pillars," he said.

The sea was still swollen glass, bottle-green and heaving up and down like a woman breathing. They were ahead and a little to starboard of us as we drew up to them. They reared up from the greenness, huge columns of dark rock, having somewhat the appearance of a Greek temple front with the top removed, or resembling the fingers of a great hand just emerging from the sea. Five or six miles away, facing them, was a long, low reef of similar dark rock, and the passage between the two dangers, where the Arafura was heading, swirled with opposing currents and was patched with a multitude of shoals. Behind the Pillars themselves, looming as a dark background through the heat haze, rose the mainland.

I observed it was a dangerous spot for a ship to find herself in, and Capt. Bough grunted and spat overside.

"Only used b' schooners and sich-like small craft," he observed, a little thickly, for he was masticating tobacco. "Short cut t' Kato' and parts of th' coast. There ain't much water save in th' channel. Place ain't charted."

He was silent a while, peering intently through battered glasses at the distant shore. Then he mumbled.

"She ought t' be comin' cut soon."

"She?"

"Aye. Pilot in these parts. Knows th' waters better'n most."

"But she? A woman?"

Capt. Bough spat again and lowered the glasses. His big, owl-like eyes blinked once or twice, the face remaining impassive. He scratched his left ankle with the big toe of his bare right foot and started. He was always ready to be started.

"Fine-looking woman," commenced the captain heavily. "She was 'ere when I first started on th' run. Must be as old as I am and 'er 'air's still black . . . Tillie West's 'er name. There!"

He stabbed the inert air with a fat forefinger and ceased chewing for a moment. A whaleboat had shot from between two of the tall rocks, propelled by four swift oars. It came near enough for the sweat to be seen glistening off the backs of the natives, but instead of slipping alongside the boat curved across the Arafura's bows and went ahead of her.

In the stern sheets, steering, and with one leg pressed against the tiller, a woman stood. She seemed very tall and straight and young. Her hair was black and, dressed in white, she balanced with ease and grace as the sturdy boat slid over the low swells. She lifted one hand in greeting, and Capt. Bough rang for half speed so that he could keep the distance and follow directly in the boat's wake.

"That's 'er," asserted the captain, turning back to the tiny chart house to deposit the glasses inside. "That's 'er, always pilotin' sich scalps as this along a channel there ain't no one charted. An' she's bin 'ere as long as I kin remember."

He paused and masticated slowly, his big right toe scratching his left ankle again. He was a peculiar-looking man, round and flabby, oozing perspiration from every pore, attired in soiled duck pants and a pajama jacket that clung to him wetly in spots. Rivulets of sweat trickled down his face. His eyes were wide, owl-like buttons of blue. He had a wisp of sandy mustache, stained with tobacco juice on the fringe. He wore a white peaked officer's cap far back on his bald skull. He had a reputation in many ports, but you would never have thought it to see him.

"Er father run a plantation up the Katow," he went on at last. "Big place. Buck Travers used t' run in every three months or so t' drop stores and pick up cargo. That was 'fore my time, in th' eighties. But I knew Buck. 'E was skipper of a tea packet for a while 'fore 'e went inter business 'imself. Bought a big bark. But I was 'prentice under 'em in the tea trade. 'Ard work. 'Ad ter be a man them days. H'm!

"Buck went near six feet an' had curly brown 'air. Laugh'in', always laughin'. 'D fight yer or buy yer a drink an' laugh all the time. An' wild as they make 'em. That's why 'e got outa th' tea trade. Too slow fer 'im."

Capt. Bought stopped long enough to bellow an order to the wheel and to turn an attentive cheek as the first cool gust of wind came up from the south.

"Buck got pretty sweet on Tillie. Wanted t' marry 'er. 'Er ole man died about then, an' she wanted 'im ter let be ships an' come an' run th' plantation ashore. Sensible. Wot I should 'ave done m'self years back . . . Know a nifty little tradin' joint down Funafuti way an' a Kanaka gin . . . Well, Buck reared a bit. 'E was a man, y'understand, an' didn't want t' leave 'is ship. Wanted th' girl, though. Sure. 'E never 'ad much time fer winnin' b'fore an' when 'e fell 'e fell 'ard. They allus do.

"'E was lying in the Katow one trip, taking cargo an' makin' love, when there comes a whale ship pokin' about lookin' fer supplies. She was in a bad way—been dismasted in a 'urricane an' drifting fer quite a spell. 'Alf the crew dead with scurvy. You know. Laid up a while off the Katow an' repaired. Buck gets chummy with 'er mate, a red-a'ired Irishman. I seen 'im afterwards in Brisbane when 'e was crippled an' pretty old. 'E tells Buck some yarn that looks like cash. Pears this Irish bird 'ad been with the sealers a while back, poachin', an' they'd been chased by a gunboat 'way south, mighty near caught. They stopped one night and cached th' skins, thousands of 'em, on some island north of the Samoans, and then they skipped clear. Got wrecked soon after an' lost all 'ands save the Irish bird an' the cook, who died after they was picked up.

"The Irishman tells Buck this an' says they oughta go 'alf shares and pick up the skins, Buck using 'is ship an' the other guy 'is nollidge o' where the skins was, see? All right. Buck wants t' get married, an' e's about made up 'is mind t' stay ashore. Wild though, allus was. This skin business set 'im agoin', an' 'e wants th' girl, Tillie, t' come t' sea with 'im. She ain't 'aving any, so Buck promises 'e'll do just this one v'yage an' then quit. Figures 'alf th' skins'll set him up fine. There's a lot of argument, but in th' end Tillie lets 'im go. 'E's to come back within six months whether 'e's found th' skins or not. Buck promised that, an' he weren't no sort of man to say wot 'e didn't mean. So off they sails. Buck and 'is Irish partner, and Tillie 'as a brand-new 'ouse built right up back o' th' shore over yonder, 'ard by the Pillars, which is somewhere near where th' plantation was, an' she starts makin' 'er trusso."

Capt. Bough paused to gaze anxiously toward the southern horizon again, where the sky was darkening.

The wind was already strong enough to ripple the water, and the whaleboat ahead had shipped oars and was careening along under a swell of dull canvas, the white dress of the woman a vivid splash against it.

"Get a gale 'fore mornin'," muttered the captain gloomily. Then he coughed and went on: "Jest about that time I started on th' run up this way, potterin' back an' forth, an' I was told about this channel. First time I come through Tillie 'as 'er boys take 'er ashore to me an' she calls t' know if I'd spoken th' Albatross, that's Buck's ship, I says no, I 'asn't an' asks 'er about the channel. She says she'll show me through, an' off she goes, like she is now, leading along.

"I was away near a year. When I came through again she sails out an' asks th' same question. She don't seem t' remember me. She never 'as seemed t' remember me, though I've been through a lot. Buck 'adn't got back. When th' six months was up Tillie 'ad moved from the plantation 'ouse fer 'er weddin'; guess she thought 'e was next thing t' God. An' I 'eard in Thursday Island an' Port Darwin an' Brisbane that every ship that 'ad gone through th' channel 'ad been 'eld up while she asked 'er question. She used t' pilot them through then, save 'em sounding all the way, as a sort of payment . . . An' she's been doin' it ever since."

The captain sighed and shook his heavy head with sadness.

I said, "And Buck never came back?"

"Never," he intoned mournfully. "'E got th' skins an' was caught in a 'urricane off Strong's Island. Went t' bits. Never found 'im, picked up th' Irish bird and two 'v'yagers jest afore I got in t' Apia one v'yage . . . No, Buck never got back."

"Doesn't she know?"

"No one 'ad th' 'art to tell 'er. There she was comin' out t' every ship regular like an' askin' about Buck, she kept on waitin' for 'im 'cptn' 'e'd sail up soon with 'is laughing and 'is wild ways. We talked it over a few times, wot of us skippers who used th' channel a bit, an' we guessed it best t' kid 'er along . . . Y'see"—the captain paused and his fvi brow furrowed with an effort to express what he meant—"y'see, she 'adn't got chick nor child t' look after; nor father nor mother, nor no one. She 'ad nowhere t' go nor nothin'-t' do an' she'd let th' plantation all go t' pot. S'long as she thought Buck was comin' she was 'appy. She still believes 'e's comin' an' she's still 'appy. Crazy maybe, but still 'appy . . . I wouldn't tell 'er, fer one."

There was nothing more to be said.

The Arafura emerged from the channel an hour later, and Capt. Bough rang to stop the engines. Then, while the ship bobbed helpless on the rising swell, the whaleboat turned and came churning back under a press of canvas. The woman still stood upright in the stern sheets, and she brought the boat alongside cleverly. There was a slatting of canvas, a mutter of orders, and the sail came down. A native in the bow caught the boat rope dangling from our rail. The woman looked up from under the brim of her wide straw hat.

It was amazing how young she seemed. She must have been nearly as old as Capt. Bough, according to his own story. But her hair was still dark, slightly sun-bleached where it peeped from under the hat. Her face was finely drawn, but without a wrinkle or a line to mar the lightly tanned skin. The eyes were wide and deep and innocent, altogether not the eyes of a woman who has suffered. The light in them may have been occasioned by the crisping wind and the clean spatter of the spray that was beginning to whip off the bluing sea. On the other hand, it may have been the light of faith. Such matters may not be known. She was mad, of course, but it was a madness that was beautiful. When she spoke her voice was strangely sweet and deep.

"A fair voyage, Captain."

Old Bough leaned over the bridge wing, his fat face red with embarrassment. He touched the peak of his white-topped cap.

"Thanks, ma'am. I presoom you'll take aboard a few stores as usual."

She nodded gravely and the natives on the deck of the Arafura lowered a heavily laden sack by means of a light line—a gift of delicacies which old Bough always brought her. Meanwhile the woman shaded her eyes with her hand and gazed up and down the length of the hull. Her brow puckered though in perplexity.

Then she said, "Have you spoken the Albatross, a three-masted bark, Capt. Travers commanding?"

"Not this time, ma'am. I did 'ear she was spoken by a ship out of Brisbane somewhere north of Fiji."

"North of Fiji?" echoed the sweet voice eagerly. "He was somewhere near Batavia last time I heard. He should be back soon."

"Aye, providin' th' weather keeps. There's been a lot o' gales lately."

"That's what makes him late . . . Thank you, captain. If you meet Capt. Travers, you will remember Tillie West to him?"

"I will that, ma'am. S'long."

She lifted her hand in farewell and inclined her head. The whaleboat sheered off. The canvas slatted as the sail jerked up. The Arafura's engines recommenced their stamp and ring and the blue water grew to a little wave round the steamer's bow. The whaleboat went careening back under canvas toward the Pillars, great stumps of rock against the northern sky.

"That's that," grunted Capt. Bough, mopping his forehead. "Allus an' every trip we 'as t' give 'er a rumor. Last time it was Batavia 'e was near, an' now it's Fiji . . . Bless 'er. Now she'll go back to that 'ouse an' day th' table for two an' watch out for th' canvas of a bark t' lift over th' sea. An' t'-night she'll put 'er lanterns t' mark th' channel so's 'e c'n come saft t' th' anchorage . . . 'Ow c'd you tell 'er? Now, 'ow?"

The last thing to be seen astern, besides the wheeling birds, was a dull fleck of sail merging slowly in the violet haze gathering round the Pillars to precede the night. And against the dull sail was a brighter fleck of white that marked the woman who was waiting for the laughing sailor who had gone from love to adventure and found only death and would never come foaming by the Pillars again on a tall-masted ship with the morning wind singing in the arch of the glistening sail.

KIDNAPED MEN FREED BY GANG

New Yorkers Identify Prison in Brooklyn

Man Killed by Police Said to Have Been Leader

Two Others Held as Members of Chicago Band

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Abraham Scharlin and James Taylor, held by kidnapers for ransom and freed early today without the ransom being paid, were held prisoners in a house in Forty-seventh street, Brooklyn, Police Inspector Coughlin announced after an all-day search of Brooklyn neighborhoods.

With Scharlin and Taylor assisting, police detectives systematically examined houses in the vicinity of New Utrecht avenue at Fifty-fifth street, Brooklyn, success finally awarding their efforts late in the day.

Announcement of the release of the two captives was made by the police, and the story of their enforced confinement remained to be told. Relatives of Scharlin had been bombarded by telephone calls from members of the kidnaping gang, demanding sums starting at $400,000 and revised downward until the last figure quoted for his release was $40,000.

POLICE KILL SUSPECT

The two men were freed after Joseph Marcus had been shot and killed by a patrolman and David Berman and Charles Kraemer arrested yesterday. Berman was with Marcus when he was shot after both men were said to have drawn pistols on detectives near Central Park. Kraemer's arrest followed upon the discovery in Marcus's pockets of five checks for $5000, each signed by Taylor and payable to Kraemer. Police said Marcus went to the house where Scharlin and Taylor were held yesterday and forced Taylor to sign the checks.

Police said they believe that there were seven persons in the kidnaping gang, most of them from Chicago, and that the abduction of Scharlin and Taylor was the first step in operations in New York on an extensive scale.

Scharlin was kidnaped at Seventy-second street and Broadway, police said.

Taylor was captured first, being seized near his home on the evening of April 26, by four armed men, and thrust into an automobile.

Before he was taken to the Brooklyn address, Taylor said, he was forced to telephone Scharlin asking him to come to the Broadway corner. When Scharlin arrived, he was surrounded by the armed band and forced into another car.

DEATH THREATENED

At the Brooklyn house they were handcuffed to each other, shackled by their ankles and told that they would be killed unless ransom money "is received from your relatives."

At 3 a.m. today the prisoners were awakened by two guards who had been with them and told them "the works is in, we can't keep you no more."

One of the captors tore away adhesive tape, which had kept from the eyes of Scharlin and Taylor observations of their surroundings, and the four left the house.

Although told to "keep your eyes in front," both men said, they stole furtive looks about them and saw enough to recognize the place when they glimpsed it again.

Although the guards had told them they were to go to Jamaica by automobile, they went instead to East Fifth street where each was given $3 with the explanation, "It's a taxi fare." They were cautioned to "keep walking in the opposite direction and don't holler." The first cab you see, take it. We're sorry to have put you to a little inconvenience."

They followed the advice and boarded the first cab to come along, drove to their homes and notified the police.

Scharlin and Taylor were shown a photograph of the slain Joseph Marcus, and both identified it as a likeness of the leader of the band. They said that he was the man they saw when they came from their homes on the night of April 28.

WAR BEGUN ON CHICAGO CRIMINALS

Sixty-two Crooks Told by Chief to Leave Town or be Harried by Police

CHICAGO, May 6. (Exclusive)—Sixty-two of Chicago's known crooks—ranging in status from common hoodlums and strong-arm men to highly efficient masters of the criminal arts—at the detective bureau were given their official congé as Chief of Detectives O'Connor started his campaign to drive all such gentry from the city.

The sixty-two had been picked up in all sections of the city, among the most notorious being George Druggan, a brother of "Terrible Terry" Druggan. Chief O'Connor took them one by one from their cells and delivered to them his ultimatum to leave the city as soon as possible after facing the court today on vagrancy and allied charges.

Sixty-two times Chief O'Connor made the same laconic and ominous speech:

"Now, you fellows are in for an awful cleaning, take it from me; and the sooner you take my word for it the better. We have made up our minds that you can't do business in Chicago and that means that you can't.

"Just so there is no misunderstanding, I'll tell you just how we're going to proceed against you, my lad. We're going to throw you in jail every time we see you and keep throwing you in everlastingly. If we haven't got anything else on you we'll charge you with vagrancy, and if we can't make that stick we'll give you the run around so that it will keep you poor hiring lawyers and getting out writs of habeas corpus.

"When anybody is going to be 'taken for a ride' from now on it'll be the police who do the taking. And we'd be glad if you were to try and run away from a pinch some time, for if you do, some policeman is going to get a raise in pay for ridding this town of you for all time."

La Gran Guerra Fué Motivada por Un Cometa

El Papa Recibe a los Suizos del Vaticano

ROMA, Mayo 6.—Su Santidad recibió hoy en audiencia a todos los miembros de la guardia suiza del Vaticano en celebración del cuarto centenario del saqueo de Roma por el ejército imperial alemán mandado por el condestable de Borbón. En aquella ocasión algunos guardias suizos perdieron la vida en defensa del Papa Clemente VII, quien se vió obligado a huir del Vaticano.

Francia Rinde Tributo a un Gran Químico Muerto

PARIS, Mayo 6.—Francia celebró el centenario del nacimiento del "padre de la química industrial," Pierre Eugene Marcelin Berthelot, iniciando anoche una subscripción nacional para erigir la Casa de la Química. La ceremonia tuvo lugar en la Sorbona bajo la presidencia del señor Painleve, ministro de la Guerra, y en presencia de una multitud de ilustres hombres de ciencia y diplomáticos de todas las naciones. Según declararon los oradores, la Casa de la Química está destinada a ser no sólo el centro de las sociedades químicas francesas, sino también de la Unión Química Internacional.

Los Senadores de Wisconsin Tercian a las Mujeres

MADISON (Wisconsin) Mayo 6.—El proyecto de ley presentado por el senador V. S. Keppel para autorizar el empleo de mujeres en los cargos de ujieres, escribientes y estenógrafos en la Asamblea de Wisconsin fué desechado porque, en opinión de los impugnadores, el poner a las mujeres en estrecho contacto con los legisladores resultaría peligroso al mismo tiempo para las mujeres y para los hacedores de la ley. Los miembros de la asamblea sostienen que las sociedades de mujeres que apoyan dicho proyecto no saben bien los peligros que rodearían a una dama que llegase a estar oficialmente ligada a la maquinaria legislativa. Según declaró el representante Conrad Spearer, de Kenosha, "El Cuerpo Legislativo no es lugar adecuado para mujeres mientras los miembros no reformen su manera de hablar."

Los Matemáticos se Ríen de la Trisección Geométrica del Angulo

SAN FRANCISCO, Mayo 6.—La noticia de que el profesor B. C. Hastings, instructor de matemáticas de una escuela superior de Seattle ha resuelto el problema antiquísimo de trisecar el ángulo ha sido recibida con escepticismo por algunos matemáticos californianos, quienes declaran que la solución es imposible. Según dice el profesor Allardice, de la Universidad de Stanford, "No es que los matemáticos no sepan cómo se trisecta un ángulo o se cuadra un círculo, sino que saben que no puede hacerse. Es decir, los ángulos pueden ser trisecados, y los círculos cuadrados de diversas maneras, pero no por medio de procedimientos geométricos, o sea por medio de líneas rectas y de círculos."

La Clase de Culinaria Estuvo Muy Concurrida

El concepto de la salud fué la nota saliente de la instrucción dada ayer por la señora Mabelle E. Wyman en su clase de culinaria, a la que concurrió uno de los públicos más numerosos que ha tenido desde que inició sus clases gratuitas de culinaria. Una de las interesantes pruebas fué la de hacer pastel de chocolate y leche malteada con un cierto producto manufacturado en California. Siguió a esa prueba una ensalada hiética compuesta de higos, ciruelas, pasas y nueces, todo picado y formando un cerco en torno de un montón de requesón. También se hizo la prueba de confeccionar tortas de fresas con pasta hecha de harina de maíz y de trigo completo.

Cryer Admite Que Tal Vez Dimitirá

Los rumores insistentes de que el alcalde Cryer se prepara para dimitir con el fin de aceptar un cargo en la Suprema Corte del Estado fueron recibidos por el señor Cryer con una negación al par que con una confesión. La primera autoridad municipal negó que el gobernador Young le haya ofrecido un cargo en el más alto tribunal del Estado en pago de los servicios que prestó al senador Johnson, y a su mentor político Kent Parrot; pero admitió prontamente que tomará en consideración dicha oferta si llegara a hacérsela.

Un Ladrón Roba Relojes de un Escaparate

Un ladrón que ayer en la madrugada rompió el vidrio de un escaparate en la Joyería de Feagan, calle Séptima número 435 Oeste, se hizo de relojes por valor de $1000, según el informe rendido después por la policía reservada. El velador James R. Barack descubrió el robo poco antes del amanecer. Según las investigaciones hechas por la policía, el ladrón abrió un agujero, en uno de los escaparates que dan a la calle Séptima, con un ladrillo envuelto en papel de estraza.

Pettit was pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church here more than six years. In going to Rangoon the pair were to visit Bombay, India, where the pastor worked six years as a missionary. They plan to stay in Burma about five years.

JOHN BROWN TRIBUTE DUE

Pilgrimage to Grave of Abolitionist in Adirondacks Starts from Philadelphia Today

NORTH ELBA (N. Y.) May 6. (AP)—John Brown's body has long since mouldered in the grave, but his memory is revived every year by a band of negroes who pay tribute at the Adirondack farm of the famous abolitionist. The pilgrimage will start from Philadelphia tomorrow and the exercises will be conducted at the grave Monday.

With hymn, eulogy and prayer the pilgrims of the John Brown Memorial Association gather in the little burying ground a few rods from a weather-beaten farmhouse. This farmhouse was John Brown's home at the time of the famous raid at Harper's Ferry. Clarence Darrow of Chicago, criminal lawyer, and Dr. J. Max Barber, founder of the association, will be the chief speakers this year.

BROWN'S CAREER

John Brown came to North Elba in 1848, when he was 48 years of age. He had been in the wool business in Massachusetts, but he believed he could do more for the cause of abolition by moving to this part of the Adirondacks. Gerrit Smith, a philanthropist, had set aside 120,000 acres for worthy negroes. Brown bought some of Smith's holdings and the next spring established his family in a rude cottage.

This unpretentious home, on a high plateau, rimmed by the highest of the Adirondacks, saw the burial of John Brown's body, December 8, 1859, six days after he was hanged at Charles Town, Va. Wendell Phillips, the famous orator, delivered the funeral oration. Negroes and fugitive slaves clustered around the great boulder that shadows the grave.

This boulder now bears an inscription, "John Brown, 1859." The time-worn gravestone has been protected by a wooden case. A flag flies from a mast near by. The spot is visited by thousands of tourists every year.

Forty years after Brown was hanged the bones of a dozen of his followers at Harper's Ferry were brought to the farm. The house and the little cemetery are now a State reservation. The cottage contains a collection of mementoes of Brown.

This year's pilgrimage of the John Brown Memorial Association is the sixth. One object of the association, which has chapters in various States, is to erect a monument to the abolitionist.

Bay Span Plans to Come Up for Decision Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (Exclusive)—The three plans selected by a trio of expert engineers for the bridging of San Francisco Bay will be considered by the entire Board of Supervisors at its meeting next Monday. At that time the governing body will determine its approval or nonapproval of the report.

A careful study of the selections already is under way by the Supervisors individually, and a canvass today revealed no opposition to the leading plan or its alternates. The course most highly recommended by the experts was one from Rincon Hill, south of the Ferry Building, to a connection with the Alameda Mole.

It was also ascertained that the Supervisors individually are in favor of immediate action so that a committee can be sent to Washington at once to lay the plans before the War Department. Sanction of the latter must be obtained before the bridge can be constructed. Various estimates from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000, have been made for the cost. The experts, however, said the cost will depend largely upon the conditions in the bay.

Tornado Strikes Mississippi Area, Wrecking Cabins

CLARKSDALE (Miss.) May 6. (AP)—Plantation cabins were reported to have been demolished and other property damaged in a tornado which struck a section of Tunica county today.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 6. (AP)—Damage to Oklahoma buildings and crops from a series of wind and hail storms was estimated today at nearly $2,000,000.

Reports from three counties indicated a large acreage of small grain was devastated by hail yesterday, followed by heavy rains. Several farm buildings were wrecked by wind.

Losses fixed at $750,000 resulted in Eastern Oklahoma Tuesday when a hail storm struck Sallisaw, puncturing the roofs of scores of homes and stores. The strawberry crop in this section was virtually destroyed.

Panama Asks Answer to Charges of Rum Running

PANAMA, May 6. (AP)—Formal notification of the rum-running charges in the United States against the steamer Federalship has been served on the local representative of the vessel by Panaman authorities. Fifteen days are allowed for an answer with the Panaman registry of the Federalship to be canceled if charges are proved.

The Federalship left San Francisco Wednesday after being released by the Federal Court on the ground that seizure of the vessel last March 270 miles off the California coast was illegal. The steamer carried 12,500 cases of liquor.

Japanese Girls' Delinquencies Laid to Aliens

TOKIO, May 6. (Exclusive)—The chief of the foreign section of the Tokio police announces as a result of his investigation of the flapper problem that the wicked foreigners are responsible for the widespread short-skirted and bobbed-hair "delinquencies" by Japanese girls. Today the manager of the Tokio branch of the Vacuum Oil Company was arrested and two others were taken to the police station for examination on charges of corrupting the morals of the Japanese, particularly picture actresses.

Chief Sakashita announced, through the Japanese Advertiser, that many more arrests will follow in order to convince foreigners that Madame Butterfly now has the protection of the aroused Japanese people.

"This is not an anti-foreign campaign," the Chief said, "but Japanese girls believe that all foreigners are rich, kind and handsome; therefore are easy prey."

FINANCIAL

BURGLARY RISK RATES ADVANCE

New Schedule Announced by National Underwriters

Action Prompted by Growing Losses in Local Field

Furs and Liquors in Storage Among Items Increased

Los Angeles is regarded by insurance underwriters specializing in burglary insurance as one of the two "hot spots" in the United States, and to cope with the increased burglary losses in this city, the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters has announced a new schedule of special risk rates, higher in many cases that existing rates.

As distinguished from the business "white spot," significant of undiminished prosperity, the latest honor assumes dubious aspects, for it means, in the terminology of the burglary insurance experts, a city where the jewel and fur thieves, the pickpockets and common housebreakers make things a little too warm for the insurance companies. Kansas City, where rates are the highest in the country, is considered the other "hot spot."

RATES IN EFFECT

New rates are effective the 1st inst. and are for the entire country, generally. Under the new schedule insurance rates on women's cloaks and suits and women's wear generally on the premises of a contractor have been increased 100 per cent. There has also been an increase of 100 per cent on mercantile safe insurance for furriers, according to the bureau's report.

Wines and liquors in warehouses have proven especially tempting to burglars and as a result of the many burglaries, rates on these products have been increased 150 per cent. An increase of 130 per cent is announced in insurance on sporting goods. Restaurants have been fertile fields for burglars, for a new schedule of rates in this line shows an increase of 180 per cent. An increase of 25 per cent is announced on men's and boys' clothing when o nthe premises of a contractor.

REDUCTION MADE

Under the new schedule there is a reduction of 25 per cent in open stock burglary rates for department stores throughout the nation. The experience with pawnbrokers has been more satisfactory from an insurance standpoint and the experts have decided that the burglary rates on this form of risk shall be reduced 20 per cent.

Open stock insurance on furs in Los Angeles was increased 100 per cent on October 1, last, and jewelry rates were boosted 50 per cent in May of last year.

No change is announced in residential burglary insurance in Los Angeles. Rates on this class of risk in this city, however, have been more than doubled in the past four years. Residential burglary insurance rates in Los Angeles are now the highest in the United States with the exception of in Wyandotte county, Kansas, and Jackson county, Missouri, including the corporate limits of Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan. The rate per $1000 of insurance in Los Angeles is $25, compared with $55 in the Kansas City territory. Rates in other large cities are: New York, Chicago and San Francisco, $22, and Boston, $12.10.

Flood Influence on Business Now More Apparent

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

In several ways the influence on business of the serious flood situation in the Mississippi Valley has become more evident. The price of cotton has risen further, causing increased firmness in some goods manufactured from the staple, and demands for supplies for relief purposes and for other uses have been stimulated.

There has been, however, an interruption or a stoppage of ordinary trade and of farm work in the affected areas, the property damage is extensive and railroad freight traffic has been lessened. Add to these phases is the backward season in different sections, which has militated against a full development of spring retail distribution, and some labor troubles tend to reduce the public purchasing power. Such conditions are not without effect upon sentiment yet the stock market has turned stronger, money rates have fallen and some favorable commercial reports statistics have appeared.

Weekly bank clearings $10,841,185,000, an increase of 3.2 per cent over last year.

Western Roads Linked in Talk of New Combine

NEW YORK, May 6. (Exclusive)—Wall street's latest railroad topic embraces the possibility of a new transcontinental route over the Western Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande Western and a connection with the Denver and Salt Lake and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

Statisticians figure it would cover 2938 miles between San Francisco and Chicago, making Denver, instead of Pueblo the mountain gateway. Completion of the Moffat tunnel in Colorado will help to make the new route possible, it is said, so will the proposed Dotsero cutoff connecting the Denver and Salt Lake and the Denver and Rio Grande Western, which the street thinks may be aided by Arthur Curtiss James.

KRESGE SALES GAIN

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—April sales of S. S. Kresge Company for the first quarter were $10,787,540, against $8,590,988 in April last year, bringing the total for the four months of 1927 to $36,235,317, against $33,019,199 in the same period of 1926.

Gilmore Plans Development of New Leases

To strengthen its position, the Gilmore Oil Company is entering upon an extensive campaign for the proving up of holdings in various fields, according to a statement made yesterday by C. S. Beesemyer, vice-president, in announcing the consummation of a deal with the Indian Oil Company to complete the Gilmore well on a 2760-acre lease in Colorado.

Another 800 acres of oil land adjoining the Gilmore holdings in Cat Canyon, near Santa Maria, have been leased, Mr. Beesemyer said, and arrangements have been made to drill on a percentage basis. The company is also co-operating with the Utah Oil and Refining Company and other operators to drill a well in Southeastern Utah on land adjoining a present 2760-acre Gilmore leasehold there. This well is now down 1900 feet.

Correcting an erroneous financial statement released yesterday, Mr. Beesemyer declared that the company sustained a 1926 loss of $184,820.98, instead of $302,358, the published figure. The latter amount, he said, is the net loss over three years. The 1925 loss was $84,388.90, and in 1924 $38,143.95.

"At the present time the Gilmore Oil Company is selling locally 1,500,000 gallons of low-flash-point gasoline each month through 860 independent service stations," Mr. Beesemyer said.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

LONDON, May 6. (By wireless)—Notwithstanding the approach of the settlement date, the tone of the markets today was good. Investments were in especially good demand, but the oils, South African mining shares and Japanese issues were inclined to sag.

The markets were favorably affected by the passing on second reading of the trades union bill. Artificial silks were easier on realization sales.

The J. A. and P. Coats cotton company's report shows that the declared profit of £2,454,000 as compared with £2,600,000 was somewhat deceptive and that the actual increase in profits was smaller, as last year's figures were affected by the heavy writing down of stocks.

Investments continued to boom throughout the entire session, due primarily to the success of recent issues, while the government sinking fund on the new consolidated loan strengthened British funds generally. A further factor which helped the market was that Treasury bills had gone easier than last week, in spite of money being wanted.

GRAHAM TRUCKS SALES INCREASE

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—April retail sales of Graham Brothers trucks and commercial cars, including foreign shipments, reached the highest level for any month this year, more than 5600 units having been delivered throughout the world. Sales in Canada during April broke all previous monthly records.

THE INVESTOR

Early Redemption of Many Foreign Issues Forecast by Financing Company

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, May 6.—More than one-third of the foreign issues outstanding in the American market are in line for redemption before 1930, according to a booklet just issued by Peabody, Houghteling & Co. To be more accurate, out of a total of 295 issues listed by that investment firm, indentures of the surprising total of 122 contain provisions for retirement either as a whole or in part within the next two and a half years.

It does not necessarily follow that all of these bonds will be called, and it is safe to assume that a large portion of them will not be. Nevertheless, in view of the much higher prices now prevailing for foreign securities than those at which they were originally offered to the public, and also the substantial improvement which has taken place in the credit position of most of the issuing countries, the number which are apt to be redeemed within the next few years is sufficient to warrant the close examination of investment holdings by all those holding such securities.

From the investor's point of view, it would seem advantageous to substitute noncallable for the callable bonds, especially if the latter are selling at or near the callable price. This for the simple reason that such obligations are not apt to advance much beyond their present levels, and might on unforeseen developments show a substantial reaction. Furthermore, it is possible that in the event the bonds are called the investor might experience difficulty in replacing them on a satisfactory basis.

On the other hand, the noncallable issues may be expected to reflect marketwise any further improvement in the financial or economic condition of the country for which they were sold.

Of course, where the investor is interested primarily in present income rather than market appreciation or a long-term investment, the callable bonds of many of the foreign countries are attractive at current prices. For instance, the French government 6s can be purchased at the present time at around their callable price of 110, whereas the 7½ per cent bonds of that country, which are noncallable, are selling at around 113.

A factor of general importance in the foreign-bond situation is the possibility that if and when these issues are refunded, the new securities may be marketed at home or in some country other than the United States, which would have the effect of reducing the floating supply of bonds here and, in all probability, place a premium on other bonds in this market.

BONDS FAVORED IN ESTATE

Huntington List Shows 23 Per Cent in Stocks; Railroad Liens Far in Majority

BY EARLE E. CROWE

To the rank and file of investors the list of securities in the estate of the late Mrs. Henry E. Huntington is of considerable interest. The distribution of investment funds by the large investor is always a valuable guide to the individual of average means, some of whom may perhaps receive a few investment hints from this list that was originally started by Collis P. Huntington, the railroad pioneer.

Followers of the common stock theory in investment selection will not find much encouragement in the Huntington investment policy, as outlined in the inventory of securities published yesterday. Bonds, not common or preferred stocks, are easily the favorites. This choice is opposed to the views of some of modern investment authorities who advocate the investment of the preponderance of funds in well-diversified common stocks.

STOCKS NOT LARGE

The Huntington list, as published, shows securities with a total appraised value of $14,036,625. Of this amount $10,712,223, or 77 per cent, is in bonds, and $3,344,402, or 23 per cent, in stocks. The stocks are principally Southern California Edison common and preferred; Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, Hammond Lumber Company, and two land companies, the Old Dominion and the Redondo Improvement.

Railroad common stocks are entirely absent but railroad and traction bonds are present in abundance. Of the total bond investment 41 per cent is in railroad and traction bonds; approximately $1,000,000 in various Southern California Edison issues, and about $5,000,000 in an industrial, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. In many lists of this kind the public utility issues more nearly equal the investment in rails.

Investments in the bonds of the transportation companies follow closely the enterprises with which the Huntington name has been associated for years. The list includes Southern Pacific, Central Pacific, a subsidiary; Chesapeake and Ohio, control of which the Huntingtons sold to the Van Sweringens of Cleveland; Lake Shore and Michigan Southern; Pacific Electric Railway of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Railway Corporation.

HARVARD'S POLICY

The investment policy of Harvard College, as recently published, shows different tendencies in many respects. Public utility, including traction bonds, are well in front as the favorites, amounting to 30 per cent of the total. Mortgages absorb only 1.86 per cent of the total, while railroad bonds are 19 per cent of the whole. Industrials account for 14 per cent and governments and municipals, 2.50 per cent.

Investment in stocks figures out about 20 per cent of the aggregate, or close to the Huntington proportion. Industrial shares take the lead with 7 per cent, followed by public utilities with 4 per cent, railroads 3 per cent, bank and insurance, 3 per cent and real-estate trust stocks, 3 per cent.

In the list of stocks, the preferred shares are in the majority among the industrials while the common shares form the bulk of the rails. Of the thirty-seven industrials twenty-four are preferred, and of the fifteen rails, thirteen are common.

HIGH PREMIUM PAID

Los Angeles Bankers Awarded Issue of Phoenix School Liens

PHOENIX, May 6. (Exclusive)—The highest premium ever paid for Arizona bonds has been given by the Sutherlin-Barry Company of Los Angeles for an $80,000 issue of the Phoenix Union High School District, the proceeds to be used in the erection of a stadium in the northeastern part of the city. The premium aggregates $19.09 for $1000, on a 5 per cent basis. The highest premiums heretofore paid locally were $15 on $4,800,000 of county paving bonds and $13.75 on a late issue of Phoenix district school bonds.

Benwell & Co. of Denver has taken an $18,000 bond issue of Creighton School District at a premium of $226. The issue carries only 4 3-4 per cent interest charges.

BEATTY NOMINATED TO HEAD EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—William Beatty today was nominated for president of the New York Produce Exchange to succeed B. H. Wunder for the 1927-1928 term. Axel Hansen was named for vice-president to succeed R. M. Morgan and Walter B. Pollock was renominated for treasurer.

BANCITALY CONTINUES TO CLIMB

Julian Petroleum Common and Preferred Close Off; Mines Irregular

Rallies of Julian Petroleum preferred and common on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange on Thursday were of short duration, for both stocks reacted yesterday, the preferred losing 1 1-8 points to a close at 2 7-8, while the common sold off 10 cents to 70. The balance of the oil list was irregular.

Union Oil of California closed 1-4 lower at 43 3-4 and Associates lost a fraction to 42¼. Standard of California declined a fraction to 34½ and California Petroleum closed firm at 26. Richfield receded 3-8 of a point to a firm close at 21 and Bolsa Chica held at 5.

Bancitaly Corporation continued its march, adding 3-8 of a point to a new high record and close at 116½ on a good turnover. Bank of Italy added 1½ points to 172½. First National and Union Bank and Trust were firm at 800 and 192, respectively. Los Angeles Investment closed steady at 56, as did Edison common at 39 1-4. Edison rights were off 9 cents to 60.

Big Jim featured activity in the mining list with an advance of 9 cents to a close at 37½ on reports of favorable developments in the mine. Boundary Cone rallied to 7½, then closed firm at 7. Sunnyside Consolidated lost 2 cents to 11 and Great Bend added 3 cents to 68.

March Income of Rail Lines in Small Gain

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Net railway operating income of Class I railroad during March totaled $84,948,235, equivalent to an annual rate of return of 5 per cent on property investment, it was announced tonight by the Bureau of Railway Economics, maintained here by the carriers. The figures compare with $94,637,690 and 5.13 per cent for March of last year.

Gross operating revenues for the month amounted to $581,056,579, compared with $531,464,114, a decrease of one-tenth of 1 per cent, while operating expenses totaled $395,423,299, compared with $397,132,963, a decrease of four-tenths of 1 per cent.

The bureau reported that twenty-one Class I roads operated at a loss during March, nine of them in the eastern district, two in the southern and ten in the western district.

For the first three months of the year the roads had a net railway operating income totaling $236,601,844, the bureau said, equal to an annual rate of return of 4.73 per cent, compared with $233,945,445 and 4.80 per cent during the first quarter of 1926.

LUMBER OUTPUT UP

Increased Production and Business Reported By Mills

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP) — The "lumber thermometer" of business is encouraging, says the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association's review for the week ended April 30. While fourteen fewer softwood mills reported, marked increases in production, although high water closed some mills, and new business were noted, with shipments about the same as the week before. Decreases in all three items were shown compared with a year ago. Hardwood production fell off in the week, shipments were larger and new business gained.

Unfilled orders of 177 southern pine and west coast mills were 529,360,182 feet against 532,231,086 the previous week.

FLOOD LOSS OF RAIL LINE GIVEN

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Loss of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas in connection with the recent flood is placed at about $160,000 by President Haile, who said both passenger and freight service now was on a normal basis. He estimated gross revenues were about $150,000 ahead of April last year.

STEEL MAKERS AIDED BY INCREASED PRICES

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Youngstown dispatches to Wall street say steel-sheet makers are encouraged by the response to higher prices and that new quotations are applying to a large volume of new business. New building construction requirements have helped to strengthen the market for bars, structurals and shapes at 1.90 cents a pound. Some plate tonnage, however, is moving at 1.85 cents.

SHATTUCK COMPANY EARNINGS POINT UP

Frank G. Shattuck Company for the quarter ending March 31, last, reports net profit of $390,779.33, after depreciation and Federal taxes, equal to $1.30 per share on 300,000 no par shares, against a net profit of $316,396.08 after depreciation and Federal taxes, or $1.05 a share, in the first quarter of 1926.

NEW YORK STANDARD REPORTS

Total Net Earnings of Oil Company During 1926 Set at $71,646,813

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—The financial statement of the Standard Oil Company of New York for 1926 reveals total earnings of $71,646,813 after expenses and taxes, including earnings of General Petroleum Corporation of California from the date of acquisition, May 16, 1926. This compares with $72,173,233 the year before. Deductions for reserves for depreciation, depletion and insurance were heavier in 1926, amounting to $35,909,856, against $28,490,364 in 1925. This materially reduced the net profit for the year, which was $32,776,802, in contrast to $41,680,396 in 1925.

Cash dividends of $23,456,791 were paid during the year and the capital stock distribution amounted to $71,691,103, a total of $95,147,894.

Current assets included $54,999,189 cash, marketable securities, $3,167,610, and accounts and notes receivable, $49,104,538. Inventories of crude oil and petroleum were valued at $151,187,870, and materials and supplies, $24,658,562.

Total assets were $691,211,930.

Safeway Stores Extending Chain in Eastern Area

With more than 150,000 customers being served daily by the Safeway Stores of Southern California, and with the combined assets of the entire Safeway system well above the $9,000,000 mark, preparations are now under way to extend the grocery chain farther eastward, according to an announcement yesterday by Edward Dale, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California system.

During 1927 it is planned to open between 150 and 200 new stores in States west of the Mississippi River, Mr. Dale said. In line with this new expansion policy five new Safeway stores were opened for business recently in Lincoln, Neb., and three stores were opened, respectively, in Beatrice, Fairbury and Crete, in the same State. The Safeway system is also entering Kansas, with stores to be established shortly in Wichita and Topeka. Other Midwestern States are on this year's schedule for new Safeway units, Mr. Dale said.

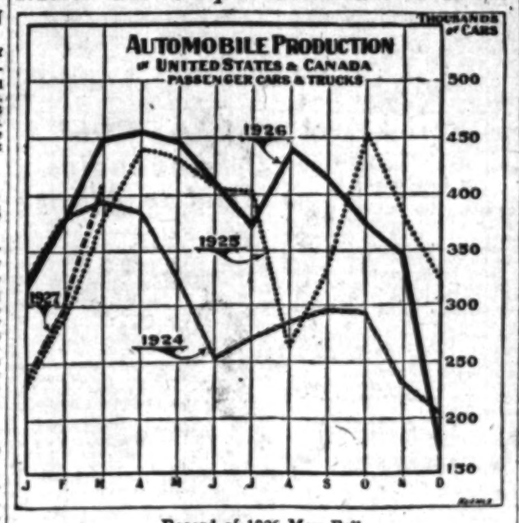
Motor Car Output Continues to Climb



Record of 1926 May Fall

Although the volume of motor-car production so far this year has fallen below the 1924 and 1926 figures, the upward climb has been sharper and gives promise of surpassing the 1926 peak before the summer recession begins.

RETAIL TRADE UP IN APRIL

Early Reports Indicating Month to be Best Since Last November Regarded Specially Encouraging

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, May 6. (Exclusive)—Early reports on the movement of retail trade in April make it safe to assume that the month's business was better than it had been for any month since November. On the basis of returns already in for the chain stores and mail-order houses and on estimates on the volume of the department-store business for April, this statement appears to be a conservative one.

To those interested in the future business trend these returns on retail trade will be specially encouraging. Since it was undoubtedly a heavy Easter demand that lifted the April 1927 sales so handsomely above those for the same months last year, when most of the Easter trade fell in March, some prophets may read into the new reports more than is there. The fact, nevertheless, remains that the pick-up in retail activity so much desired at last has come.

Chain-store sales for a long time have been increasing persistently, but if the totals now available may be accepted as typical, the April business will reveal the most substantial gain of any month in more than a year. F. W. Woolworth & Co. report a gain of nearly 13 per cent in their April sales over a year ago and the president, H. T. Parson, embellishes the figures by his statement that their business increased in every one of their thirteen districts for the first four months this year except Florida. The Penney stores' gain was 24 per cent, McGrory nearly 36 per cent. Grand over 31 per cent, Metropolitan nearly 24 per cent, McLellan nearly 50 per cent. It should not detract from the significance of these returns that they reflect in part a growth that is peculiar to this type of store and that has been in progress for some time.

Just as the April gains of the chain stores make a much brighter picture than those for earlier 1927 months, the April improvement of the mail-order house reflects a new upturn. During the earlier months this year Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Montgomery, Ward & Co., the two outstanding mail-order institutions, were scarcely holding their own against the returns for the year previous. They now report a substantial gain for April. Sears, Roebuck & Co. sales were up 4.3 per cent. Montgomery, Ward & Co. sales were up 4.5 per cent. Improvement in this group is especially significant for what it reveals of the larger volume of buying in the agricultural districts.

No reliable computations on the business last month of the department stores is as yet available, but those who follow such matters apparently feel convinced that it was a good month. Those familiar with the matter entertain no doubt that the various figures on retail trade for April when finally compiled will reveal a distinct turn for the better. Whereas in the earlier months of 1927 retail trade had not been running along at the pace set in 1926, the indication now is that a new stride was set last month. How much of this represents the sensational Easter buying and how much represents a permanent turn for the better remains to be seen.

STANDARD MORTGAGE TO ENTER BAY CITY

Eric M. Leaf, president of the Standard Mortgage Corporation, returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he spent several days arranging for representation for his company in the Bay City. Owing to the increasing demand for the facilities offered by the Standard Mortgage Corporation, the company has decided to obtain representation in San Francisco, through the Snyder Company, also of Los Angeles. The Synder Company is opening offices at 334 Bush street, under the supervision of Harvey M. Coverley, and all applications for loans under the Standard Mortgage plan will be handled through this company. For some time, Mr. Leaf said, the Standard Mortgage Corporation has been represented in Oakland, and it is also establishing a representation in San Diego.

WOOL MART CONTINUES UNCERTAIN

Demand Moderate; Prices Favor Buyer Rather Than Seller During Week

BOSTON, May 6. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"The demand for wool in the eastern seaboard markets continues moderate, and prices have favored the buyer rather than the seller during the week, although there is the belief that the downward movement has about run its course. The movement of the new clip is becoming broader and with the sale of the Jericho pool at 90 1-4 cents is expected to become still brisker. Sales in the Far West have generally been in the range of 28 to 30 cents this week. In Ohio and Michigan wool is being bought in a moderate manner for dealers' account at around 33 cents.

"London opened, as predicted, par to 5 per cent under the previous series' closing rates for both merinos and crossbreds. Since the opening prices have ruled steady with more general demand, withdrawals have been about 10 per cent, due chiefly to high limits. Bradford reports no change in prices due to London's easier tone; in fact, the decline has been anticipated both there and on this side of the Atlantic.

"The goods market is still rather slow, but some reports are more encouraging.

"Mohair is rather quiet but steady.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston, according to the 1927, to May 5, 1927, inclusive, were 66,702,000 pounds, against 75,015,000 pounds for the same period last year."

"The receipts from January 1, 1927, to May 5, 1927, inclusive, were 102,926,400 pounds, against 141,394,937 pounds for the same perior last year."

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Trading on yesterday's small supply continued slow and draggy, with a little more than half of the supply still unsold. Prices were about in line with Thursday's late clean-up at 15@25c lower prices on steers and 10@15c lower on the stock. No strictly good steers were offered, although several loads of fair fleshed steers as well as cows still remained unsold. Five loads of 986-pound Arizona yearling steers went out for baby beef feeding at $.65. Steers for slaughter sustained $ of cent head from $.90@9.25, with small lots of medium kinds from $.15@8.50 and a few common clogs around 7.00. Several loads of feed grass steers sold late Thursday from $.75@9.00, mostly 1,100@8.00.

Odd head of heifers made 7.00, while a load of 1,121-pound grass cows topped in carlots at 6.75. A load of 1,110-pound grassers made 6.25, with a part load of 818-pound weights at 6.10. Common kinds in a small way sold down to 5.00. A few cutters turned from 4.00@4.50, with low cutters around 3.00. Bulls were scarce and steady, most of the supply, medium kinds, selling from 3.75@4.00, with common bulls down to 3.50.

Calves—Prices continued their downward trend and sales made yesterday were about 25@50c lower. Odd lots of vealers mulled from 12.00@ 2.50, while a load of good 285-pound weights turned for 11.50. Plainer kinds sold down to 9.00, while the few lots of common kinds and stocks turned from 7.00@9.00.

HOGS—Offerings yesterday consisted of a load of mixed California butchers and a few truck-ins. Prices were called nominally steady, with the load still unsold at a late hour. A small lot of 210-pound trucked-in butchers went over for 11.50, choice grain-fed butchers were quoted up to 11.65.

SHEEP—None. A weak undertone prevailed in trade, due to the sharp price concessions made to the dressed trade. Medium to choice milk lambs are quoted from 12.25@14.00, with medium to choice shorn ewes from 5.00@6.50.

Allis-Chalmers in Demand on Announcement of New Financing

Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Allis-Chalmers was a feature of the late afternoon running into new high ground in response to the announcement that directors had voted to retire the $16,300,000 7 per cent preferred stock on July 1, next. This news fulfilled predictions which had been current for some time. The sale of an issue of $15,000,000 5 per cent debentures will finance the deal and the necessary balance to be provided out of treasury funds. The action will mean a saving in net equal to about $1.68 a share on the common stock.

Chicago and Northwestern

Brisk buying of Chicago and Northwestern was one of the outstanding features of the day in the railroad list. The turnover was the heaviest it has been in some months and the vigor with which buying went ahead revived reports that Union Pacific was adding to its holdings with a view to ultimate acquisition of the property. The last annual report of the latter road showed its holdings of Northwestern unchanged from the close of 1925 when it held 401,900 shares. Reports of Union Pacific activity doubtless had basis in knowledge of the fact that that company enters Chicago from Omaha over the Northwestern tracks.

Mack and Hudson

Mack Trucks and Hudson Motors were the leaders of the motor group, both stocks reaching new peak prices for the year. The demand for Hudson was ascribed to the reported increase in the company's production, which was accepted as indicating a very satisfactory second quarter. In Mack, the buying seemed to be a continuation of yesterday's movement, but today it was reported that several large traders, recently active in General Motors, were taking a big position in Mack.

Marine Rumors Denied

The proceedings in International Mercantile Marine shares set a lively pace in the forenoon, with the preferred stock rising rather spectacularly to new high levels for the year on talk of a plan for capital readjustment which would take care of accumulated dividends on that stock. But swift reaction followed the blanket denial issued after noon by F. A. S. Franklin, president of the company, putting down as without foundation talk of recapitalization and likewise rumors of impending deals for new tonnage.

Foundation Company

The bear crowd working on the theory that the recovery had been too swift to hold and that fresh reaction was therefore in order, resumed its process of searching for weak spots. Foundation Company, which had a sharp drop yesterday, was under renewed pressure, dropping to new low ground for the year and showing a loss of some 7 points from Thursday's high levels. Coincident with the weakness here report was current of a possible downward adjustment in the present dividend rate when directors meet soon.

Equipments Being Accumulated

Quiet accumulation is understood to be in progress in the leading railway equipment shares which have had little part in the recent forward swing. Buying here is said to be going on in the belief that the railroads will shortly assume active inquiry for new rolling stock and power units. Demand from the carriers has been slower than many had anticipated but the view now held is that inquiry will be large when it begins to manifest itself. Locomotive and car builders, incidentally, have been taking on some fair-sized business over the last few weeks.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, May 6. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Steelers make preparations to sell furnace fuel below $5 a ton, due to recent production gains that are being gained with fresh ovens. Prices of $5.25 or more a ton, sales are said to be as low as $2.75. Connellsville ovens, therefore, are rapidly curtailing output; 665 beehive ovens are down for the week just ended. Output for the week ended April 30 dropped to 121,500 tons, lowest for the year. Coal prices are easy, although coal piles are being slowly depleted on account of the miners' strike. The basic pig-iron market at Pittsburgh has been further stiffened by sales at $18.50 valley by makers who up to this time have been holding to $19.

"In the northwest, electric copper holds unchanged at the delivered Connecticut. Zinc is steady at 6.15c St. Louis. The open market lead quotation is 6.40c St. Louis. The tin lower at 67.50c to 67.62½c New York."

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Copper steady; electrolytic, spot, and futures, 13.00.

Tin, easy; spot and near by, 63.00; July, 64.87 ... steady and unchanged.

Lead, quiet; spot, 6.75.

Zinc steady; East St. Louis spot and futures, 6.15.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, May 6. (Exclusive)—The crude rubber market for shipment, continued firm today, with prices holding at their former levels. Spot was closed at 41c. London cables were as generally expected, steady. London spot closed unchanged at 19¾d.

Private estimates place the London stock increase at 1500 tons. Although the market is displaying a firm tone, with the majority of the traders long, they seemed to be buying with the anticipation that the market will undoubtedly go higher. The future positions, in fact, have been going to higher prices, while the market for spot has been holding at the same level.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP) — Price fluctuations widened in today's curb market with bullish activity more pronounced. The usual week-end readjustment of speculative accounts imparted some irregularity to the final dealings, but closing prices in many issues were around the highest of the day. Trading was in fairly heavy volume.

Cessation of the California gasoline price-cutting war and the posting of higher crude-oil prices by the Magnolia Petroleum Company continue to exert a bullish effect on the oil shares. Tidal Osage, Northern Pipe Line, Cumberland Pipe Line, Lion, Margay and Wilcox were prominent in the recovery. Gulf Oil was heavy.

Heavy buying of Anglo-Chilean Nitrate, based on the prospects of a heavy fertilizer business, carried that issue up 4½ points to a new 1927 high at 27. General Fireproofing was bid up over 5 points, and then eased slightly. Mead Johnson, Ruberoid, Hall Print Works, Bancitaly Corporation, Melville Shoe and Cuneo Press were among the new highs in that group. Revival of activity in Servel and the strength of the 6 per cent bonds was accompanied by reports of record-breaking production of both electric and gas refrigerators.

Public utilities again presented several strong points. Commonwealth Power, which it is expected will be transferred to the "big board" in the near future, crossed 49 to a new peak. United Gas improvement also attained a new 1927 peak at 104 3-8.

Except for the duplication of the year's high by Calaveras Mining on buying influenced by reports of increased copper production, there were few changes of interest in the mining group.

The sinales price is omitted when same as the req. and both low and close when same as the high.

METHODIST CURRICULUM CONDEMNED

Church League Says Study Course Undermines Faith of Divinity Students

WARREN (Pa.) May 6. (AP)—Declaring the present course of study for young men preparing for the Methodist Episcopal ministry is "not only negative, but undermines the historic basis for faith in the virgin birth and bodily resurrection of Jesus Christ," the league for Faith and Life today asked the board of bishops of the church to revise the curriculum. There was no indication what disposition would be made of the request.

"Publications of the church, including the Sunday-school literature," the league's communication added, "are repeatedly unsound in their emphasis."

The request for revision of the curriculum, embraced in a resolution adopted at the league's annual meeting in Baltimore, the 2nd inst., was presented to the bishops, now in semiannual session here, by Dr. W. Waldo Weller, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Kane, Pa.

"We are willing," the resolution said, "to bring evidence of lawlessness within the church to the fall meeting of the board of bishops or will bring these facts to the general conference at Kansas City next May."

The resolution was signed by Harold Paul Sloan of Haddonfield, N. J., president of the league, which includes Methodist ministers and laymen in its membership.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Pittsburgh, was assigned to preside at the California German conference at Oakland, Cal., September 22, and at the Southern California conference at Long Beach on September 28.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN FINED IN RUM CASE

REDWOOD CITY, May 6. (Exclusive)—A woman giving the name of Mrs. Eva Schultz and her home as Los Angeles Harbor, was fined $15, on a disorderly-conduct charge here today after she had fought, kicked and screamed her way to jail from an automobile containing seven gallons of wine. The operator of the car, E. A. Lindsey, retired San Francisco merchant, was fined for possession of the wine.

EX-NEWSPAPER MAN DIES AT AGE OF 74

PRINCETON (N. J.) May 6. (AP)—Dr. Charles R. Williams, former editor-in-chief of the Indianapolis News, died here today. He was 74 years of age. He served as editor-in-chief of the News from 1892 until 1911. For nine years prior to that he was assistant general manager of the Associated Press. As a young man he had served as literary editor of the New World and as a teacher of Greek and Latin.

HOD CARRIERS GIVEN MORE THAN RAIL MEN

CHICAGO, May 6. (AP)—Hod carriers receive a higher daily wage than passenger conductors and Chicago street sweepers are paid more money than passenger brakemen, statistics quoted at today's railroad-wage hearing here indicated. C. H. Smith, Fort Worth, Tex., general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen of the Texas & Pacific, virtually took up the day reading comparisons between wages of trainmen and other union workers.

MORE TIME ON BANKERS' LIFE DUES

Iowa Court Order Gives Policyholders to 26th Inst. to Pay Premium Call

DES MOINES, May 6. (AP)—The State Supreme Court late today granted an application of the Bankers' Life Company for a stay of injunction proceedings restraining the company from lapsing assessment policyholders for nonpayment of assessment. The stay expires at midnight the 26th inst. The decision is a modification of the previous order of the court in a case brought by assessment policyholders in Marshal county against the company.

The Supreme Court ruling amounts to an extension of the period of grace by twenty days. The premium originally was due April 1 and assessment members had until the 2nd inst. to complete payments. A number of certificate holders, the court decreed, had not paid the increased rate up to that time and they are now given until the 26th inst. to pay the higher rate.

The Bankers' Life may after that time, the court held, lapse the policies of any assessment members who may not have paid the higher rate. The temporary injunction granted at Marshalltown held that the company could not lapse the policies of any members who offered to pay the 1926 rate, rather than the higher 1927 rate.

The stay granted today is contingent on the outcome of the litigation both in Marshall county and in Polk county, in which various groups of assessment members seek to prevent the company from raising its rates on assessment insurance. The policies in question were written prior to the re-organization of the company from an assessment to an old line company.

The stay order granted today allows the company to continue the operation of its business in the same manner as before the suits were started pending final decisions in the legal actions.

DOMINION OF EAST AFRICA MAY COME

British Governors Favor Federation of Colonies for White Domination

LONDON, May 6. (Exclusive)—The governors of the crown colonies of Uganda, Kenya and Northern Rhodesia and the so-called mandated territory of Tanganyika have gone on record here as favoring a combination of the East African British possessions in a new federation, as previously recommended by the Federation of British Industries as well as the East African section of the London Chamber of Commerce.

This brings a step closer the formation of a new dominion of the British empire with the object of strengthening the position of the whites against the claims of the Indian residents by giving them a majority of seats in the legislative councils. Another object is to check the Germans, who are making a strong bid to regain their old colony trade.

The Governor of Kenya is determined that the union will occur, and it is expected that he will retire if it is denied. However, following a conference of Sir Edward Grigg with the Premier of South Africa regarding the future of Kenya as a white colony, there are strong grounds for belief that Kenya will join South Africa if denied the proposed Federation of East Africa.

Commission to Make Study of Juvenile Crime

SACRAMENTO, May 6. (AP)—Steps for a thorough investigation of juvenile delinquency in California, inaugurated by the recent Legislature, were furthered by Gov. Young this afternoon when he signed Senator R. C. Jones's measure providing for a commission to make such a study.

Under the measure seven unpaid commissioners, to be named by the Governor, will study juvenile delinquency and report to the next Legislature a "plan for prevention of delinquency and the proper care and training of predelinquent, delinquent, psychopathic and maladjusted children

POPULAR CIVIC MAN WHO PASSED AWAY

Arthur W. Kinney

EX-HEAD OF CHAMBER SUCCUMBS

Arthur W. Kinney Taken Unexpectedly After Years of Active Civic Work Here

Arthur W. Kinney, former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and one of the most prominent business men of Southern California, died unexpectedly at his home, 972 Magnolia avenue, yesterday morning following an attack of angina pectoris.

Mr. Kinney had arisen early to work in his flower garden apparently in the best of health and spirits. He was stricken a short time later and collapsed. He died while members of his family were summoning a physician.

Born in Aroostook county, Me., in 1870, Mr. Kinney came to Los Angeles in 1886. He graduated from Los Angeles High School in 1892 and later served two terms as president of that school's alumni association. In 1895 he married Hadassah Thomas, of Los Angeles, whom he leaves. There are two sons, Wendell H. Kinney, manager of the H. K. McCann Company, and Roland T. Kinney, attorney.

ENTERED POLITICS

As a young man Mr. Kinney entered the service of the Santa Fe Railroad traffic department to study the problems of transportation. From 1895 to 1897 he served as deputy County Recorder of Los Angeles county. In 1896 he was elected president of the Young Men's Republican League of Los Angeles and president of the California Republican Clubs. During the Bryan-McKinley campaign of that year he was selected by the Republican National Committee to organize Republican clubs in California. In 1900 he was chosen vice-president of the National League of Republican Clubs.

In recognition of Mr. Kinney's services, President McKinley appointed him receiver of the United States Land Office, Los Angeles district, in 1897. In 1902 he was reappointed to this office by President Roosevelt. During his term of office, the vast reclamation enterprises of the Colorado Desert were inaugurated.

From 1906 to 1913 he was at the head of the Arthur W. Kinney Company handling real estate and investments. He was part owner and subdivider of the Alvarado Terrace Tract and the Jefferson Street Park tract.

HEADS CHAMBER

Mr. Kinney became director of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce after being a member of that organization for more than thirty years. In 1913 he was elected its president. During the same year he was elected to the office of president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast.

It was during his administration as president of the Los Angeles

CRYER ADMITS HE MAY RESIGN

Denies, However, Offer of Supreme Judgeship

Retirement Expected Before New Council Goes In

Clarke and Workman Lead for Interim Mayor

Renewed reports that Mayor Cryer is preparing to resign to accept an appointment on the bench of the State Supreme Court brought both a denial and an admission from Mr. Cryer.

The chief executive of the city denied that he has been offered an appointment on the bench of the State's highest tribunal by Gov. Young in exchange of his services to Senator Johnson and his political mentor, Kent Parrot. But he readily admitted that he will "give careful consideration" to such an offer if forthcoming.

Incidentally, Mayor Cryer explained that he is "of the class temperamentally known as judges," with the unexpressed corollary that he would consequently make a fine addition to the supreme bench.

The report that Mayor Cryer has been considered for the bench job and will resign if he can get it was published in The Times more than a month ago. At that time, it was learned circumstantially that the supreme bench justiceship was to be given as a plum to Cryer in recognition of faithful service to his political overlords.

MAY SEAT FRIEND

The report yesterday was that Mayor Cryer is to resign within the next ninety days in order that his successor may be appointed by the present City Council, which is mainly proadministration, and not the new City Council, which will be made up of antiadministration members.

Under this scheme, former Judge Robert M. Clarke, it was indicated, will be the most likely successor to the mayoralty. He is an important member of the Cryer-Parrot group and a close friend of Cryer himself. Other possibilities mentioned as successors in the office are Boyle Workman, president of the City Council, who was defeated for re-election last Tuesday, Walter B. Allen, Cryer's hand-picked president of the Harbor Board; Isadore Birnbaum, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, and Robert Lee Heath, former Chief of Police.

MAY QUIT, ANYWAY

Mayor Cryer's term expires on July 1, 1929, and the new City Council takes office on July 1, next.

In a brief interview, Mr. Cryer said that he may resign before his term expires, regardless of the receipt of a flattering position in any other walk of life.

"Have you offered to resign?" he was asked.

"No."

"Have you been offered a high position on the bench?"

"No."

"Would you consider resigning if such a position were not offered?"

"Yes."

WANTS OTHER WORK

The Mayor then added:

"You know I never had a square deal on publicity. On the other hand, I like to serve the public unhampered. I am of the class temperamentally known as judges.

"If I had an opportunity to take up another line of work, I would give it serious consideration, I am told I could get it.

"However, I have no intention of resigning at the present time. I think it would be an act of impropriety to resign before the new City Council takes office in July. During the last campaign, I was very reluctant about running for re-election, but I realized there were a number of important projects which should be completed. These included building the new City Hall, putting into effect the new city charter, establishing the Civic Center and amalgamating the harbors at San Pedro and Long Beach as a unified port. These are matters now completed or all well under way."

Safety Keynote of Parents' and Teachers' Meet

Safety was the keynote of the final session yesterday of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Tenth District, at the First Congregational Church.

E. B. Lefferts from the safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, presented some phases of the department's work and said that in safety work, in the last analysis, it is the parents who need the educating. Grown people, he said club records show, will not use safety lanes and pedestrian tunnels and children follow the elders' example.

Raymond Pollich, district chairman of the safety department of the Congress of Parents and Teachers, discussed safety from the home angle.

A playlet was presented by pupils of the San Pasqual School having American citizenship as its theme. All of those taking part were foreign children.

Newly elected officers were introduced and the session closed with a final report on resolutions.

ASTRONOMY COURSES FOR SUMMER CLASSES

Two courses in astronomy have been added to the curriculum of 225 courses to be offered by the University of California at the Los Angeles summer session, June 25 to August 6. Prof. Russell T. Crawford of Berkeley will offer the elements of astronomy. Related courses in algebra, geometry and calculus have been scheduled under the department of mathematics. Prof. William Deweese Cairns of Oberlin College will teach geometry and elementary algebra for advanced students.

THIS BABY CAN EAT CORN ON COB

Eight-Month-Old Boy Has Nine Teeth

James Luman Davis and His Molars

CORN on the cob or fried chicken will present no difficulty of manipulation to James Luman Davis, 8 months of age, if he ever gets hold of them while his watchful parents are off guard.

For Jimmie, despite his extremely tender months, possesses nine full-fledged teeth and has several more in prospect.

The unusual baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, 1914 East Seventy-first street. Soon after birth his first teeth began to put in an appearance and when he was 7 months he had a tooth for every month. Two more acquired in the last month brought the total to nine. What's more, they are equally divided between uppers and lowers and, like the octogenarian who rejoiced because his two remaining molars matched, Jimmie can be happy because they connect to perfection.

MALTZAN RECEPTION ARRANGED

Extensive Program Ready for Entertainment of German Ambassador

Tentative plans for the reception to be tendered Baron Ago von Maltzan, German Ambassador to the United States, who is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles the 20th inst., were announced yesterday by Siegfried C. Hagen, German Consul of this city.

The Ambassador will be met by a motor caravan of prominent German citizens and others at Santa Barbara on the morning of the 19th inst. Consul Hagen will head the reception committee and the party, including the Ambassador and his secretary, will leave for Los Angeles at 6 a.m. on the following day. A committee of twenty prominent Los Angeles citizens will be appointed as official representatives of the city to arrange for the Bazon's entertainment while here.

It is also planned to have an informal reception as the Ambassador's party reaches the city limits, in which more than 200 German-American citizens will greet the distinguished guest. He will be escorted to the Ambassador. He will be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a noon luncheon and in the evening is to attend a dinner at the home of Emil Jannings, German film actor. Men and women prominent in the motion-picture industry also will be guests of the affair.

Other affairs planned in the Baron's honor include a motor trip to the Los Angeles Harbor Saturday morning, a luncheon at one of the downtown clubs at noon, and a banquet at the Biltmore in the evening. On Sunday morning he will be serenaded by Turnverein singers and later in the day will be taken to visit the Busch gardens in Pasadena. He expects to leave Sunday for Washington, D. C.

CREDIT MEN TO GIVE TALK

"Sources of Credit Information" will be the topic of a talk by S. P. Chase, secretary of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association at metropolitan college, University of Southern California in the Transportation Building, the 10th inst. Emery E. Olson, professor of credit management at Southern California, and director of co-ordination at Southern California, will preside at the evening lecture.

TWO DUNCAN SISTERS IN FILM SUIT

Agent Asks $250,000 for Asserted Picture Rights to "Topsy and Eva" Play

Rosetta and Vivian Duncan, famous Topsy and Eva characters of the stage, yesterday were named defendants in a suit for $250,000 damages for asserted failure to abide by an agreement over exclusive motion-picture rights for their appearance on the screen. The action was filed by O. C. Reid.

Reid asserts he entered into an agreement with the Duncan sisters on July 12, 1926, whereby it was understood that he was to receive 10 per cent of all their earnings in motion pictures in return for obtaining and exploiting their work.

On August 1 of the same year, Reid asserts, the Duncans met him and said that they were not going to keep the contract. Subsequently, the complaint states, the actresses have earned approximately $83,000 in motion pictures and damages of $250,000 are sought in the complaint.

Commenting last night on the suit against her and her sister, Miss Vivian Duncan said that Reid had not lived up to his part of the agreement. Without their knowledge, she said, Reid had sold the picture rights of "Topsy and Eva" to the First National Company. This was done after Vivian and Rosetta had signed up to make the picture with Joseph Schenck of United Artists. As a result an embarrassing situation arose between the two companies which ended in Schenck purchasing the screen rights from First National.

LIGHT RAIN REPORTED IN SOUTHLAND

District May Get Fringes of Storm Now Centered Around Salt Lake City

Although light rain fell in the vicinity of Los Angeles, this city experienced no precipitation during the past twenty-four hours, the Weather Bureau reported yesterday. The forecast for today is partly cloudy with moderate temperature, with a similar condition probably obtaining tomorrow.

According to Col. Hersey of the Weather Bureau, this city may possibly come under the fringes of a storm in the vicinity of Salt Lake City. If this should occur, nothing more than a light mist is to be expected.

Yesterday was cloudy for the most part. The highest temperature was 69 deg. and the lowest 57.

Redondo yesterday reported a trace of rain, the total for the season to date being 11.47 inches as compared with 8.41 last year. Other rain reports were Monrovia, storm, .20; season, 34.45; last season, 23.23. Arcadia, storm, .06; season, 22.96; last season, 20.09. San Diego, storm, .01; season, 14.51; last season, 13.08.

Unsettled weather with moderate temperature is forecast for today for San Diego.

MORE SHOWERS FOR NORTH FORECAST

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Showers are probable in Northern and Central California tomorrow, from the coast to the Sierras, Forecaster Bowie predicted. An area of low barometric pressure moving westward from its central point over Utah is responsible, he said. There was a trace of rain in the bay district late last night and intermittent light showers today.

Other northern points reporting: Eureka, .06; Point Reyes, .03; Red Bluff, .46; San Luis Obispo, .02; Chico, trace; Mt. Hamilton, .06.

DEDICATION OF HOSPITAL TO BE HELD

Bishop Cantwell Will Take Part in Ceremonies at New Queen of Angels Building

Although it has been open since last November, the Queen of the Angels Hospital, 2301 Bellevue avenue, will not have its official dedication until Sunday, the 15th inst., when Bishop Cantwell and a number of men and women prominent in Los Angeles have been asked to take part in the opening ceremonies, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Earl O'Donnell, secretary and treasurer of the hospital staff. A tentative program includes a resume of the hospital history and an outline of its future plans.

The hospital is a seven-story reinforced concrete structure costing approximately $500,000. At the present time it has provision for 190 patients, but the building program will eventually embrace units which will make the hospital three times its present size. Work has just begun on a nurses' home which will cost about $100,000.

The Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart operate the hospital and it has a staff of twenty doctors.

On the 12th inst. the Mayor and members of the City Council will be guests at the hospital for dinner.

BAY CITY NATIVE SONS TO VISIT SAN PEDRO

A large delegation of members of the Native Sons of the Golden West will leave San Francisco early tomorrow morning in a special Southern Pacific train for San Pedro, arriving at the local harbor at 8:30 p.m. A ten-car train has been arranged to bring the northern delegation to San Pedro.

EXCHANGE BARS JULIAN TRADING

Action Follows Receipt of Lewis Letter

Company Advises Escrow to Check Up Stock

Trading in the stock of the Julian Petroleum Corporation on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange was suspended last night by action of the board of governors on the ground of evidence indicating an overissue of the stock. The statement issued by the governors asserted that indications of the overissuance were contained in a communication to the exchange by S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian company.

L. F. Parsons, secretary of the exchange and member of the board of governors, explained that the action was taken on the advice of the attorneys for the exchange after the receipt of the communication from Mr. Lewis.

S. C. LEWIS

In a statement issued later in the evening, Mr. Lewis acknowledged that there were indications of an overissuance, and advised the holders of the Julian stocks to deposit their certificates with a bank or trust company for the purpose of making an actual count and check of the outstanding stock.

TRANSFERS ASSETS

Mr. Lewis also announced that he is transferring to a trust fund all of his personal assets for the purpose of dealing with the problem arising from any overissuance of stock that may exist. His assets, he said, will total more than $7,000,000, consisting of cash and California Eastern Oil Company shares, valued at $10 a share.

The statement from the Los Angeles Stock Exchange signed by Mr. Parsons follows:

"Whereas, from a communication made to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange by S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, it appears that there is an overissue of the stock of said Julian Petroleum Corporation, and

"Whereas, the exact amount of such overissue cannot be immediately ascertained,

"Now, therefore, it is hereby resolved that trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in stock of said Julian Petroleum Corporation is suspended until further order of the board of governors of said Los Angeles Stock Exchange."

From Mr. Lewis came this statement:

LEWIS STATEMENT

"It appears that there is an overissue of stock of Julian Petroleum Corporation. The exact amount of such overissue cannot be determined until the holders of all stock shall have deposited their certificates with some responsible bank or trust company for the purpose of making possible an actual physical audit of such stock.

"Until such an audit can be made I deem it necessary for the protection of all holders of Julian stock that there shall be no trading therein on either the Los Angeles Stock Exchange or the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange. I have so advised both of the exchanges in question.

"For the purpose of dealing with the problem created by an overissue that may exist, I am transferring to a trust fund all of my personal assets, which aggregate in value a most considerable amount."

No explanation was available last night for the overissue from either Mr. Lewis or other interested per-

by Harry Carr

IN THE midst of all our troubles there is at least something to be hilarious about.

The row as to which dead and gone persons should be allowed to represent California in the National Hall of Fame.

Personally, I am all in favor of Gen John C. Fremont, as suggested by Senator Lyon of Los Angeles.

True, Kit Carson had to guide him over long-familiar paths to make him a "path finder." When he "conquered" Los Angeles at the frightful battle of Cahuenga Pass, in which one mule was killed, he found the place already in the peaceful possession of United States troops.

FAME

In all probability, if you placed in the Hall of Fame those who are really entitled to be famous, no one would know their names . . .

Doubtless a meek and lowly street corner cop, or some fat old woman who held her ranch against the Indians.

But, after all, fame is principally advertising, and nobody can say that Fremont was not a star at that.

DIRTY PLAYS

Mae West, who served ten days in the New York workhouse for having put on the dirty play, "Sex," is going to move out to Chicago; and put it on again.

Also another play which is apparently so raw that even she didn't have the nerve to try it on Broadway.

I feel that some kind of comment goes with this item, but I find myself dumb and speechless.

Only this: that it would be the Mae Wests of this world who need suppressing, rather than the plays.

WISE GUYS

Another thoroughly irritating book has been written by Frank Simonds.

Mr. Simonds is one of those young Americans who hobnob with Europe; and write to us of our "duty" with the air of one trying to control his exasperation in a well-bred manner.

WE'RE ALL WRONG

It appears, from Mr. Simonds's latest, that Europe didn't "understand us" when we refused to make good Woodrow Wilson's expansive promise to restore Europe at our own expense.

The inference is that we should rush over there with the family check book; apologize for living; and tell them to go as far as they like.

That we are rich, as Europe is poor, seems to Mr. Simonds—and these other lads who are enjoying the process of being chucked under the chin by European propagandists—an outrageous sin.

IF THIS BE TREASON

Well, as a country, we are rich scandalously, tumultuously rich; and if Europe wants to hate us on that account, she will just have to sit in the mud and hate us.

Even to increase Mr. Simonds's social standing among French highhatters, we are not going to burn up our automobiles or begin eating curds and whey.

Yours for beefsteak and mushrooms—as Mayor Rogers would say.

GILBERT'S JAIL CASE

It is high time, by the way, that Mr. Rog— came home and looked after his fair and prosperous city.

The release of Mr. John Gilbert from the Beverly Hills jail—due to "influence"—wasn't so good.

TREASURE SEEKER STAYS HAND

Permit for Steam Shovel to Unearth Buried Hoard Sought; Recovery of a Trifle of Millions in Arizona Cavern to Occupy Interim

Just because activity has stopped on the lot at Ord and North Spring streets in the search for buried treasure, is no indication that the bubble has burst. Far from it. The lull in operations is merely the calm before the storm, and if the plans don't go awry, in about two weeks from now there will be a bigger and better search on than ever before.

Mrs. S. D. Regnir of 1325 Warren street is the guiding genius in the hunt. She declared yesterday that the findings had been sufficient to warrant a more exhaustive investigation into the subterranean passages, traces of which she asserts were found several days ago in superficial scratchings on the lot. Among a collection of relics brought to light in the excavations, she exhibited yesterday a copper bullet, a bayonet and an old-time powder pouch.

But, buried treasure being Mrs. Regnir's chief concern, she has set about to obtain permission from the city, she said, to operate a steam shovel on the property so that she may leave no stone unturned to recover the wealth which her forbears planted there in a moment of fear.

In the meantime, there is other work to be done in Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Regnir and several members of her family are leaving here the first of the week to go there to open up a cave in which, presumably, are untold riches. She said she had an idea of what would be found there, but that it was so astounding that she wouldn't want to tell about it now.

The maps giving the locations of these various treasure caches were given to Mrs. Regnir by her grandfather, she said, and she guards them carefully in a vault when they are not in use to guide her in her search for the hidden gold.

NEW POWER LINK SOUGHT

Question of City Assuming Control of Los Angeles Corporation System to Go on Ballot

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday succeeded in passing through the City Council a resolution placing on the Jun ballot an ordinance declaring it the intention of the city to acquire by condemnation proceedings the entire electric generating and distributon system of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. The measure was designed to complete th chain of municipal light and power ownership, the chief present link of which is the city's control of the distribution system of the Southern California Edison Company in Los Angeles.

Declaring that "the public interest, necessity and convenience" require municipal control of the system, the ordinance proposes the acquisition of every piece of property of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation having to do with the generation and distribution of electricity.

This includes, lands, buildings, steam electric generating plants, substation, high-tension and low-tension overhead and underground lines and all rights of way, easements, interests, licenses and franchises in the city of Los Angeles.

SEAL BEACH PLANT

It also includes acquisition of the steam electric generating plant of the corporation at Seal Beach in Orange county, and the transmission line therefrom and all lands and properties "used and useful."

A third paragraph of the ordinance briefly declares for acquisition of "all electrical distributing system of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation outside the city limits and within the county of Los Angeles."

The ordinance declares it the intention of the city to submit to the voters the proposition to acquire all the properties "under eminent domain, or otherwise." It asks further that the City Attorney be authorized and directed to file with the State Railroad Commission a petition to have the commission determine the amount of compensation the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation shall receive, and to institute condemnation proceedings in the Superior Court.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The resolution placing the ordinance on the ballot, which was introduced by Councilman Criswell, read as follows:

"Be it resolved by the City Council of the city of Los Angeles that the question of the adoption of the proposed ordinance filed with the City Clerk on May 6, 1927, entitled "an ordinance declaring the intention of the city of Los Angeles and the Board of Water and Power Commissioners of the said city, to acquire by condemnation proceedings, or otherwise, the electric generating and distributing systems, and certain lands,

"I am willing to sign such a report," Moore said following the meeting, "although it is a foregone conclusion that Councilman Criswell will not sign. I doubt, however, if the report will ask that the Mayor take any action to dismiss Buzzell. The Mayor gave us to understand when this Council came into office two years ago that he would be responsible for the acts of his appointees, and we feel out of respect to his office that we should not ask him to dismiss any appointee. He will know if the Council disapproves Buzzell's acts, and can then take action or not, as his judgment dictates."

Several representatives of organized labor were before the committee a second time, and openly criticized Buzzell, as well as criticising Mayor Cryer's action in appointing him to the Civil Service Commission.

The report of the committee probably will be filed with the Council next Monday.

ENSIGN'S DEATH LAID TO INJURY

Kin in East Scouts Theory McShane Drowned

Mother Asks New Inquiry in Harbor Mystery

Body Taken from San Pedro Waters Last Fall

Gay navy parties at Long Beach and San Pedro will probably figure extensively in the new inquiry ordered by the Secretary of the Navy into the mysterious death of Ensign Julian J. McShane, descendant of an old Virginia family whose body was found in Los Angeles Harbor last October, it was learned from reliable sources yesterday.

That the social activities of navy officers from the U.S.S. Tennessee, to which McShane was attached before his death, will be the subject of questioning when the Tennessee arrives here on the 17th inst., and a new board of inquiry begins an investigation into the death, was admitted yesterday by Atty. L. W. Frankley, local representative of McShane's mother.

McShane on the night he disappeared had attended a party given by an officer of the Tennessee at the California Yacht Club. This function broke up, however, about 12:30 a.m. on the morning of October 11, last.

"We have since learned that several of those present at the California Yacht Club planned to attend other parties to be given in private homes, and we wish to ascertain if McShane appeared at any of these festivities," declared Frankley.

LAST SEEN AT CLUB

At the hearings of the first naval board of inquiry those witnesses who testified declared they had last seen McShane at the yacht club as the party was breaking up. His body was found three days later in the water under a near-by pier. His skull had been fractured.

The findings of the first naval board of inquiry will also be attacked at the new investigation by affidavits to be presented by Mrs. Maria J. McShane of Ellicott City, Md., mother of the deceased, and Arthur Johns, New York attorney, an uncle. The original naval conclusion was that McShane had fallen from a pier and fractured his head on wooden abutments while descending toward the water.

Affidavits, however, have been obtained by the mother and uncle from H. Warren Buckler, a Baltimore physician, and Milton H. Easton, Ellicott City undertaker, both of whom examined McShane's body when it was shipped east for burial, and both declared they discovered injuries overlooked by the naval authorities and which tend to support the mother's belief that her son was murdered.

BUCKLER'S AFFIDAVIT

A part of Dr. Buckler's affidavit, which is now in the possession of Attorney Frankley, reads as follows:

"An examination (of McShane's body) revealed an extensive contusion in, over and around the left eye. There had been some destruction in the tissues of the eyelid and surrounding skin surface, which had been plastered up with undertaker's wax. There was also a cut on the lower lip, and the left ear was swollen, as compared to the right. The body was in a remarkably good state of preservation and did not have the appearance of having been in the water but for a brief time.

"Basing my opinion upon this finding (autopsy report and a fractured skull,) the condition of the left eye and surrounding tissues, indicating that such part had received a severe blow, and a lack of post-mortem changes such as are found in bodies that have been in or under the water for three days, I have come to the conclusion that the cause of death was fractured skull, and that the body had not been in the water the entire time of disappearance to time of discovery."

A resume of the entire case, it was learned, was presented to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur by Attorney Arthur Johns, the uncle, in which the New York attorney reviewed the testimony given at the first naval hearing on the case and pointed out angles which he believed were not thoroughly covered at the time. It is understood that the resume was accompanied by requests that action be taken to re-examine the various witnesses, that such examination be an exhaustive one and conducted along lines suggested by Johns, and that also the mother be allowed to have counsel present to cross-examine the witnesses.

Officer Regains Plunder Taken in Hold-up Here

Fortune, ably aided by San Francisco police, smiled on Police Sergeant Knapp of Los Angeles yesterday. A watch, tie pin, revolver and currency stolen from the officer by Douglas Bedell and Israel Berlow recently were recovered when Berlow led the officer to a number of pawnshops where they had traded.

Berlow has admitted to San Francisco police that he and Bedell were the men who held up and robbed the Los Angeles officer. Bedell was shot and killed in San Francisco a few days ago by Berlow when the latter tried to shoot a police officer taking them to detective headquarters for questioning. The bullet missed the officer and lodged in Bedell's head.

Whoever Mr. Gilbert's mysterious film friends were who applied the "pressure," they ought to be ashamed of themselves.

As to the judge who sentenced the actor to ten days in jail; and then took it back, the best thing he can do is gracefully to turn in his resignation. The spine portion of his cosmic consciousness is missing.

MENTOR OF FASHIONS IN COLLAPSE

Effects of Wreck Injury of Four Months Ago Cause Peggy Hamilton's Collapse

Peggy Hamilton, fashion expert of The Times, was taken to the California Lutheran Hospital yesterday after a collapse, suffering from injuries and a nervous strain as a result of hurts received in a train wreck at Albuquerque, N. M., last January while en route to New York to present a fashion show.

Immediate X-ray examinations, according to Drs. Erwin Larson and Walter Reeves, disclosed the misplacement of two ribs, wrenched back and contusions of the head. The physicians believed Miss Hamilton would be in the hospital under observation and treatment for probably a week and it will be sixty or ninety days before she is able to return to her work.

Miss Hamilton's injuries caused her intense pain while en route to New York, and she was advised there to postpone her activities in connection with the Eastern fashion show, but she declined, although suffering. After the show she was forced to remain in bed ten days.

Although hardly able to travel, Miss Hamilton returned to Los Angeles but has been unable to resume her work. From time to time she consulted physicians, but the real injuries were not disclosed until after her collapse and removal to the hospital.

During her treatment, Miss Hamilton will direct her assistants in behalf of The Times from her bed, and work of keeping thousands of women abreast of the latest in style and fashion will go on unhampered.

sons. The State Corporation Department recently authorized the issuance of 3,740,485 shares of California Eastern Oil Company in exchange for the stock of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and for other purposes, as a part of the program by which the California Eastern Oil Company is to absorb the Julian company and about fifteen others. Of this amount, it was stated at the time of the reorganization announcement, 1,828,436 shares of California Eastern were to be issued in exchange for Julian preferred on basis of 3.4 shares for 1. Three hundred thousand shares were to be issued in exchange for Julian common on the basis of ½ for 1.

STOCK PLEDGED

The authorized capitalization of the Julian Petroleum Corporation is 600,000 shares of preferred and 600,000 shares of common. The difficulty, it is said, revolves around the issuance of stock in excess of the amounts specified in the articles of incorporation. Rumors in circulation for some time have intimated that the overissuance had some connection with the pledging of stock as collateral for loans from private persons.

Stories were also current yesterday of wholesale stoppage of transfer by the Julian offices of several thousand certificates in circulation. It was learned that the Los Angeles Stock Exchange had received notice of the stopping of transfer on almost 200,000 shares, but it was explained at the offices of Mr. Lewis that this stock had been pledged as security for loans, and sold in violation of the pledge.

COMPANY HISTORY

The Julian Petroleum Corporation was originally organized by C. C. Julian, oil promoter, in 1923. Through a spectacular advertising campaign the stock was widely distributed to the public, the number of stockholders amounting at one time to 40,000, it was said. S. C. Lewis, present head of the company, took control in 1925 after Julian's administration became tangled financially.

When the need of additional capital became evident last year to refund bank loans and other indebtedness, and to provide for the consolidation of various properties into the California Eastern Oil Company, the First Securities of Los Angeles, with associates, undertook to underwrite a $7,500,000 issue of first mortgage bonds and a block of debentures. After negotiating for some time and undertaking an appraisal of the properties, the First Securities Company about three weeks ago announced its withdrawal, stating that the sale of the bonds had been indefinitely postponed until certain representations made had been verified.

Later representatives of the First Securities on the board of the California Eastern resigned, and former United States Senator Frank P. Flint assumed the chairmanship of the board and the executive vice-presidency. The sale of the bonds and debentures fas abandoned, and the only new capital was provided by the sale of the 100,000 shares of California Eastern to S. C. Lewis at $10 a share.

Julian preferred sold on Wednesday at a new low of 1 1-8, and closed yesterday at 2 7-8. In 1926 the stock sold at a high of 35 1-4.

Effort to Show 'Love Motive' Planned for Kelly Trial

Medical Testimony Looms as Important Factor

Surprise witnesses will be called by the prosecution at the trial next week of Paul Kelly, Hollywood cinema actor, to show motive for his attack on Ray Raymond, musical-comedy star, for whose murder he will face a jury in Superior Judge Burnell's court, according to Dep. Dist.-Attys. Murray and Kemp yesterday.

While the names of the witnesses were withheld by the prosecutors it was learned that some of them were members of a play in which Miss Dorothy Mackaye, stage actress and widow of Raymond, played a prominent role. It will be the contention of the State at the forthcoming murder trial that the fistic attack of Kelly upon Raymond was provoked by the film actor's attentions to Miss Mackaye.

It was learned these witnesses will be called upon by the prosecution to give testimony concerning Miss Mackaye's departure for the north several months ago with her company when Kelly is said to have escorted her to the station where a display of affection between the actress and the accused man is said to have taken place. This line of testimony, Mr. Murray and Mr. Kemp said, is to be introduced in an effort to show a "love motive."

WIDOW'S STATEMENTS

In statements to the authorities Miss Mackaye denied there was a love affair between herself and Kelly but admitted a deep friendship for him.

On the other hand Kelly made statements to the police in which he avowed his love for Miss Mackaye and when asked whether he ever hoped to marry her his reply was: "We'll wait and see."

Medical testimony is also expected to play an important part at the trial, in view of reports that part of Kelly's defense will be that Raymond died from natural causes and that whatever injuries he might have received in the fistic fight had nothing to do with his death. It is expected that several prominent physicians will be called by the prosecution as experts to bear out the assertions that Raymond's death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage from a blow struck by Kelly.

County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner reported this as the cause of death after a post-mortem examination, and portions of his testimony at the trial are expected to be of a sensational nature, it was said.

ATTORNEY SOUGHT

In preparation for the presentation of evidence in Judge Burnell's court at 2 p.m. Monday, when the trial is scheduled to start, Mr. Murray and Mr. Kemp yesterday ordered a search for an attorney named A. J. Callaghan, who was called by Raymond after his encounter with Kelly.

Yesterday the two prosecutors also requestioned Miss Ethel Lee, negro housekeeper of the Raymonds for two years, who was an eyewitness to the fight, and who declared Kelly was the aggressor at all times, and that Raymond pleaded with him not to hit him because he was in ill health and in no condition to defend himself. She is to be one of the star witnesses at the trial, they said.

Callaghan was sought for questioning in an effort to bolster the testimony of other witnesses concerning the condition of Raymond following Kelly's attack. It was said Callahan was a close friend of Raymond and went to the house to see him immediately after he is said to have heard of the encounter.

Investigators conducted a search yesterday for Callahan in Orange county and at Santa Barbara, but were unable to find trace of him.

GUEST FOR "JUNGLE"

Meanwhile, investigators working under Ben Cohen, chief of the District Attorney's detective staff, continued search for "Jungle" a Japanese house boy, formerly employed by Kelly who disappeared from Kelly's home the morning following the battle.

Although the Japanese left a note to Kelly saying he was returning to the Orient Cohen's investigators believe he is still in the vicinity of Los Angeles and have hopes of locating him before the trial.

Two other witnesses to whom Raymond is said to have given his side of his marital difficulties and the details of his encounter with Kelly are Mr. and Mrs. Perry Askom, 1919 Curson avenue, Hollywood, who visited him the night of the fight. Askom was a member of the cast of "Castles in the Air," the last musical comedy in which Raymond made an appearance.

Miss Mackaye and Dr. W. J. Sullivan, who attended Raymond, are also to appear before Judge Burnell at 10 a.m. Monday, the time fixed for them to enter their pleas.

The actress, who is at liberty on $5000 bail, probably will face Kelly for the first time since his arrest, inasmuch as she is under subpoena as a State's witness. Dr. Sullivan has also been summoned to give testimony against Kelly, but whether his attorney and counsel for Miss Mackaye will order them to stand on their constitutional rights and refuse to testify because of the charges pending against them had not been announced.

Kelly will go to trial defended by Attorney W. I. Gilbert, while Dr. Sullivan is represented by Thomas P. White, and Miss Mackaye by Jerry Geisler and Robert Marchetti.

MOTHERS TO BE HONORED

Day Held Sacred by Millions Will Be Observed at Churches of City Tomorrow

When life in human form shall cease to be considered sacred and murder is no more the crime of crimes, then motherhood shall lose its sanctity in the eyes of a people depraved. That such a time shall ever come is as unthinkable as that virtue and faith should die or that the sense of beauty and the love of truth should forsake the mind of man.

Motherhood is still the most profound and glorious mystery of life, made more profound and still more glorious through the advent of Him who, although born of a woman, revealed to humanity the attributes of divinity and thrilled the world with light and life transcendent. Throughout Christendom tomorrow Mothers' Day will be observed in millions of churches and homes, and Los Angeles will celebrate the day with fitting programs of sermons and songs. Those whose mothers are still on earth will wear red carnations in honor of their presence, while white carnations will be worn in memory of the sainted ones who have found their peace in God.

"THE MOTHER SOUL"

"The Soul of Mother and the Mother Soul" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. E. E. Helms tomorrow morning at the First Methodist Church, following the singing by choir and congregation of old-time songs, including "Tell Mother I'll be There." In the evening, following a program by the Los Angeles Boys Scout Band, an address will be given by Bishop Francis W. Warren from India.

"HANDMAID OF GOD"

"The Greatest Crime of Which Christendom is Guilty" will be discussed by Dr. M. Howard Fagan tomorrow evening at the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church. At the morning hour a Mother's Day program will be given and Dr. Fagan will preach on "The Handmaid of the Lord."

Motorists may go to La Crescenta by Glendale and Montrose, then turn left on Honolulu avenue (which becomes Pennsylvania avenue) and continue to the end of the road. CHAMPION OF FREEDOM

Richard Henry Lee, patriot and statesman, and one of the notable orators of his time, was born on January 20, 1732, in Stratford, Va. He was educated in England, but in 1752 he returned to Virginia where he became prominent in public affairs and was elected to the House of Burgesses. In 1773 he became a member of the committee of correspondence chosen to communicate with the other colonies, and in 1774 he was a delegate from Virginia to the first Continental Congress. There he attracted attention by his eloquence and drafted the petition to the king. In the second Congress he prepared the address to the people of Great Britain. Both of these documents are remarkable state papers.

On June 7, 1776, Lee moved "that these united colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown and that all connection between them and the states of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved." Lee was in the Virginia Legislature from 1780 until 1784. In the latter year he was chosen president of Congress, in 1786 was again a member of the Legislature, and in 1787 also sat in Congress. Upon the adoption of the Federal Constitution, to which he was opposed, he was elected one of Virginia's first two members of the United States Senate, and there remained until his resignation in 1792. He died in Chantilly, Va., on June 19, 1794.—[Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

GREEK AUTHOR'S ODD TRIALS

Lipogrammatic works, the product of the early Greek authors, are those books in which one letter of the alphabet is omitted throughout the volume. Tryphiodorus, when writing his Odyssey, had not an "a" in his first book, nor a "b" in his second. In so doing he was but copying the Lipogrammatic Iliad of Nestor.

Athenaeus writes of an ode by Pindar in which the latter purposely omitted the letter "s," thereby leading us to surmise that this little hoax was one of the literary fashions of the day. A Parsian poet once read to the celebrated Jami one of his own compositions with the letter Alif consistently omitted throughout. Jami, who did not care for the sonnet, sarcastically made the following recommendation: "You can do a better thing yet, take away all the letters from every word you have written."

Although the Greeks originated this ingeniously literary device, its use was by no means exclusive with them. Lope de Vega, the celebrated Spanish dramatic poet of the sixteenth century, Gregorio Letti, and at a much later day, Lord North of the court of James I, all employed this literary device and produced lipogrammatic books.—[Market for Exchange.

NO BRIMSTONE ALLOWED

A sixteenth century manuscript contains some curious directions for the household of King Henry VIII. "His highness' baker shall not put alum in the bread, or mix rye, oaten or bean flour with the wheat, if detected, shall be put in the pillory. His highness' almoner shall not steal any tables, cupboards or furniture from houses where he goes to visit.

"Master cooks shall not overboil scullions so as to cause them to die; nor shall they, in the middle of the night before the king's dinner, cause dogs shall be allowed to eat more than a few spaniels for their share. The barber is enjoined to keep his razors There shall be no more than three maids on the pleasure barge, and they be tried by the queen's physician. Lady Mary's chamberlain and her dwarf are not to pee in her soup. Twenty-four hounds shall be allowed for his highness' hounds."—[Boston Transcript.

Go To Church Sunday

Why You Should Go To Church

By Rev. Wm. C. Hodgson—University Methodist Episcopal Church

Rev. Wm. C. Hodgson, Pastor University Methodist Episcopal Church

Mothers and daughters will attend church today. Fathers and sons should be there too. The service will help any man or boy, whether he wear a red carnation or a white one. It will make his own mother more precious to him; it will intensify his love for the mother of his own children; it will attach his heart more closely to his daughter who is a mother; it will give him a higher regard for all women who have brought children into the world. The songs, the lesson and the tribute to mothers will increase his love for the church which honors motherhood, and for the religion which strengthens mothers, and for the Good God who has made such mysterious and wonderful provision for birth and care in infancy. The love most nearly like the love of the Good Father is mother love.

Honor all mothers and benefit yourself, my brother, by attending church today.

To Our Friends:

Mother Love is one of the deepest, highest things in this Universe—people have difficulty following this or that in the creeds. The thing that makes me believe in God more than anything else is the way He has gotten into our human nature to love. Where did all this gift of love in nature and human nature proceed from? There is certainly something more than the mere resultant of an aggregate of chemical substances. Our service on Sunday morning will dwell on Mother Love.

To invite all the friends of Dr. Frederick Warde, the beloved actor, to come and see him and hear him in this final appearance before he leaves for his famous ostrich. It will be a great service.

Cordially yours, FRANK DYER.

The Pastor, Dr. M. E. Dodd, will speak briefly on "Religion in the Home." The Choir will sing "Home, Sweet Home."

The great question for today is whether or not the American people have sufficient intelligence and sufficient moral and spiritual vitality to save the high ideals of the original American home life while undergoing the great changes of modern life.

Sheriff Traeger stated to a small group of influential citizens whom he invited to breakfast one morning last week that in 1925 he registered 12,000 prisoners in the county jail, 41% of whom were under 25 years of age. In 1926 he registered 14,000, 45% of whom were under 25 years of age. Who is responsible for the great increase of juvenile crime today? Some say lax law administration. Some say the movies. Some say bad literature. Some say the lack of proper home influence. What do you say? Hear Mrs. Tuttle and Dr. Dodd in the Philharmonic Auditorium, Sunday night on what they say.

THE WICKED FLEA

They say that the latest gold rush in South Africa is being halted by fleas. It is hard for a man to hunt wealth and cooties at the same time.

TAKING RISKS

Anyhow, bootleggers are being denied accident insurance in Chicago. Maybe their women will make them follow some less hazardous occupation.

VERSE AND PROS

The magazines are publishing quite a bit of poetry by the new French Ambassador. May he always give us verse instead of pros—and cons.

POOR ECONOMY

Among the "economy runs" for which motor cars are most used are runs from one community to another when one's credit is exhausted in the first.

EXPECTETH NOTHING

The only difference between the farmer and the average city man is that the latter has been needing relief for so long that he's quit hollering about it.

OR BEANED

The fellow who recklessly runs up bills and then says: "You can't get blood out of a turnip" deserves to be shown that a turnip can be very effectively squashed.

MISPLACED STRENGTH

It can't be done and we oughtn't to blame it all on the rising generation. The simple fact is that too many parents try to make up for habitual weakness of character by occasional strongness of voice.

BARGAINS IN WIVES

A man in Budapest has been arrested and imprisoned for selling his wife to a neighbor for $26. Maybe he was charged with extortion. Some say he got the top of the market—for the pests of Budapest.

HIDING HIS TALENTS

A Cleveland street-car conductor has complained to the police of that city because a woman passenger persists in making love to him every time he collects her ticket. Just think what he could do at the wheel of an eight-cylinder gas wagon!

CLAMPING ON THE LID

There are still a few days remaining in which to continue the effort to make last year's straw hat look like a new one before the open season on 1927 hay Kelleys begins, May 13. But after that it will be easy to see the difference.

MONEY IN OIL

Germans are now buying more paintings in the London galleries than are American patrons. Perhaps they will realize that investments in the old masters are usually profitable. Pictures increase in value with age—if they start right. There has always been money in oil.

FEW ARE CHOSEN

Some one said that "the printed word never dies." But that was said before such a gosh-awful lot of words were printed. Nowadays it often is distressing, but sometimes comforting, to reflect that even such a bunch of printed words as "Elmer Gantry" will some day be dead as "Titus Andronicus."

PET PETTING

We aren't sure just how much it accomplished. But we can recall the days when the rural W.C.T.U. hardly ever met without hearing the impassioned recitation, "The Lips That Touch Liquor Shall Never Touch Mine." And it does look as if the time has arrived for some brutal man to write "The Lips That Touch Poodles' Shall Never Touch Mine."

PARDON AND PAROLE

The parole board in Illinois has asked for an appropriation of $3,000,000 from the State Legislature—which is more than ten times as great as the normal allowance. It appears that the parole violations in Illinois run nearly as high as 50 per cent of those who are favored. It will take a lot of money to keep them under observation and correct their transgressions. Under the circumstances it would seem that the parole system is a delusion.

STILL SMOKING

The oldest woman in Oklahoma is about to celebrate her 106th birthday and the upstanding feature of her career appears to be the fact that she has smoked regularly for more than eighty years. The most suffering she had in that time was on the two occasions in which she sought to throw off her slavery to the habit. She will never swear off again. She does not think much of cigarettes, at that, and her devotion to the weed has been invariably expressed through her pipe. She is still smoking—although she refuses to be listed as a ruin.

AMERICA NO CATSPAW

Disappointed by the British failure to drag America any further into the Chinese imbroglio than it cares to go, the London press is saying some unkind things about our foreign policy which it professes to regard as not only lacking in the true spirit of international co-operation, but as being of a two-faced and selfish nature.

Washington, so the cabled leaders say, is blocking London in seeking reprisals for the Nanking outrages, and our government is blamed for the delay of the powers in their proposed punitive action. Our hands-off policy in China is pointed out as inconsistent with our action of intervention in Nicaragua. We are charged by the London newspapers with having two diplomatic policies—one that furthers our direct trade interests in Latin America and one that quietly lets slip our more remote business and other concerns in the Orient. Our vested rights in Mexico, so they say, are dearer to us than our vested rights in China, and they would have us believe that they are puzzled as to the difference. How can we reconcile our two policies?

Easily enough. Tradition, though it is not so dear to our hearts as it is to the English, must always count largely in our dealings with foreign countries. We have a traditional diplomacy for China, which always allows for the oriental view, and we have another for Latin America, which, though equally generous, always must comply with our time-honored maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine.

British diplomats know this well enough. They know that for us to intervene in Nicaragua was but the logical following out of our long-upheld theory of keeping peace in Latin America as far as possible and not only taking the burden of policing that part of the world off the shoulders of European powers, but to give them to understand that we consider it our job and desire no help nor interference on their part in our self-constituted task.

The most gentle and subtle, but at the same time forceful, criticism of our Chinese policy is expressed by the London Times, which says, after a half-column of carefully worded preamble, that "the British people with the greatest desire to enter into the spirit of a friendly nation, find it very difficult to understand the official American point of view." This is mere piffle. All intelligent Britishers understand it well enough. On the other hand, the British policy in China is or should be as easily understood by discerning Americans. It is a policy of exploitation, and included in it is the idea of using America as a catspaw for British diplomacy. John Balderston, an American correspondent in London, says it is the British intention to act with vigor against the Nationalists, largely to strengthen British prestige in India.

But, while professing to hold this country responsible for the inaction of the powers in China and seeming to chafe over the delay in our getting in line with them in some program of intervention, it is readily seen that, so far as the British forces in China are concerned, they should be, and perhaps secretly are, grateful to us for holding off, as they are uncertain as to Gen. Chiang's intentions and power. If he defeats the Communists and forms a government with which Britain can negotiate, then the powers can make some sort of terms with China and the Nanking reparations probably will be forthcoming. But should the Communists gain the upper hand the situation will become more difficult.

Britain should be extremely glad of being given the breathing space afforded by our attitude in the matter. In this respect we are helping it more than it is willing to admit, even if we continue to refuse to serve as its catspaw in China.

SIX YEARS OF SERVICE

The new Board of Education, which will take office after the June election, will do all the most exacting critic could ask of it if it equals the record of the board that has served the city for the last four years. And that record is largely due to the unflagging energy, public spirit and broad-gauge efficiency of its retiring president, Robert E. Odell.

Six years ago Mr. Odell was first elected to the board and for four years he has presided over its deliberations and activities for the betterment of our Los Angeles schools. He leaves the board with the splendid score to its credit of having made our educational system in this city one acknowledged to have no superior in the whole United States.

Not without struggle, hard work and a conscientious devotion to duty was this result achieved. In the last six years the needs of the children have grown even more rapidly than the needs of the city at large and to meet the increasing demand for school accommodation, sufficient and suitable supplies and equipment and to provide a staff of competent teachers and officials has been a job for a strong caliber, four-square man of affairs.

Our city was fortunate in procuring the services of such a practical idealist as Mr. Odell during the onerous period through which the development of our school system has just been passing. The Board of Education has had to take care of a $40,000,000 building program to meet our educational demands and it is to their credit that the taxpayers received 100 cents in value for every dollar of money expended on new school structures.

In 1922 and 1923 the radicals and Socialists made a determined attack on our school system and even attempted, in a rough way, to "sovietize" the teachers. It was then that Mr. Odell sent forth the now famous slogan, "Keep politics out of the schools;" it was the close co-operation of the board and its president that rendered the slogan effective. The soundness of this American program was fittingly proven by the results of the late May primary and the popular indorsement of the candidates approved by the Citizens' School Committee.

It was with extreme regret that our people heard of Mr. Odell's resolution, through the pressure of his business affairs, to retire from the board at the conclusion of his term of office. We have too few men as capable and as devoted as he, willing to serve the public as he has served it. His friends and associates all hope that at some future time he will again be able to give the city the benefit of his sturdy qualities and tested experience.

NATION OF CARS

We may not have any outstanding national flower. But this country well might be represented as a car-nation.

Heed the Call

[Protected by George Matthew Adams.]

MUSIC WEEK

This is well chosen as Music Week. May and music should be synonymous, as nature at this time seems to burst forth anew in a rhapsody of melody and harmony.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the value and power of music. Longfellow termed it the universal language of mankind. It probably was one of mankind's first expressions of emotion. Both Spencer and Huxley agree that emotional music had its beginning in an imitation of nature, such as bird songs. Even prehistoric man had his music. Flutes of reindeer horn and metal horns of the Bronze Age testify to this.

While music in its beginning was essentially emotional, it is today regarded as one of the noblest of arts. It appeals to the intellect because of its educational value. It is one of the purest arts and, according to Montesquieu, is the only art which cannot corrupt the mind. Music is and should be with us every living hour. By it man is capable of expressing the height of his joy and the depth of his despair. The new-born child is lulled into slumber by the song of its mother and age is ushered into the great beyond with music as an accompaniment.

Music, considered as the most abstract of arts, is one of the few capable of being comprehended by a child. A child sings before he can talk or walk. To foster this tendency, present with nearly every child, would in time make us a nation of music lovers and place us on a higher intellectual plane as adults. The musical education of a child should begin in the cradle, according to many authorities. A child should be encouraged, for by expressing itself in terms of music it becomes a creator. Good music in a home is nearly as essential as good food; it is food for the intellect.

Now and then some cynic attempts to tear down the structure built around music by pointing out some phase of it not as admirable as another. But any harm in music lies in vulgar words and not in a melody, even if it is rag-time or jazz.

PHOTOGRAPHS AS NEWS

A development of the twentieth century, with its roots in the nineteenth, is the general recognition of the fact that reproductions of photographs are news of practically equal rank with verbal matter. In fulfilling its obligation to the public of presenting fairly, and as fully as practicable, a daily record of current events, a newspaper, therefore, finds it necessary to give due attention to the pictorial side. Frequently a picture conveys more information than columns of description, and is thus a time and space saver for a busy world.

Everywhere the reporter goes nowadays he is welcomed or treated with courtesy or at least with respect, according to the nature of his mission. His function as the eyes and ears of the sovereign people opens barred doors and unlocks gates. His presence on any occasion of public interest is expected. The photographer's role is not different, but for some reason unexplainable in law or logic he has been slower in winning his due recognition.

Some backward minds appear to draw a distinction, with the result that news photographers are occasionally hampered in their work by self-constituted guardians of a privacy which has no legitimate existence. Perhaps it is because the photographer necessarily makes himself more conspicuous. The nature of his work is such that it draw attention. Those who have something they wish to hide are understandable when they resent his presence, but there is neither explanation nor excuse for the others who resort to verbal abuse, attempts to destroy cameras and even assault. Sometimes such curiously constituted persons do not even have a personal interest in the matter.

When they succeed in their harassing efforts these operate to deprive the millions of the reading public of its right to a graphic record, which in some cases at least is of the first importance.

OFFENSIVE TEARS

A Los Angeles man has just been granted a divorce from a woman who wept too much. According to her anguished spouse, an ordinary hanky did not suffice to mop up her flow of tears, so the lachrymose lady was wont to use a towel instead. She would start to weep and keep it up for hours, with the result that the unfortunate husband became a nervous wreck from listening to her sobs.

This woman must have been what the biologists term a reversion to type. In the good old days loose lachrymose glands were considered essential to the feminine sex and, indeed, their most potent weapon against the tyrannical male. Every well-brought-up damsel could weep as readily as she could faint, and this was considered a pretty indication of her fragility and charm. All of the older novels show us how the stern husband became all tender concern and sympathy as soon as the weaker partner began to moan.

How far we have veered away from this condition is shown by the fact that in 1927 an unreasoning flood of tears is offered as a cause for legal separation. Far from being put out by her pretty pouts and pensive tears, the husband got out with all possible expedition.

The modern woman is not supposed to cry unless she has a real grief. If she must shed a few tears to relieve her pent-up feelings she should do it in some private nook where her unfeminine weakness will not be observed and commented upon scornfully. Now that the gentle sex has achieved legal freedom, as well as the physical freedom that comes from shedding trammeling garments and long, flowing locks, it is no longer necessary to resort to sobs to have her own way. The modern husband is usually meek and long-suffering to a degree that would have amazed his progenitors, but he is apt to resent his partner resorting to such unfair tactics as tears. It is beneath the dignity of a sex that has the strength to swim English channels or stay up all night dancing. The day of the timorous, coquettish damsel is spent. Tears have been relegated to the past, along with blushes, unless these latter originate in the drug store.

LINES TO AN APPLE
By James J. Montague

With rosy cheek and rounded form
You seem as meek and mild
And free from inward stress or storm
As is a sleeping child.
Yet 'neath your glowing cheek is hid
The seed of woe and strife,
For well we know what once you did
To Adam and his wife.

When from the leaf-embowered limb
You finally cast loose,
And men of aspect dour and grim
Extract your subtle juice
And feed it through a boiling still
To peddle in the mart,
Look inoffensive as you will,
We read your evil heart!

For from the south wind's fragrant breath
The makings do you draw
Of battle, murder, sudden death,
And fracture of the law.
And in your pulp do you entrap
While hanging from the tree
And hold, in escrow, in your sap
A liquid TNT.

Ah! radiance, color, contour, form,
All these rare charms you hold.
Of beauty you are quite the form,
The pattern and the mold.
But when the orchardist stews out
The devil in your heart
And gaily peddles it about,
Good Gosh! What you can start!

LITTLE HIRAM JOHNSON
(With apologies to James Whitcomb Riley)

Little Hiram Johnson's come to our yard to play.
To chase the hants and catch the ghosts and shoo the spooks away;
He shows us pictures we can't see inside a crystal ball
And hides a pea beneath a shell—and it's not there at all;
And he can puff a pipe and blow out smoke in funny rings
And find a rabbit in your hat—
and do the mostest things;
Then, hist!—he tells us—watch your step—the bogeyman's about,
And the power trust will git you if you don't watch out!

Then little Hiram with a stick draws figures in the dust,
And tells us dreeful, orful tales about this power trust;
As how, with little children's bones, his ugly teeth he picks,
And sometimes he is nine feet tall and sometimes only six;
Then Hiram draws his wooden sword and chops and cuts the air,
And, though we don't see anything,
we know the goblin's there;
Oh, how we hope that little Hi will put the foe to rout!
For the power trust will git us if we don't watch out!

When little Hiram goes away we shudder with affright
And dream of goblins, ghosts and spooks a-prowling 'round at night;
For we can't do the magic tricks
like little Hiram can,
And when we hear the wind we cry, here comes the bogey man!
And call for Hiram to come back and draw his wooden sword—
For what can little children do when goblins are abroad?—
And so we hope he'll soon return because, beyond a doubt,
The power trust will git us if we don't watch out!

MOVING PICTURES 7000 YEARS AGO

Edison himself has said that most of his inventions are the development of the ideas of some one who had preceded him and now some one comes forth with the statement that the real origin of the moving picture dates back to China 7000 years ago. The Chinese, in 5000 B.C., had their equivalent of our "pictures" in their "shadow shows." They made figures of wax, exquisitely modeled and dressed, a few inches in height, and flung the shadows from these on buffalo skin rendered transparent. Moving pictures thrown on a screen.

A set can be seen in the Science Museum, South Kensington. It forms part of an interesting collection of "cinema relics" gathered together by Mr. W. Day and loaned by him to the museum. These relics tell the tale in full of motion-picture development.

A FLOATING NAVAL MUSEUM

When the work of reconditioning the old frigate Constitution shall have been completed it is contemplated that the boat will be turned into a floating naval museum. It is hoped to arrange to have all relics of her period of great service—such as are now at the disposal of the Federal authorities—collected and put aboard for exhibition purposes. It is known that many relics of the early days of the ship's history have come into possession of individuals who would be glad to place them in truer with the government for such a purpose. To these would be added old prints, letters, weapons and other material available to make the "ship that was a navy" a floating monument to all who served on her, as well as the repository of a valuable collection of historical data and an object of patriotic veneration for the country at large.

Buildings Damaged by White Ants

White ants cause so much damage to timber in some cities of the Pacific Coast that it has been proposed to provide in building codet regulations to combat the insects. Under the new codes no untreated woodwork would come in contact with the ground and other timber would have application of proper chemicals.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Forests and Climate

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is rather a feeble and worn-out expression to say that I was shocked to read Dr. Moore's letter in The Times this morning commenting upon George L. Barnes's address to the Green Cross April 19th. I really cannot understand why a man occupying a place in the public eye should gratuitously attack a great movement. The obvious corollary from Dr. Moore's letter is "Go ahead and cut down all the forest as fast as you can; it makes no difference."

Hidebound slavery to statistics could hardly produce a more amazing conclusion than that which the good doctor has offered to us. He is probably right on one point, namely, as to the effect upon rainfall of the cutting away of the forests. The conclusion was reached by the engineers of the Civil Service of India that the amount of rain falling upon denuded mountain areas was not appreciably affected by the destruction of the forests. However, this is still a moot point and I would refer you to the investigations of Mr. Wendall P. Hogs, assistant astronomer at Mt. Wilson Observatory, which were published in a report made by the writer and Mr. Hawgood to the Board of Supervisors of this county regarding maximum flood possibilities from the San Gabriel watershed, at page seventy-nine thereof.

But that is not the question at all. The real question is "what effect has a growth of trees or brush on a mountain watershed upon the rate of run-off?" Dr. Moore asserts "that burned-over forest areas have not increased floods in the remotest degree." There I must take issue with him at any rate so far as our Southern California watersheds are concerned. This is not a very abstruse question or one upon which the ordinary level-headed man cannot form an opinion just as good as the so-called expert.

One has but to turn the water from a hose, first so that it flows down the cement walk through the lawn and second so that it flows through the grass of the lawn itself to get a striking object lesson as to the effect of surface growth upon the rate of run-off. Simple as this experiment may seem, it is the exact counterpart of what takes place in our mountains in a rainstorm. If we have bare rock or bare mountain slopes to receive the rain the water will rush off the slopes just as it does off the cement walk in front of the house. Allowance, of course, must be made for the rough conditions of nature as compared with the perfect conditions produced by man, but the principle is exactly the same. The greater the amount of vegetal growth we have upon the mountains the greater the retardation of the run-off and, ipso facto, the less danger of the accumulation of waters in the main river channels, that is to say, the less danger there is of floods.

In the winter of 1920 the writer was fortunate enough to be in the mountains north of the town of San Fernando while a heavy rain was falling. A large area of these mountains had been completely denuded of every vestige of vegetal growth in the fires of the previous summer and the channels draining such denuded areas were filled with raging, turbid torrents sweeping sand, gravel, ashes and boulders down upon the valley lands. But on adjoining areas, that had escaped the fire, the heavy storm had produced nothing more than a moderate stream of practically clear water in the drainage channels. A visit to the same areas in the early summer revealed that the water courses of the fire-swept areas were bone dry; those of the brush-protected areas were still running fair-sized streams.

Not So Gullible

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The writer has listened to many subtle propagandists during the last ten months and has found without exception that the speakers all work to the same end. The lecture consists of a passionate or a humorous arraignment of the colossal ignorance of the American public on international affairs.

The actual fact is that we are the best-informed people in the world on international matters, if we care to read the columns devoted to such subjects. Any traveler in Europe will verify the fact that foreign newspapers are chary about giving their readers important developments on international affairs. We are so frankly undiplomatic that we suppose it is the nation's inherent right to be fully informed as soon, if not sooner, than the government on all matters of international importance. The Associated Press is a reliable source of information for all shades of political opinion. We are gradually becoming a discerning people and the "yellows" appeal to none but the gullible.

Tunnel Protested

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a property owner on West First street whose property will be damaged by the proposed tunnel from Hill street to Figueroa street, which plan has recently been approved by the Los Angeles City Council, upon the recommendation of the City Engineer, I wish to protest against said tunnel and would ask to be informed of the reason for such an expenditure of public funds which seemingly is uncalled for.

VITAPHONE SCENES IN FILM

Jessel Comes to Do "Jazz Singer" With Talkies; Ford Makes "Hangman's House" Before Foreign Film; Handsome Foreign Pulse-Bounders Arrive

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The first Vitaphone production to be made in Hollywood will be started within ten days, announced Jack L. Warner yesterday. George Jessel, who will co-star with May McAvoy in the screen version of his stage success, "The Jazz Singer," is to leave New York on Monday, and will arrive in Hollywood several days later to begin work at once.

"The Jazz Singer" will be a unique production, inasmuch as it will be the first picture to have complete scenes transposed to the screen with Vitaphonic interpretation of the actors' voices. The complete picture will not be Vitaphoned; only those portions of it showing the Hebrew players in the synagogue and others surrounding Jessel's appearance as a vaudeville singer of jazz songs.

This new undertaking will be made possible by the completion of the Vitaphone laboratories, which have been under progress for the past six months under Maj. Levinson's direction.

Jessel's arrival is awaited with great anticipation in Hollywood, as the star made himself immediately a favorite on his appearance here last year to make "Private Izzy Murphy."

"The Jazz Singer" will be directed by Alan Crosland from the screen adaptation by Al Cohn. Samuel Raphaelson wrote the stage play in which Jessel scored in the East for two years successively.

At present the Warners and Crosland are concentrating on efforts to find the proper actor to interpret the very important role of Jessel's father, a Jewish cantor of the old school.

Jack Ford's Plans

It is likely that John Ford will begin and complete another picture for Fox before completing "Grandma Bernle Learns Her Letters," scenes for the latter of which will be made while abroad.

The new story is "Hangman's House," by Donn Byrne, and the scenario is being completed at present.

While in Europe, Ford worked in the Austrian Tyrol, photographing exteriors in preparation for "Grandma Bernle," but work is delayed until the best cast available can be secured for the picture, with two or three characters hard to cast.

May McAvoy in Banks's Story

There is every chance from present indications that when that youthful genius's, Polan Banks's, story, "Black Ivory" goes into production at the Warner Brothers studio, May McAvoy will be the beautiful heroine.

MAY McAVOY

No definite assignment has yet been made, but it is understood that Miss McAvoy will probably have the role.

Ivan Lebedeff Among Us

It is quite possible that you have never heard of Ivan Lebedeff, that is, unless you take a few foreign papers. Lebedeff is an European actor who has played both on stage and screen in Russia, Germany and other countries.

Now he has arrived among us to appear in pictures. It is on the cards, according to report, that he will sign a contract with Cecil B. De Mille when the director returns from his New York trip.

John Boles Loaned

Through the courtesy of Gloria Swanson Productions, Inc., to whom he is under contract, John Boles has been signed by the Fox Films Corporation for a featured role in "Prince Fazil," with Greta Nissen and Charles Farrell.

Boles will do a suave English type in the Fox picture, which is now in production under the direction of Howard Hawks, and the role is expected materially to heighten his bid for screen popularity.

The athletic Boles is regarded as having received one of the most fortunate breaks in recent motion-picture history. Miss Swanson and her director, Albert Parker, first saw him on the musical comedy stage while making a tour of the shows in New York.

Boles will appear as Miss Swanson's leading man in her first independent production as an ownership member of United Artists, i. e., "The Loves of Sunya," which is scheduled to have its Los Angeles showing at the Criterion following the run of "Resurrection."

Speaking of Foreigners

But going back to the subject of these handsome foreigners—there is Valdemar Larsen who, as you will readily guess, from his name, is Danish, and who has just arrived in this country following a successful career on stage and screen in his native land.

VALDEMAR LARSEN

Larsen was a leading player of comedy drama roles on the Denmark stage, following his graduation at Oxford University, England. He appeared later in Nordic Films, his principal picture being "A Revolution Night."

Unbobbed Thelma Gets Contract

Girls who have bobbed their hair will sigh with regret when they hear about Thelma Todd, who has just been signed to a new contract by Paramount.

Miss Todd's flaxen blond locks reach almost to her shapely knees. In competition with her trimmed sisters she won the title of Miss Massachusetts in a Bay State beauty contest and shortly thereafter was admitted to the Paramount Picture School, from which she graduated with such distinguished honors that she was selected as leading woman for Ed Wynn in his last picture, "Rubber Heels."

Claire DeLorez Busy

Once more we hear from Claire DeLorez the good news that she is carrying on, bringing the light of American acting methods to the French screen.

CLAIRE DeLOREZ

Miss DeLorez has the star role in Maurice Tourneur's first European production, being made in Paris, the story of which is not yet named. Miss DeLorez recently completed "Morgans the Siren," directed by Leonce Perret, who directed Gloria Swanson in "Madame Sans Gene."

Perret is to begin his second production with Miss DeLorez as the star on June 26. The picture is to be made at the Rex Ingram studios in Nice, France.

Jack Luden's Next

Jack Luden is to have one more role in grooming for stardom before he becomes a Paramount luminary of the first order. He has been cast for a supporting role with Gary Cooper in "The Last Outlaw." After that he is to have a star printed on his dressing-room door and his own autographed chair on the set.

Fair Guests in Oakland

As guests of the West Coast Theaters Company, Dorothy Phillips and Virginia Brown Faire left last night for Oakland to attend the opening of the T. and D. Theater in the northern city.

The pair of stars will be featured at the theater tonight in a fashion reel showing the correct wear for all occasions. Following the motion-picture show a ball is to be given at the Oakland Hotel in honor of the film stars.

Gardner James in New Home

At last Honeymoon House is complete. Gardner James and his bride of a few months, who still retains her individuality under her writing name of Marion Constance Blackton, have located themselves in their mountain-top hacienda on Mulholland Drive.

A three-acre estate adjoining Ben Lyon, Reginald Barker, John Bowers, Clarence Badger and Jack McDermott, is the new residence of the Jamesons.

Commodore J. Stuart Blackton, Mrs. James's father, is erecting a palatial mansion opposite the James estate.

El Brendel In It

The light of El Brendel's Swedish countenance is to illumine yet another Paramount picture. This time it is "Ten Modern Commandments."

CITY HANGS UP NEW RECORD

Passport Activity in April Eclipses Past Marks for Month

Los Angeles has broken another record. Figures compiled yesterday by J. J. Cordes, passport clerk at the Federal Building, show that during the month of April, 795 persons were issued passports to foreign countries.

The number is by far the largest ever issued in Los Angeles and surpasses San Francisco's total for the month of April. So far this year, according to Cordes, more than 2200 passports have been issued.

Crime Satire Enters Final Week of Run

Louis O. Macloon announced last night that "Chicago," Maurine Watkins's murderous satire now in its tenth week at the Music Box, will close a week from tonight. Other important booking make it necessary to cut short the engagement of the current attraction, it was stated.

"Chicago" is one of the outstanding successes of the local theatrical season.

At the conclusion of the Los Angeles engagement, "Chicago" will reopen in San Francisco. After the engagement there Nancy Carroll will return to Los Angeles to begin rehearsals for "Hit the Deck," Vincent Youman's New York musical comedy hit which Louis O. Macloon will present at his Music Box Theater.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" OPENING TOMORROW

"Charley's Aunt," Brandon Thomas's farce, will be welcomed to Los Angeles at its premier performance by the Ruth Helen Davis Players at the Belmont Theater Sunday evening.

Many film people have already made reservations for the opening night, and Syd Chaplin, who recently starred in a film version of the comedy, may be present to witness the efforts of Franklin Pangborn in the title role of the "aunt."

Franklin Pangborn, Mia Marvin, Doris Mortlock, Elise Bernard, Phyllis Warde, Earle Hughes, Tudor Owen, Leonard Doyle and Montague Shaw comprise the cast of "Charley's Aunt."

YOUTH TRIUMPHS IN LOVE DRAMA

"Seventh Heaven" Sets Pace of Humanness

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell Conquer

Frank Borzage Victor as Director

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

It is youth's victory, and perhaps . . . who knows . . . it spells the dawn of a new era in the films.

This may be said of "Seventh Heaven," which was presented for a world premiere last night at the Carthay Circle Theater. It is a feature with the background of the war, but only a background. The rest is humanness burning brightly and beautifully upon the screen.

Janet Gaynor may be acclaimed a new and brilliant luminary of picturedom as a result of this first showing, and Frank Borzage proves once again his possession of a rare sentiment in the directorial interpretation of a poignant theme. While Charles Farrell discloses new and vivid promise in his portrayal.

Of course, there was "Seventh Heaven," the stage play. Many doubtless remember this for a hysterical performance by Helen Menken, and interest, though of the hokumish type.

The picture version elevates and ennobles, if anything, the character of the original. At least, it is more reserved, and if there are touches of the original hokum, they are swept aside eventually by the feeling that wells up to the surface as the romance of a little Parision waif and the boastful young sewer rat who is her protector unfolds.

In many ways the first showing of "Seventh Heaven" was a curious event in filmdom. Not to say that it was different from most openings in the nature of the thrill that always accompanies these affairs. There was, in fact, an unusually representative audience on this occasion.

The striking circumstances concerned the film itself. Notable among these was the fact that a surprising number of the players in leading roles were virtually unknown.

Miss Gaynor, of course, has never been seen at any of the larger first-run theaters here, although her work has already been much heralded. Charles Farrell is known chiefly—perhaps only—through "Old Ironsides."

The most familiar names in the cast were those of Gladys Brockwell and David Butler, cast, respectively, as Diane's sister, a role of intense bitterness and cruelty, and David Butler, who appeared in the comedy part of Gobin, the street-cleaner.

Miss Gaynor's case is nothing short of sensational. Judging by the effect that she had upon the audience last night she will, in this picture, create a niche for herself so permanent and definite that her future may hardly be foretold.

There are faults in her work, to be sure. One could hardly fail to anticipate them in the case of a girl who is still a novice in the profession if there ever was one. There were moments of overacting here and there, but for these she cannot be entirely blamed.

It is as a personality that Miss Gaynor stands out clearly and definitely. More than any other of the new film children she tugs terrifically at the heart strings. She has accomplished what many actresses strive for ages for—a perfect blending of the smile and the tear.

To say that the role of Diane is ideal for her is to tell a great part of the story of her probable success. Many a girl in pictures longed to do this part. It is fortunate for Miss Gaynor that it was the part that introduces her to the public, because it presents her in a supremely sympathetic light. Much luck goes into any success, but I question whether anyone could have been more aptly or satisfactorily selected, and this goes to prove the perfection to which casting of pictures is being carried in this day and age.

In all this I am not ignoring Farrell's remarkable work as Chico. He catches the bravado of the character to an amazing degree. There were just a few moments when he wavered from a perfect portrayal, but his impersonation was a tremendous hit.

Farrell even received more prolonged applause during the introduction of the players than did Miss Gaynor, though this might partly be explained by the quality of the role itself, which naturally attracts popular acclaim. The comedy values in his performance were notable, and he achieves a true characterization.

David Butler has seldom enjoyed so ample an opportunity of late than in the mustached role of the Paris street-cleaner. It was a thoroughly amusing interpretation, good for many laughs.

Miss Brockwell, Albert Gran as Papa Boul, George Stone as the Rat were especially good. Others included Ben Bard, Marie Mosquini, Emil Chautard, Brandon Hurst, Jessie Haslett and Lillian West.

Borzage has directed "Seventh Heaven" with fine sympathy, and a discriminating realisation of its better dramatic values. The picture is not so forceful in the second part as in the first, although the final scenes are very affecting. The scene of the parting of Diane and Chico is, however, momentous. Handkerchiefs were much in evidence among the audience members during the many tearful sequences.

The prologue staged by Jack Laughlin is very animate and colorful, with a contortionist dancer the star. It is carnivalesque in idea, but takes second place in interest to the picture on this occasion. The music accompanying the film rendered by Carli Elinor is, as usual, satisfying.

Two Events Will Mark Run of "Alias Deacon"

The 150th performance of "Alias the Deacon" at the Hollywood Play House will be celebrated Monday night. Berton Churchill, starring, and Frances Underwood, the leading lady, will be honored on this occasion. Souvenirs, in the form of ash-trays surmounted by a figure of the Deacon, the role played by Churchill, will be given to every one attending the performance. Gloria Gordon, who plays Mrs. Gregory in "Alias the Deacon," designed the souvenirs especially.

"Alias the Deacon" has just a little over two weeks to run. An extra performance will be held Sunday afternoon and the entire proceeds will be given to the Mississippi flood sufferers. The cast, the stage crew, and the whole personnel of the theater will donate their services for this extra matinee.

"A MILLION BID" OPENS

It's getting so that ocean travel isn't safe any more—not in the movies, at any rate. Each of the last two Warner Brothers' pictures shown at the Uptown has taken a man and woman, married them "in name only," and sent them to sea to be wrecked. The difference between the two films is that this week's wreck is more realistic.

When the Warners took over the old Vitagraph company they acquired, among other heirlooms, the rights to "A Million Bid," by George Cameron. Dolores Costello and Malcolm McGregor have the roles portrayed in the earlier version by Anita Stewart and the late Earle Williams.

As melodrama the present film is not half bad. Curiously enough, the work of all hands ranges from amateurishness to near-perfection. This goes for acting, direction, photography, cutting and titling. The narrative is continually tripping over its own heels; every time it begins to take hold of the spectator, it runs slap up against some kind of trick camera work (such as multiple exposures and lap dissolves) which snaps the thread of the story and calls attention to itself with an almost audible "Isn't this clever?" As it happens, some of the tricks worked out by Michael Curtiz, the director, and Hal Mohr, the cameraman, are clever—extraordinarily clever, in at least one instance—but that doesn't help the story any. An illusion once broken is not easily mended.

Upon the shoulders of Dolores Costello seems to have fallen the mantle of Elsie Ferguson—an inheritance of beauty, of wistful melancholy, and of great histrionic ability. Warner Oland is too heavily villainous in the first half of the picture, but he redeems himself toward the close—after the aforementioned shipwreck, and when he becomes a victim of asphasia. Malcolm McGregor moves through the film with a singular lack of interest in the proceedings. Betty Blythe, no longer the sinuous vamp of yesteryear, has the role of Dolores's mother. Also in the cast are Grace Gordon, William Demarest and Douglas Gerrard, the latter as a "silly-ass" type whose fondness for chocolates becomes extremely annoying.

Aside from its obvious striving for effects, "A Million Bid" is acceptable melodrama—and there is always Miss Costello.

On the stage, Dave Good picks up the drumstick dropped by Abe Lyman and turns it into a baton. Good has a larger band than his predecessor; and while comparisons are more or less odious, it must be admitted that his music has a fuller, rounder quality than Lyman's. Oscar Taylor is a baritone with Good's band, a baritone who is going to be little short of a sensation at the Uptown. Then there are the Allen Sisters, Homer Dickinson and Dorothy Lee—all excellent.

Hillstreet Has Gus Edwards and His Revue

The Mother's-Day-week bill at the Hillstreet beginning tomorrow will be a bright one in the it will be headed by that maker of stars, Gus Edwards, in person, in a revue filled with youthful protegee, entitled "Ritz Carlton Nights." Mr. Edwards has lavished everything necessary upon his miniature musical comedy this season. "Ritz Carlton Nights" is as ambitious and pretentious as a full-length musical comedy and has such famous youngsters as the Lane sisters, Ray (Rubberlegs) Bolger, the Reynolds sisters, Virginia Martin, Jerry Dryden, Jean Holly, Eddie McManus, Paul Cadieux, George Flynn and Joe Herbert. Aside from this outlay of talent there are twelve musical numbers, shifts of scenery, changes of costumes and bright tunes. Mr. Edwards again spares himself in his act this season, which is said to be the biggest offering ever staged in vaudeville. Another feature of this bill is an act that also comes under the guiding hand of Mr. Edwards, which is called "Freshies and Flappers."

Browne and Willa are two who offer a novelty called "Rag Art," in which they draw all sorts of pictures with the aid of rags. Three other Orpheum-circuit features are also included.

The screen will feature William De Mille's production, "The Little Adventuress," starring Vera Reynolds, who is supported by Victor Varconi, Phyllis Haver, Theodore Kosloff, Robert Ober and Fred Walton.

Other films conclude the bill.

COWEN TO ASSIST IN DIRECTING "GAUCHO"

E. Richard Jones, who is to direct Douglas Fairbanks in "The Gaucho," is surrounding himself with an enviable staff. Yesterday he secured the services of William Cowen to act as assistant director, thus ending the speculation as to whether or not it was possible for the latter to accept the offer.

Cowen served in the same capacity to Cecil B. DeMille during the making of "The King of Kings," and with the completion of this production was sought by various directors.

OFFICIAL PRAISES CHINESE PORTRAYAL

The Chinese Ambassador at Washington has written a letter to Lorna Moon, scenarist of "Mr. Wu," now running at the Forum Theater to record audiences, praising her for the accuracy with which she depicts aristocratic Chinese life. "So much of the life of the upper classes of my country," writes His Excellency, "is lived back of closed doors, that this is the first time an Occidental can really see the everyday life of a Chinese nobleman."

Hazel Reading Will Replace Morosco Player

Following the lead of former players in the Morosco company who left this theater to star in other productions, Elizabeth Allen, now playing ingenue roles at the Morosco, will shortly leave for New York where she has been signed to play a leading role in "Broadway."

She will be succeeded at the Morosco by Hazel Reading, youthful Chicago actress, who comes here with one of the finest records of any player of her age. Previous to coming to Los Angeles, Miss Reading was playing leads in such plays as "Friendly Enemies," "Clarence," "The Nightcap," "Getting Gertie's Garter," "Lombardi, Ltd.," and others. Miss Reading was born in Los Angeles.

It is interesting to recall that Leo Carillo, Louis Calhern, Mary Servoss, Carroll McComas, Marjorie Rambeau, Richard Dix, Edmund Lowe, Warner Baxter, Ida St. Leon, Douglas MacLean and many others have played with the Morosco company.

Miss Reading will be seen in "The Patsy," the present attraction starring the 14th inst.

Vera Gordon is Feature of New Headline Bill

Daphne Pollard, the petite comedy star of the English music halls, in "Songs, Characterization and Comedy;" Vera Gordon, the mother of the screen, in person, in "Her Triumph," by Edgar Allen Wolf; Allen Rogers, late start of "Rose Marie" and one of America's most popular young tenors, and Dodge Twins, two American girls, who became the rage of Europe, offering "Their Own Ideas in Songs and Steps—is the quartet of feature attractions scheduled to open at the Orpheum Sunday matinee.

Another outstanding spot will be filled by Lewis and Dody presenting "Hello, Hello, Hello," George Ford and Flo Cunningham in "Even as You and I," by Jack Lait and Blair Treyner, the Tumbling Clowns, and one other act will complete the new bill.

ARRANGE LAST EXTRA SHOW OF "IS ZAT SO"

The Belasco Theater announces that an extra performance of "Is Zat So" will be given on Sunday evening in order to give any playgoers who have not yet seen James Gleason and Robert Armstrong in this comedy a final opportunity to see it.

Director Butler has arranged to hold his dress rehearsal of "The Barker," which opens at the Belasco Monday night, in another theater in order to allow this extra performance of "Is Zat So." This will be positively the last time that Gleason and Armstrong will be seen in their fight comedy in Los Angeles.

SEA FORMS BACKGROUND FOR DRAMA

"Captain Salvation" Has Moments of Beauty With Virile Story

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

If there is anything more majestically beautiful than the old-time clipper ship, its white sails billying in the breeze and the sky and water as a limitless background, I for one, don't know what it could be.

This thought comes to mind again in "Captain Salvation," a virile drama of sea-faring days, which opened at Loew's State yesterday. "Old Ironsides," "The Yankee Clipper" and "The Sea Beast" all had moments of just such breath-taking beauty.

Even a bad picture can be interesting in such a setting, but "Captain Salvation" is far from being a bad picture. It is splendidly accoutered, well directed by John S. Robertson and some of the seascapes have been photographed to look almost like etchings. Above all in favor of this picture must be mentioned the magnificent performance of Lars Hanson as Anson Campbell, a young divinity student who renounces the narrowness of his New England congregation for the sea, and Ernest Torrence who is splendid as the captain of the convict ship.

Anson Campbell turns to the sea when he is denounced by the villagers for befriending Bess, a sick girl, who has been little better than a woman of the streets. When his fiancee turns against him, with Bess he goes aboard a ship bound for Rio. Once on board they discover it is a convict brig with an unspeakably brutal captain in command. In such surroundings Campbell loses his faith in God and it is only through the girl that he regains his belief. There is a poignantly appealing scene wherein Bess kills herself rather than submit to the advances of the captain. The climax is intensely thrilling when Campbell fights the captain high in the rigging of the vessel.

As I have said, Hanson is splendid. In spite of the fact that he has several outstanding screen characterizations to his credit, he seemingly strikes a new note of sincerity as Captain Salvation. He is a vigorous and romantic figure in the story.

Torrence, who has been unused on the screen lately, makes a dominant captain . . . a lewd, sinister fellow who plays his violin to drown out the agonized screams of tortured prisoners in the hold of the boat.

Pauline Starke gives good account of herself as the girl who had been given a pretty bad deal from life. In fact she is the big surprise of the picture, standing revealed as an emotional actress of power. Most of the time she appears exotically lovely but there are one or two times when she has been carelessly photographed.

Marceline Day is quite satisfactory as the fiancee of Captain Salvation, with George Fawcett, Flora Finch and Sam DeGrasse appearing briefly.

Pianchon and Marco are offering an agreeable hodge-podge of stage entertainment this week. Ivan Bankoff and Beth Cannon, Russian dancers, score something of a sensation. It seems, too, that some one actually offered a prize for the best ukulele player in town. Anyway the several winners appear this week. If you are a devotee of the instrument you may be interested. Since it seemingly is championship week our most prodicient black-bottom dancers also appear—popular applause judging the best. Barnett and Clark are really very good with their black-bottom-a-la-tap dancing.

By the way the stage presentation has a great opening this week, being a clever burlesque on the popular mystery plays. Gene Morgan wins a big hand with his eccentric dancing, but his comedy skit is bad, as usual.

BELLE BENNETT TRIUMPHS AGAIN

"Mother—the spirit of the home in the day time, its guardian angel at night."

This subtitle summarizes the story glorifying the mother of the genuine American family, showing this week as the attraction at the Figueroa Theater. The name of this picture is "Mother."

The story was adapted from the Kathleen Norris novel of the same name, was directed by Leo Meehan, and stars in the feature role Belle Name, whose splendid interpretation of the role of Stella Dallas, some time ago, is equaled in this, her latest interpretation.

"Mother," is the simple story of an average American family, who, through the undying and unselfish efforts of the mother, manage to rise above the middle class and attain a certain degree of wealth and success in life.

As in so many cases, however, wealth brings greater problems than poverty did; and after a time, the mother finds herself alone—her family gone, pleasure bent, and nothing left but memories of the past.

A startling and unexpected climax is offered in a train wreck, which proves instrumental in untangling the mesh of selfishness and unhappiness, which has caught the family.

Belle Bennett, as the mother, gives an unusually fine interpretation to the role. She is heart and soul, the mother of the little group, who in poverty look to her for aid, and in plenty turn upon her.

As the husband who accepted sacrifice with gratitude soon forgotten, Crauford Kent gives his usual excellent performance.

A splendid team for pep and comedy is offered in the two juvenile "puppy love" addicts, William Bakewell and Charlotte Stevens. Mr. Bakewell represents to perfection the high-school lad of today, while Miss Stevens is more than attractive, and offers a fine interpretation of the much discussed flapper.

Little Joyce Coad is the typical little sister of the family.

Two other members of the cast, who add much to the excellence of the production are Mabel Julienne Scott and Sam Allen.

The five acts of vaudeville were headed by "Three White Kuhns," who offer novelties with voice and banjo.

ARRIVES FOR PREMIERE

W. Edgar Runkle, personal representative of Charles L. Wagner, New York producer, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to attend the opening of "The Barker" at the Belasco Monday night. Wagner is associated with Belasco, Butler and Davis in the Los Angeles production of the Kenyon Nicholson play of carnival life. "The Barker" is now running in New York at the Biltmore Theater and in Chicago at the Blackstone with Richard Bennett in the title role.

MEET TODAY TO END BOYS' WEEK

Seven Thousand Scouts Will Hold Field Events

Fathers and Sons Scheduled for Jaint Hike

Police Chief Sees Value of Yearly Observance

Seven thousand Los Angeles Boy Scouts will today have a field day at Loyola grounds, lasting from 9 a.m. until late in the day. This is their contribution to "Boys' Day in the Outdoors," the last of seven days set aside annually as "Boys' Week."

Today will also mark many hundreds of companionable visits of fathers and sons to the main points of interest in the city, as arranged by a committee of which George Hjelte, superintendent of municipal playgrounds, is chairman. Special folders were printed for this occasion, so that dads and boys might see the harbor, the parks, the playgrounds, libraries, museums, city institutions, or together make short hikes.

The Boy Scout field day will cover tests in first-aid work, signaling, wall-scaling, fire-making, tent-pitching and kindred subjects. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Scouts will be assembled in troop formation for a general review and take for another year their Scout oath.

"The end of Boys' Week," said Chief of Police Davis yesterday, "means for a considerable time the lessening of juvenile delinquency. We older folk, from the family point of view, forget the boys. But Boys' Week directs attention to the youths and through out own consideration and understanding the boy gets back on the right track—if he is inclined to be on one side. The effect of this work, as handled by the council for the promotion of boys' work, is momentous."

"Juvenile troubles in so far as they occupy the attention of the courts," said Superior Court Judge Harry Archbald, "are decreased for weeks as a result of Boys' Week. It is probable that they are lessened throughout the year. The thought that is directed to the boy during this week has results that cannot be measured in the way of time or consequence, but is vital."

There will be today a number of assemblies of Jewish boys at their churches, in recognition of "Boys' Day in the Churches" that Protestant churches observed last Sunday, and tomorrow a number of Protestant churches will complete the week by sermons on boyhood.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS TO STAGE 'AJAX'

Greek Tragedy Chosen by Students for Production as Annual Offering

For the first time in the United States, so far as known, the "Ajax" of Sophocles will be produced by students of the University of California at Los Angeles on the 19th, 20th and 21st inst. It will be the tenth annual Greek drama to be presented at the university and is under the direction of Miss Evalyn Thomas, in charge of dramatics.

Musical accompaniment to the production will be based upon Beethoven's "Prometheus" overture, which is being arranged and will be conducted by Squire Coop, head of the music department.

A chorus of co-eds will be a feature of the production. Pincipal actors will include Alfred B. Peison as Ajax, the hero of the tragedy; Esther M. Gilbert, Irene L. Gilbert, Benjamin C. Brindley, Irving Olen and Robert M. Pudge.

A civic committee composed of John Steveh, McGroarty, Frederick Warde, Miss Josephine Abel, E. W. Camp, Miss Michael Breamer, J. M. Elliot, Thomas F. Ford, W. Joseph Ford, Miss May Gearhart, H. V. Gifford, Mrs. F. O. McColloch, C. C. Parker, Everett R. Perry and Roger Sterrett will sponsor the production.

THEFT AGAIN CHARGED

Woman Out on Bail Arrested and Merchandise Recovered

Recovery of more than $2000 worth of merchandise taken from several downtown department stores was reported by Detective Lieutenants Stulken and Wallen yesterday with the arrest of Mrs. Marie Williamson, 22 years of age of 836 East Bellegrave avenue.

The goods were found in Mrs. Williamson's home, the detectives stated, shortly after Mrs. Williamson was taken into custody at a department store in Seventh street. At the time of her arrest she had two dresses she had picked up from a counter in the store, the detectives reported.

Mrs. Williamson, the detectives said, was arrested once before for shoplifting. She was out on $500 bail, they said, pending trial on a charge of petty larceny. She was taken to the County Jail where she was booked on suspicion of grand larceny and embezzlement.

Aftermath of Huntington Beach Fatal Blaze

OIL FIRE LOSSES FIGURED

Start of Reconstruction Work Reveals One Dead; $500,000 Damage at Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 6. (Exclusive)—Oil companies today began reconstruction work on the scene of last night's fire in the "town-lot" oil district which caused one death and damage estimated at $500,000. Workmen today found in the ruins the charred body of J. T. (Bill) Morrow, a pumper for the United Oil Company. It is believed Morrow was killed by blazing oil thrown from exploding tanks. An inquest will be conducted tomorrow morning at the S. L. Harrell Undertaking Company. Morrow was 55 years of age, unmarried, and lived here.

Three oil rigs and eight tanks, containing 10,000 barrels of oil, were destroyed and two rigs were badly damaged. It is believed one well is so badly damaged it will be impossible to put it back in production. This well, owned by the Ahlburg Gasoline Company and operated by the United Oil Company, had a production of about 800 barrels daily.

The three derricks destroyed were owned by the Ahlburg Gasoline Company, Placentia-Richfield Company and the Huntington Signal Oil Company. The damaged derricks are owned by the Standard Oil Company of California and the Petroleum-Midway Oil Company. Of the eight tanks destroyed, two were owned by the Huntington-Signal, four by the Ahlburg Gasoline and two by the California Petroleum.

Oil men express surprise that the fire was held within such narrow limits. The fire occurred in the center of a block containing fourteen derricks and eighteen tanks.

Early reports that two wells of the California-Eastern Oil Company suffered damage were found today to be incorrect. No property of that organization was damaged in any way, the company stated.

Costly Fire in Factory District Under Inquiry

Police and firemen were pushing an investigation last night to determine the cause of a fire believed to have started in the Imperial Cabinet Company factory at 1652 Long Beach Boulevard, which spread to five other industrial buildings, causing damage estimated at $235,000.

The other buildings involved were those of the Master Foundry Company, 1644 Long Beach Boulevard; De Luxe Lamp Manufacturing Company, 1660 Long Beach Boulevard; W. L. Covington Novelty Company, 1654 Long Beach Boulevard; Superbo Water Heater Manufacturing Company, 1662-64 Long Beach Boulevard, and H. Harvey garage, 1655 Staunton street.

The blaze already had gained a good start when it was discovered at 3 a.m. by a patrolman. Four alarms were turned in, bringing all downtown apparatus to the scene. There was a stubborn fight before the flames could be brought under control. No one was injured.

Film Academy of Hollywood Given Charter

The projected Academy of the Motion-Picture Arts and Sciences received its charter yesterday, it was announced by George Cohen of Loeb, Walker & Loeb, attorneys for the organization. Frank Woods, secretary of the academy, which has established headquarters at 6912 Hollywood Boulevard, said the granting of the charter completes the preliminary work and the committees will begin work at once.

The membership dinner at the Biltmore next Wednesday is expected to be attended by about 200, including Mitchell Lewis, D. W. Griffith, Norma Talmadge, Gloria Swanson, Carl Laemmle, Marc McDermott, Joseph M. Schenck, Paul Bern, Aileen Pringle, Waldemar Young, Jeanie Macpherson, Lois Wilson, Reginald Barker, Charlie Murray and Bessie Love.

Banana Peel Ends Quest of Boy for Ball

Life lost all of its joy for 5-year-George Brice yesterday. His mother had given him a quarter with which to buy a new baseball. With the coin gripped between his teeth George started on a run from his home at 1253 East Twenty-fifth street to a near-by drug store.

Some unthinking playmate had dropped a banana peeling in the street.

Later George sobbingly admitted in the Receiving Hospital that the quarter had gone where all the ice-cream cones and "chocklit" bars generally go to. Blacker grew the clouds when Police Surgeon Dunsmoor told George that, surgically, his case was a hopeless one. Then the doctor advised a course of treatment.

And when George left the hospital he did so resolved to keep his money in his pocket henceforth.

DATE FIXED TO PLEAD IN GIN MURDER

Mrs. Sarah Kerrick and Four Others Arraigned in Killing of Husband

Mrs. Sarah Kerrick and four other persons, jointly indicted for the murder of Mrs. Kerrick's husband, Tom Kerrick, motion-picture cowboy, are to appear before Superior Judge Hardy on Tuesday to enter pleas as a result of their arraignment yesterday. The other defendants are Anita Davis, Joe Hunt, Henry Isbell and Iris Burns.

Judge Hardy now has under advisement a motion made by Miss Burns's attorney, S. S. Hahn, that she be admitted to bail on the ground she was not present at an asserted gin party when Kerrick was shot and killed. His client was permitted to enter a plea of not guilty yesterday, but a demand for a trial early next week was not considered by the court.

Mrs. Kerrick was brought into the courtroom from the County Jail garbed in widow's weeds. She was weeping and was on the verge of hysterics when she heard the indictment read to her in which she is accused of murdering her husband. She was taken back to the jail on the verge of collapse.

The other four defendants were represented in court yesterday by Attorneys Wilburn Mayock and Clarence M. Booth.

It is charged by the prosecution that Kerrick met his death during the progress of a gin party at the Kerrick home in Hollywood several days ago.

Councilmen in Wrangle Over Tax in Charter

Declaring that he had heard much dissatisfaction expressed over the provision of the city charter requiring the imposing of a special tax of 9 cents on each $100 assessed valuation to complete the Major Traffic Plan Councilman Jacobson started a wordy wrangle in the City Council yesterday by suggesting the matter be resubmitted to the people on the June ballot.

Despite the fact that it was pointed out by various Councilmen that the provision can be changed only by an amendment to the charter, the matter was discussed in detail, with a number of Councilmen also stating that opposition to the tax had been expressed by their constituents.

Assistant City Attorney Whitehead said it is mandatory on the Council to impose the tax next July and that the charter cannot be amended until within the six-months' period prior to the next regular session of the State Legislature.

Tryout Plan in Marriage Told by Wife

The very last word in domestic arrangements cropped out in Judge Scott's court yesterday, when Helen Robinson appeared to ask for alimony from Fred Robinson, whom she is suing for a divorce.

The Robinsons separated first and married afterward, Mrs. Robinson explained.

On March 1, 1925, she said, they parted. On March 5 he said he would marry her, but would not live with her, and they were wed.

"And now all I want is $150 to get back to my home in Canada," Mrs. Robinson said.

Judge Scott ordered that, pending trial of the unusual case, Robinson pay her $8 a week, $100 for counsel fees and $15 for costs. The wife said that they had engaged in a sort of trial marriage for a year preceding the wedding.

THREE YOUTHS HELD

Chance Arrest Causes Jailing On Robbery Suspicion

Chance arrest by Deputy Sheriff Ousby of three young men while the latter were sitting in a parked car near an oil station on Downey Road, near Downey, led to the three being held in the County Jail yesterday on suspicion of robbery.

Deputy Ousby reported that he observed the three youths sitting in the car with all lights out. He accosted them and, according to reports, took two revolvers away from them. Those arrested gave the names of Ira Douglas, 20 years of age, Raymond Griffin, 20, Vernon Unruh, 20.

Investigation was made by Capt. Peoples, head of the Sheriff's robbery squad, and Deputies Gusati and Ousby, who stated that the three youths admitted three robberies.

LAW'S DIGNITY UPHELD

Attorney Finishes Jail Sentence for Neglect to Appear in Court

D. L. Shaw, attorney representing Harry Kapahut, who was sentenced to spend twenty-four hours in the County Jail for failure to appear in behalf of his client Thursday, was released at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and permitted to represent Kapahut at his trial.

Through a misunderstanding, according to Shaw, he left the courtroom for a few minutes Thursday and his client's case was called during his absence. When he returned Judge Craig held Shaw in contempt of court.

ATTEMPT TO ATTACK GIRL SUSPECTED

Motorists, Attracted by Child's Cries, Pursue Man; Deputies Make Arrest

T. H. Bartlett, 35 years of age, a plastering contractor living at 1808½ East Eighty-third street, was held in the County Jail yesterday, the Sheriff's office reported, on suspicion of having attempted to attack a 7-year-old girl. Sheriff's deputies who arrested him at his home were said to have eluded a large crowd of angry citizens who had been seeking him.

Bartlett, Deputy Sheriffs Fitzgerald and Wheeler said they were told, grasped the child and took her into his car while she was playing in front of her home Thursday night. Screams of the child and her mother attracted passing motorists, who gave pursuit, it was said.

Bartlett is said to have put the child out of the car while he was being pursued. His pursuers obtained the number of his car, and his arrest resulted, according to the report.

Kathleen Clifford Illitch yesterday was ordered by Superior Judge Mahon to pay $983 as architect's fee sought by P. P. Lewis. Lewis charged that he prepared plans for a residence to be built in Beverly Hills but never was paid for his work.

Mrs. Illitch stated that she asked for plans for a $12,000 house but the architect furnished plans for a $20,000 home.

CROWD ATTENDS COOKING CLASS

Mrs. Wyman Lays Stress on Health in Lecture

Chocolate Malted Milk Pie Made by Expert

Manufacturers' Exhibit Will Observe Mothers' Day

Health was the keynote of Mrs. Mabelle E. Wyman's demonstrations o her foods class in the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit at 130 South Broadway yesterday afternoon, which was attended by one of the largest crowds she has addressed since the opening of her free demonstrations in cooking.

Chocolate malted milk pie, made from a product manufactured in Southern California, was one of the interesting demonstrations. This was followed by a health salad of chopped figs, prunes, raisins and nuts ringed about a mound of cottage cheese. One hundred per cent whole wheat and cornmeal cakes for strawberry shortcake foundation also were demonstrated.

TO OBSERVE MOTHERS' DAY

Wynne Boyden, general manager, and H. K. Weis, sales manager for Boyden's honey, which Mrs. Wyman used last Tuesday afternoon in the making of honey and bran cookies, made brief addresses to the students explaining the nutritive value of honey.

Announcement of Mrs. Wyman's program will be made next Tuesday morning for the afternoon's class, and recipes called for in the question box last Tuesday will be given during the meeting from 2 to 4 o'clock. All these classes are free and Times readers and their friends are cordially invited to attend them.

Mothers' Day will be featured at the Manufacturers' Exhibit today. Dr. G. W. Haas will deliver an address at 3:30 o'clock on its proper observance. This address will be repeated at 8:30 o'clock after a concert by Smith's Band.

BAKER TO EAT WAY THROUGH

The Continental Bakery, Ward Refrigeration Company, Eastside, Maxwell House Coffee, Miles Chocolate and the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding Company will present demonstrations of their products during the day. Mme. Valentine also will demonstrate paper flowers.

F. A. Herron will speak at 3 o'clock on the proposed aerial flight to Paris from Los Angeles, and will show a model of the plane proposed to be used.

The most unique feature of the day will be the achievements of a baker, who declares he will eat and drink his way through the food sections and will break all records in the amount of food and liquid consumed. Down to Date Facts in New Encyclopedia

Modernity is the outstanding appeal of the newest American encyclopedia, Universal Knowledge, published by the Universal Knowledge Foundation New York, 1927, the first volume of which was received at The Times library yesterday. Compiled by five leading professors and numerous collaborators, the work is described as a dictionary and encyclopedia of arts and sciences, history and biography, law, literature, religions, nations, races, customs and institutions.

The twelve volumes in which attempt is made to give the essential facts on every important subject of knowledge are edited and printed in thorcughly up-to-date fashion, with recent photographs, current maps and clear diagrams. The work omits much material useful only to the specialist in order to furnish the general reader with concise, but fully treated, information.

Many topics that have become of public interest during and since the World War, not treated in the older encyclopedias, are here fully covered.

Sheriff Shows Fewer Thefts of Autos Here

Value of stolen automobiles reported to the Sheriff's office in April was $100,000 less than the value of those reported stolen during March, Sheriff Traeger announced yesterday. This is a decrease of 30 per cent in automobile thefts.

Automobile stealing is the county's most prevalent crime, Traeger said. Up to the first of the year the amount of the thefts increased monthly. More than 13,000 cars, valued at $3,500,000, according to conservative estimates, were reported stolen in 1926.

Traeger attributes the recent reduction to co-operation by the public in applying precautionary measures. The bureau of public relations of the Sheriff's office five is reaching audiences of 500,000 persons weekly with advice with regard to prevention of car thefts.

BURGLARY CHARGED

Two Held on Complaint of Stripping House of Plumbing Fixtures

If Ernest Sanford's home had been equipped with modern plumbing, Sanford and his close friend, Thomas Clanin, might never have faced Municipal Judge Ambrose yesterday for preliminary hearing on a charge of burglary. The two men are charged with entering a vacant house at 1636 Georgia avenue, Western City Park, and removing the fixtures.

Attorney Norman Marmaduke, appearing for Clanin, succeeded in getting the man, who is married, released without bail pending trial. Judge Ambrose ordered both suspects held to the higher court on the felony charge and allowed Sanford liberty on $1500 bail.

He held his "stand" at the Federal Building up to the time he was stricken.

Thief Obtains Watches From Store Window

A thief who early yesterday smashed a plate glass window in Feagan's Jewelry Store at 435 West Seventh street, obtained watches valued at $1000, according to a later report made by detectives of the police robbery squad.

James R. Barack, watchman, discovered the theft shortly before dawn, when he heard the breaking of glass. Investigation disclosed, the police stated, that the thief had smashed a hole in one of the plate glass windows facing on Seventh street with a brick wrapped in brown paper.

SKULL FRACTURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

E. A. Hester, 74 years of age, a retired business man living at 1041 Arapahoe street, suffered probably fatal injuries when he was struck by an automobile driven by Charles Barta, 2000 North Highland avenue, at Eleventh and Hoover streets yesterday, police reported. Hester was taken to the receiving Hospital. He suffered a basal skull fracture, according to Police Surgeon Renfrew.

Garage Death of Engineer Due to Poison Fumes

Carbon monoxide poisoning was definitely given as the cause of the death early yesterday of John C. Campbell, 55 years of age, mechanical engineer, 1337 Sierra Bonita avenue. Such was the opinion of Detective Lieutenants Hask and Carman, who made a thorough investigation of the case.

Campbell's body was found by his wife, Mrs. Hazel Campbell, in the garage at the rear of their home. All of the windows and doors were closed tightly and the gas fumes were so stifling that his wife was unable to enter before officers arrived. The body was found lying between his work bench and the window, indicating that he had made a desperate attempt to reach the latter when he felt himself being overcome by the deadly vapor.

Mrs. Campbell said that when she and her husband returned from the theater late Thursday evening he left her to "tune up the car" in preparation for a trip to Riverside yesterday. She did not see him again, she said, until she visited the garage in a search for him yesterday morning.

The body was taken to the County Morgue.

Two Suspects Under Arrest in Bank Hold-up

Suspected by the police because of their asserted resemblance to the two bandits who held up the Bank of Italy branch at Manchester and Western avenue, March 31, last, George McConnachie, 49 years of age, and M. G. Arnold, 25 years of age, were arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Pore and Smithson. They were booked at the Sawtelle police station on suspicion of robbery.

Arnold, the detectives reported, is the brother of Chet Arnold who shot and killed himself after being shot twice by a constable when he attempted to hold up a bank in Sherman on April 18, last. He has been identified, the detectives asserted, as the man seen in the automobile which fled from the scene of the attempted robbery when Chet Arnold was being pursued by officers.

The suspects were taken into custody at McConnachie's home at 805 New York street, Long Beach, Arnold gave his address as 1636 One Hundred and Tenth street, Sawtelle. Efforts were being made late yesterday by the detectives to obtain positive identification of the two men.

Court Quashes Woman's Charge Against Spouse

Charges brought by Mrs. Ruth Leaf Brown Maloof, prominent in musical and radio circles, against Emil Maloof, that he had threatened her life yesterday were dismissed by Municipal Judge Ballard on request of Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis.

Mrs. Maloof recently came into prominence when she was named defendant in a bigamy complaint. When arraigned on the charge she was released without bail, pending preliminary hearing before Judge Ballard next week.

According to her story, she met Maloof a few days ago on the street and he demanded to know why she was not in jail. An argument followed and was climaxed, she said, by his asserted threats.

Swearing to a complaint charging Maloof with threats to take her life, Mrs. Maloof also asked that he be placed under peace bond. No reason was given for the dismissal, other than the motion of the prosecutor.

Council Passes Beverly Zoning Buck to Voters

Despairing of solving the zoning of the twelve-mile extension of Beverly Boulevard to the sea, the City Council on motion of Councilman Hall voted yesterday to place two ordinances on the June ballot and let the people decide the question.

One of the two ordinances, prepared by the City Planning Commission, provides for zoning the new strip largely as a residential area, with a few income property districts near the sites of Occidental College and the University of California at Los Angeles.

The other ordinance asks that the entire twelve-mile extension be zoned as residential territory with the exception of one business center at the extreme western end.

LIQUOR FIND LANDS GIRL IN HOSPITAL

Diner Who Drank Left Under Cafe Table Seriously Ill

As a result of drinking liquor found in a bottle under a restaurant table, according to a story told police, Nellie Allen, 23 years old, of 2115 1-2 North Highland avenue, is in serious condition, it was learned last night. She is a patient in the Osteopathic Hospital under the care of Dr. Fahey, who is said to have diagnosed her illness as alcoholic poisoning.

Detective Lieutenant Keen, who is investigating, says the girl was taken early yesterday to the Hollywood Police Station by a man who described himself as Brown, friend of 902 Wilcox avenue, who called for the nearest hospital. He was referred to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital, where the girl was cared for until yesterday evening, when she was transferred.

Newland said, according to detective, the girl became ill after drinking two drinks from a bottle she discovered beneath a table at which they were eating in a Hollywood restaurant.

Policeman Held for Trial On Shooting Charge

Booting whisky and a total abstinence to where he did his work, practice were attributed yesterday as the main causes for William Mason, a city policeman, being held to answer to the Superior Court by Municipal Judge Blake on charges of assault with intent to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

According to testimony introduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Croll, the police officer fired several shots at the home of John Chimes, 200 East Third street, on April 11, last, when he came home in an intoxicated condition.

The prosecution charged that police officer fired at the Chimes home when he became aware members of the family who lived at him when he tried to climb through a window of his home.

On request of Deputy Public Defender S. S. Hahn, Judge Blake allowed the defendant to stand at $2500.

WIFE BLAMES EQUALITY IDEA

Her Story of Appointment By Husband Results in Divorce Decree

John P. Hockenbrocht, according to his wife, Vera Belle Hockenbrocht, did some hard thinking and emerged with the following syllogism:

All men are created equal—Declaration of Independence.

Women are legally the equals of men—Seventeenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Therefore women are peculiarly welcome to support themselves.

Application of this maxim by Mrs. Hockenbrocht resulted in Mrs. Hockenbrocht having to go to work, she told Judge Summerfield yesterday when she appeared before him with Attorney S. S. Hahn to seek a divorce. Judge Summerfield granted her a decree.

RESCUE PARTY FINDS WEBER

Musher, Attempting Mount Whitney Climb, Safe

Too Dazed to Speak Plainly When Discovered

Clothing and Shoes Worn to Shreds by Rocks

BAKERSFIELD, May 6.—Hank Weber, dog musher of San Rafael, who has made repeated attempts in the last month to be the first man to scale Mt. Whitney in winter weather, was alive near Lone Pine Lake at an altitude of 9000 feet late last night.

His clothing in tatters, his shoes cut to shreds by sharp rocks, Weber was discovered by a rescue party that left Lone Pine yesterday after the mountain climber had been missing three days.

Weber was too dazed to speak coherently with his rescuers, and he apparently had gone through a terrible ordeal on the mountain. His condition is said to be such that he will have to be kept under the care of a physician at his Lone Pine Lake camp for several days before he can be brought to Lone Pine.

Stumbling blindly through the dark with a few of his lean, red-coated Airedales, Weber was found on the verge of collapse. The rescue party that found him was headed by Robert A. Evans, Lone Pine guide, who first showed Weber the only possible path to the summit.

Watchers at Lone Pine were aware of the discovery of the missing man when prearranged signals were fired by the searching party. Plans were made immediately to send medical aid to Lone Pine Lake.

Members of the searching party believe that Weber probably was lost either in nearing the summit or upon returning to his camp after a failure in the dash, according to information furnished by W. C. Pirobasco.

Estimates on Orange Citrus Crops Increased

ORANGE, May 6.—As the result of an orchard survey on May 1 officials of the Orange County Fruit Exchange with headquarters in Orange have revised their estimates of the total crop of citrus fruits which may be expected this year to include an additional 200 cars, it was learned today.

A previous survey was made April 1. Similar increases are being noted throughout the area covered by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, according to officials.

Although the increase as estimated by citrus authorities might appear very small in comparison with the total number of cars shipped from the county during each season it is important, according to those informed, because of its bearing on the condition of the crop. The increase indicates that little damage has been done to the crop and that heavy rains have made the crop a success.

LODGEMAN TO HOLD ATTENDANCE RECORD

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 6.—Thomas J. Irwin, who has not missed a Grand Lodge meeting of the Red Men in the State of Ohio, for fifty years, says that he is not going to miss the one in June this year, so he left last night by way of the Panama Canal for New York City where he will attend the graduating exercises of a nephew and from there will go to Ohio to be present at the Grand Lodge sessions of the Red Men's Council which will be held in Columbus in June. Mr. Irwin has never missed a Grand Lodge meeting in the past fifty years, and he has been Great Chief of Records of the State for thirty-eight years. He resided at Martin's Ferry, O., and was a resident there until last September. He will return to California some time in the autumn having purchased property here, where one of his sons resides.

STUDENT COURT CUTS BREAKING OF RULES

INGLEWOOD, May 6.—The institution recently of a student-body court in the Queen-street grammar school here, which meets once a week to try cases for various breaches of school rules, has reduced the number of cases more than one-tenth, according to Miss Lucy Purdum, assistant superintendent of schools. Ten of the twenty rooms in the building had no cases whatsoever in the student-body court this week, it was said.

"The institution of such a court in a grammar-school student body, although a novelty, has already proven its worth, it is declared, and is even showing its effect in the pupils' report cards, which are exceptionally good for the last month.

Work to Begin Soon on Scenic Arroyo Highway

PASADENA, May 6.—Work will be started in a few weeks on the improvement and extension of Arroyo Boulevard, which will make the street a unique scenic highway along the east bank of the Arroyo Seco, extending from Los Angeles, through South Pasadena, to the north city limits of Pasadena near the foothills.

An unusual feature of the work is that $40,000 for its execution has been appropriated by the county, the money being raised through State gasoline taxes. This is the first time that Pasadena has been awarded a share of this fund for municipal street improvement purposes.

Arroyo Boulevard in Pasadena will extend from Westminster Drive, south of the Colorado-street bridge, to Devil's Gate Dam. Bids will be opened by the City Directors the 10th inst., and the work is expected to be completed by next fall.

Another major street improvement, for which $35,000 of county funds have been provided, is the improvement of Lincoln avenue from Forest avenue to the north city limits. The County Supervisors appropriated this money at the same time as the Arroyo Boulevard funds.

Other major street improvements which will be completed by the city this summer are the widening of Broadway between Green and Holly streets and the improvement of North Fair Oaks avenue.

PARKING LAW VEXING TWO VALLEY TOWNS

LANKERSHIM, May 6.—Both Lankershim and its sister city, Van Nuys, are having trouble with their downtown auto-parking law. Heretofore the owner of a car could come downtown and park all day in front of stores. Merchants in both towns vigorously complained and the police put a one-hour parking law in force. Many arrests followed. This soon cleared up the curbs, and shopping patrons were able to drive up and buy their wares and make a quick get-away. Now there is another complaint, in spite of the fact that the one-hour law is proving most efficacious. Auto owners declare the one-hour law is much too short and that a two-hour ordinance would serve the purpose, most of them asserting that the ordinary woman shopper can't do a good day's shopping and marshal all her bundles together within an hour's time. The police are again in a quandary over what to do in the matter.

VAN NUYS CHURCH TO HEAR BROTHER TOM

VAN NUYS, May 6.—Brother Tom Liddecoat, head of the Midnight Mission of Los Angeles, will preach at the First Baptist Church here on Sunday night, having as his theme the origin and work of the mission and telling of the numerous "down-and-outers" that the institution has helped back to a profitable workaday life by religious guidance and spiritual advice. Brother Tom will bring with him several of his coworkers and the choir of the mission. Next Sunday morning the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. W. P. Harper, executive secretary of the Southern California Baptist Convention. Both services will be a part of the regular program of the local church, Brother Tom and Dr. Harper coming here as supply speakers during the absence of Rev. J. G. Carmichael, pastor, who for the present is at San Bernardino attending a revival taking place in the Baptist church there.

BANK TELLER BREAKS LEG ON CANYON HIKE

VAN NUYS, May 6.—Merle Cunningham, paying teller of the Van Nuys branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, fell from a log while on a hike in Pacoima Canyon and fractured a bone in his leg. Cunningham was five miles above Pacoima. Dana when the accident occurred. His companion, Frank Austin, bound the fracture in a splint and partly carried Cunningham the long distance to the mouth of the canyon, where their auto had been parked. The injured banker will be confined to his home till his leg mends.

SCOUTS ASSEMBLE AT CALEXICO MEETING

CALEXICO, May 6.—Three hundred Boy Scouts representing all Imperial Valley towns and Yuma assembled here this afternoon for their annual two-day encampment and field meet. The boys will sleep in the open in pup tents tonights at Rockwood Park, cooking their own meals. A campfire program was the feature of this evening's entertainment. A parade, field day and water carnival will be held tomorrow under the direction of County Scout Executive S. L. McCrory.

JAPANESE BOYS CELEBRATE

Told There is No More Yellow Peril by Speaker at Festival at Riverside Mission Inn

RIVERSIDE, May 6.—"There is no yellow peril of which the prophets of discord cry. It has been dissolved before the unfaltering progress of education among the common people of Japan," declared Dr. A. B. Scherer, director of the Southwest Museum of Los Angeles, in an address at Mission Inn last night.

The address concluded a day's program which observed the Japanese boy's festival, the feast of fishes, and the official birthday of the youthful Nipponese. The affair was sponsored by Frank Miller, master of Mission Inn, and Dewitt Hutchings.

The day's exercises were attended by hundreds of school children and was calculated to establish a better understanding between nations of the Pacific.

Preceding Dr. Scherer's address Mrs. Madge Clover, wife of Samuel Clover, editor of Saturday Night, gave glimpses of life in Japan, paying high tribute to the spirit and character of that nation's people.

Color and festivity reigned throughout Mission Inn and its courtyard yesterday, with feats of Japanese skill the order of the day. Archery, wrestling and strange musical programs brought the Sunrise Isle into closer acquaintance with not only white Americans, but were cause of interest to hundreds of American-born Japanese children.

Performers in the Japanese sports were from the Consul's office, Los Angeles, and many direct from Japan. Ancient Japanese armor and many almost priceless relics of the Pacific Isle were on exhibition throughout the day.

MRS. HOLLAND SUES BROTHER

Asks Accounting, Division of Father's Estate

Fraud and Deceit Charged Through Conspiracy

Litigants Prominent Here and at Fresno

FRESNO, May 6.—Thomas E. Risley, former City Commissioner of Finance of Fresno, and his wife, Gladys, were today made defendants in a suit filed in the Superior Court here by Mrs. Marguerite Holland of Los Angeles, Risley's sister and the wife of H. R. Holland, broker, in which she seeks to obtain in excess of $500,000, a one-half interest in the estate of her father, Judge E. W. Risley, who died here December 15, 1919.

Mrs. Holland charges that through conspiracy between Risley and his wife, fraud and deceit, she was prevented from obtaining her share of the estate.

At the time of the father's death the estate consisted of real estate in Fresno and Fresno county and bonds and cash worth in excess of $500,000 and has greatly increased since, the complaint alleges.

The complaint was filed by Gallaher and Jertberg, Fresno attorneys, following an investigation over a period of four months by the M. E. Firman detective service of Los Angeles.

It is alleged in the complaint that Judge Risley executed a deed and a will in which he indicated that he intended to bequeath his estate equally to his son and daughter, but that through the conspiracy between the son and daughter-in-law, they circumvented the division on that basis and that the son obtained control of the entire estate.

This was accomplished through obtaining another deed transferring all the property to the son, the complaint recited, and this deed was filed at 11 a.m. on the day following the death of the senior Risley.

Risley refused her an accounting of the estate and refused her an interview for a long period following their father's death, Mrs. Holland charges. When he did confer with her, he told her that the estate had been deeded to him in consideration of a contract with his father by which the son agreed to care for and support his father, the complaint states.

While she was ill she was induced to enter into a contract with her brother, whereby she received $10,000 in a lump sum and $500 per month thereafter, she alleges, the monthly sum being represented by her brother to be one-half the net income from the estate which he declared was worth $250,000. She says the estate has since produced a net income of in excess of $2500 per month.

To better carry out the conspiracy against her, her brother and his wife induced the parent to leave her home in Los Angeles, where he had lived for a long time and come to Fresno and make his home with them, she alleges. It is further alleged that the son and his wife hastened the death of the parent by failing to provide him with proper medical, nurse and hospital services, and that this was also a part of their conspiracy to obtain control of the estate.

She also charges that her brother sought to induce her to institute insanity proceedings against their father and to have him appointed guardian of the parent and his estate. In this connection she alleges that her brother agreed to protect her interests in the estate, and assured her that he would see that she got a "50-50" division.

When the parent came to Fresno to live with the son and his family they denied the daughter the right to see him except on one occasion, and prevented him visiting or receiving visits from friends or others, Mrs. Holland alleges.

In addition to misrepresenting the actual value or extent of the estate, her brother refused to give her any accounting of the receipts or disbursements and told her nothing of the affairs of the estate until February, 1919, when she was induced to enter into the contract by which she received a monthly sum, Mrs. Holland charges.

Aside from the water rights case filed her against the Southern California Edison Company, this suit is one of the biggest civil actions that has been filed in a number of years and because of the prominence of the defendants, it caused a mild sensation in business and social circles in which the Risleys are prominent.

Plan Outlined for This Year's Fish Planting

DINUBA, May 6.—Planting of 2,250,000 trout fry and installation of two new hatcheries in the Southern San Joaquin Valley, was outlined as outstanding features of the 1927 program by Ed Smalley, veteran sportsman and State Fish and Game Commission captain of patrol for Fresno, Tulare, Kings and Kern counties, addressing the first annual banquet of the Alta Fish and Game Protective Association. Covers were laid for some 200 valley sportsmen.

Smalley told of the reorganization under way in the Fish and Game Commission, which will place responsibility of trout planting in the hands of experts, systematize work of stocking the California waters with view of avoiding duplication and oversupply. The new program calls for twelve new hatcheries in the State, two of these probably to be in the Southern San Joaquin. It is believed these will be located in Kern and Fresno counties, and with the Kaweah River hatchery will give three well-equipped plants for this region.

HEALTH FESTIVAL MARKS UNIQUE MAY DAY FIESTA

COVINA, May 6.—This afternoon at Covina Park several hundred people attended the most unusual May festival ever held in this vicinity. The May Day celebration took the form of a health pageant which in a clever and original way stressed the health value of oranges.

Miss Helen Hendrick, school nurse of the Covina High School District, has been more than a year developing the plan for an original nutrition pageant and the value of her idea has been recognized by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange which has indorsed the pageant and its accompanying educational film and by the Covina Chamber of Commerce, the City Trustees, local citrus houses and civic organizations who have financed the film which is interwoven with the pageant and which shows the orange industry from the care of the orange grove through the processes of packing, shipping and marketing the fruit and the daily serving of orange juice to Covina school children.

Miss Hendrick expects to copyright the pageant which is already interesting educators and food experts who see in it a new and forceful method to present knowledge of food values.

The 1900-foot film will be shown at State fairs, educational meetings and as a part of current events at theaters throughout Eastern States and will indirectly advertise the citrus industry and the Covina district.

Two hundred and twenty-five children of the Covina, Lark Ellen and Merwin grammar schools represented the fairies of good health, vegetables, fruits, raindrops, birds, bees, sunbeams and weeds in the pageant which showed in pantomime the planting and care of fruits and vegetables by the good health fairies and the crowning of the health queen on a huge orange throne. Doris Ann Cline, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Cline, who took the part of the health queen, was attended by maids, and pages in orange costumes.

The Maypole, which was in the form of a ten-foot milk bottle, was in the Maypole dance wound with garlands of fruit and vegetables.

FALSE SALE CONTRACT LEADS TO CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

FRESNO, May 6. — Arrested on a charge of forging the name of Mrs. Mathew Conley, wife of a Fresno attorney, to a conditional sales contract for an electric washing machine for which she paid cash, Cedric O. Price, employee of a washer company here, is asserted to have confessed to his employer and Deputy Dist.-Atty. Briggs that he embezzled approximately $13,000 from the company.

The defalcations are said to have covered a period of about eighteen months, according to the purported confession, which was made in the office of Former Dist.-Atty Lovejoy, with whom Price went to confer concerning the forgery charge.

The District Attorney's office is also investigating Mrs. Price's connection with the alleged embezzlement, Briggs said today, owing to the fact that she was her husband's confidential clerk and handled the books and accounts of the washing-machine concern.

According to the purported confession, Price said he would make collections from installment purchasers of washers, refrigerators and other commodities handled by the company, and instead of turning in the money, he would report to his employer that the purchasers could not meet their payments.

Investigation was made into Price's collection activities when his employer, C. F. Rowell, discovered that collections were much less than what they should have been in comparison to the number of contracts that were in effect.

Two Wives Too Many to Keep Unsuspicious

POMONA, May 6.—In jail in Fresno on a failure to provide charge filed against him by his wife there, J. H. Rogers, 25 years of age, is today facing the more serious charge of bigamy, a warrant having been signed by wife No. 2, in Judge U. S. White's court, today.

Vivian Ybarra, 20, of Walnut is wife No. 2 and married Rogers, who is known in Fresno as J. H. Graue, following an elopement to Santa Ana on November 15, 1926, according to the complaint filed by Mrs. Ybarra Rogers today.

Rogers's undoing came when he strayed away from his wife in Fresno too long and found a warrant awaiting him upon his return there, and wife No. 2 became suspicious and started a search for him when he failed to return as promised shortly after deserting her on March 24.

Identification was made by police through the identification bureau at Sacramento through comparisons made with records there. Bail was fixed on the bigamy warrant here at $2000 and the man will be returned for trial as soon as Fresno authorities have disposed of the case pending against him there.

PASADENA CITY DIRECTORS HIT

Accused of Using Municipal Funds to Hold Office

Probably Will Hold Power for Fortnight More

Supreme Court Decision to be Rendered Then

PASADENA, May 6.—The seven City Directors whose terms of office were scheduled to expire last Tuesday as a result of the municipal election of April 7 in which seven new Directors were elected, will probably remain in office at least two weeks longer. The decision of the Supreme Court of California on the legality of the election is not expected until then.

The incumbent Directors were granted ten days in which to file and answer to the writ of mandate issued by the court, ordering them to canvass the votes of the election or show cause why they should not do so. Then the court will consider the evidence and give its decision.

Meanwhile, the old Directors continue in office because their successors cannot take their seats until the votes which elected them are officially canvassed by the old board. The majority of the incumbents have steadily refused to canvass. Commenting on this refusal, J. Perry Wood, who represents the Directors-elect, said:

"The effort of these Directors is a bold attempt to nullify two elections at which an almost unprecedented vote was cast, and at each of which, by almost unprecedented majorities, these gentlemen were ejected from office. The spectacle is not made more pleasing by the fact that these men in the prosecution of their efforts to nullify a part of the city charter to keep themselves in office, are using city funds. A greater abuse of official power, we submit, rarely has been seen."

Ads Expected to Crowd Pier at Ocean Park

SANTA MONICA, May 6.—Widespread newspaper advertising by the Ocean Park Business Men's Association, is expected to swell the crowds at Ocean Park's great beach and pier playground, according to members of the business and amusement body. The present advertising campaign, directors believe, will greatly swell all past attendance records.

Traffic experts and hotel men predict a big season here. C. J. Lick, president of the association, is now visiting Atlantic City and other great amusement centers, where he is searching for anything new in the fun line. Jack Retlaw, manager of the West Coast chain of motion picture and vaudeville theaters in the Santa Monica bay district, whose box-office records are said to form a reliable indicator of beach patronage, predicted today that Ocean Park's modern steel and concrete piers and amusement concessions will entertain record-breaking hosts this summer.

Autoist Dies as Car Hits Bridge Near Oceanside

SANTA ANA, May 6.—One man was killed, another injured, probably fatally, and a third injured so seriously that he also may not survive when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a concrete abutment at the south approach of the overhead bridge twelve miles north of Oceanside on the coast highway last night. Jack Domagalla, 355 Grand avenue, Los Angeles, is dead, Charles E. Meader, Portland, Or., serious body cuts, internal hurts, not expected to live, Roy Smith, Azusa, cuts on the body and internal injuries which may prove fatal.

Domagalla was driving the heavy auto south from Los Angeles toward San Diego, it was reported. They were traveling at a high rate of speed and at the south end of the overhead bridge failed to make the curve and crashed into the concrete abutment. Oceanside authorities explained that the highway makes a sharp curve to the left immediately after crossing the bridge and that several accidents have occurred at that point.

The motor of the machine was driven back under the rear seat and Domagalla was pinned in the machine by the motor. Dr. G. T. Logsdon of Oceanside, who examined the pair, said he had little hope for the recovery of either, but added that Smith probably had a fighting chance to live. The injured men were removed to the County Hospital at San Diego. The body of Domagalla was removed to an Oceanside undertaking parlor.

It is expected that of this amount the ranchers will bear $25 per acre and the remainder will be borne by the Southern Pacific Railway and the State Highway Commission. It was stated that the State highways in that section were damaged no less than $75,000 by the flood this year and that the railroad company bore a similar loss. The ranchers themselves bore a loss of twice that amount. Engineers said that there is no stream of the size of San Timoteo Creek in Southern California that has as large a watershed as this stream bed has.

rights of way, and all appurtenances thereto, of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation now used for the purpose of supplying electrical energy to the inhabitants of the city of Los Angeles, and to serve sections contiguous to the city of Los Angeles, within the county of Los Angeles, and authorizing the necessary proceedings for such purpose, be and the same is hereby directed to be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the city at the next general municipal election to be conducted June 7, 1927, and that the City Clerk be and he is hereby authorized and directed to place the question of the adoption of said ordinance upon the ballot for said election to be conducted June 7, 1927."

Champ Vance, vice-president of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, said that until the resolution of the Council had been received and studied to determine just what it meant comment on it by the company would not be made.

SCATTERGOOD TALKS

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood of the Bureau of Power and Light issued a statement shortly after the resolution was passed in which he declared that the acquisitory ordinance is in line with proceedings instituted five years ago.

"There is nothing new in this ordinance which is to be submitted to the voters at the June 7 election," Scattergood said. "As far back as 1922 the City Council adopted its first resolution empowering the city to request the State Railroad Commission to make a valuation of the electric generating and distributing properties of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

"Furthermore, the people have already voted to uphold these negotiations. In 1924 the voters by a large majority defeated a referendum ordinance which sought to halt these valuation proceedings. The action of the people in defeating this attempt to block the valuation proceedings clearly indicated that they favored the carrying forward of these proceedings.

"The ordinance to be voted on does not provide for the purchase of the company's system; it does not authorize the expenditure of public money. It merely has the effect of bringing all proceedings up to date and permitting them to continue so that the Railroad Commission can determine the actual valuation of the company's electric system.

POINTS TO REASONS

"When the valuation of the company's system has been determined by the Railroad Commission, then the city will decide whether it desires to purchase this system. And that decision also will be made by the voters when they are submitted bonds to finance such a purchase.

"As a matter of fact, there are many vital reasons why the company's electric system should be operated by the city as a part of the Municipal Power Bureau's system. A consolidation of the two electric systems in Los Angeles will eliminate the great waste that results from duplicate distributing systems. It will cut down the number of unsightly poles in the streets. It will provide a greater reliability in service to consumers, because it will bring together under one management the company's steam generating plants and the Power Bureau's hydroelectric plants and its stand-by steam plant.

"The economies resulting from the purchase of the company's electric system by the city are bound to result in lower rates for service."

Eagle Rock Orchestra and Glee Club Win

Contests Will be Continued Until 27th Inst.

Youthful musical talent of the Southland competed in the final contests of the California Eisteddfod Association, which began last night in Gamut Club Hall, 1044 South Hope street. The finals will be conducted nightly until the 27th inst.

Last night's competition centered in elementary and junior high school music, including choral and instrumental groups. In the intermediate school orchestra contest, the Eagle Rock orchestra was awarded first place. The Huntington Beach Grammar School orchestra was chosen second.

REDLANDS WINS

The Redlands Junior High School orchestra was acclaimed a winner of the junior high competition. Second honors were awarded the Redondo Beach Junior High School orchestra.

Probably the most hotly contested event of the evening was the competition of the elementary school girls' glee clubs. Girls of the Eagle Rock Intermediate School Glee Club won first place; Irvington-avenue Intermediate School, Huntington Park, second; Covina Grammar School, third and the Briggs Elementary School, Santa Paula, fourth.

In the elementary mixed chorus competition the McKinley School, Santa Ana, was awarded first place. Briggs Elementary School, Santa Paula, second, and Eagle Rock Intermediate, third.

BOYS UNOPPOSED

Boys of the Eleanor Joy Toll School, Glendale, were unopposed in the elementary school boys' contest. Honors of the intermediate and junior high school girls' glee club competition were won by the Frances E. Willard Junior High School, Santa Ana.

Judges of last night's events were Arthur M. Perry, assistant dean, college of music, University of Southern California; F. Stilwell Moore, principal of Burbank High School, and Miss Genevieve Rorke, head of the James A. Foshay High School music department.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Marian Sibley.

Eighth Street Widening Plans Going Forward

City Engineer Shaw was instructed by the City Council yesterday to start plans for the improvement of Eighth street from Figueroa street to Windsor Boulevard, the plans to include a revision of grades.

With condemnation proceedings for the widening of Eighth street to eighty feet well under way, it was deemed necessary to establish the grade as soon as possible in order that new buildings, now being planned, may conform to the new grade.

The motion to start the new proceedings was made by Councilman Hall on request of the Eighth-Street Improvement Association. While there are no severe grades on Eighth street several "humps" should be lowered, it was stated, to provide an adequate traffic artery in conformity with the major traffic street plan.

Following the action of council announcement was made by directors of the improvement association to the effect that the improvement will be pushed to completion within two years.

Henry W. Louis, president, said that more than 450 property owners on Eighth street had been served with the requisite legal papers by the city attorney and that it will require but little more time to obtain service on others owning property in the improvement zone. W. M. Bearman, secretary, reported there have been no serious protests against the project thus far.

NEW BEACH SPORT INTRODUCED HERE

Dancers Demonstrate Pushballette

SOMETHING new in beach activity made its appearance yesterday at Crystal Beach when pushballette, and eastern and innovation, was introduced to the west coast for the first time.

The new sport was introduced by Ida May Chadwick and her six blonde dancers from the Orpheum, who possess the first pushballette to be seen in the West. The ball gets its name from its similarity in design to a pushball. It is about half the size of the latter.

LENIENCY REWARDS DUMBNESS

Defendant Who Admitted Lack of Suspicion When Future Wife Stored Stolen Groceries in Garage, Granted Mercy of Justice

"Either you are the best liar I have ever known or you are the dumbest defendant ever to be brought into this court," was the delphic statement of Superior Judge Hardy yesterday when he granted five years' probation to Martin Coljack, Los Angeles contractor, on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Coljack, not to be outdone by the court, arose and readily admitted that he was so dumb that it seemed impossible.

Coljack's predicament was brought about by his deep affection for one Rosie Martin, a cook for a wealthy Los Angeles family, according to testimony drawn out by his attorney, Stanley Vlasi.

For many years Coljack "kept company" with Rosie, it was testified, and they laid plans for their marriage. Then one day Rosie asked Coljack for permission to store a large quantity of groceries in his garage, saying that she had bought them cheaply from her employer, and that some of the groceries were left over from a restaurant which she once owned.

But Rosie kept adding to the supply of groceries, Coljack asserted, and finally he told her that she must return them all to her employer. Meanwhile the police took a hand in the case and arrested her.

Miss Martin pleaded guilty to the charges placed against her a week ago and was sentenced to six months in jail by Superior Judge Burnell.

Yesterday Coljack appeared before Judge Hardy and was granted probation on the ground that he believed the groceries actually belonged to the girl until they had accumulated to a point where they weighed more than eleven tons. Then, he said, he ordered her to return them, but the police came before they had finished their argument.

HIKER'S FALL FATAL

Kansas City Youth Dies of Injuries From Slip in San Dimas Canyon

Richard Lewis, 20 years of age, of San Dimas, died in San Dimas Hospital yesterday as the result of a fall of eighty feet in San Dimas Canyon. At the hospital it was said he had been found near the canyon mouth at 9 a.m. Thursday, with both legs broken and many other injuries, but survived until yesterday afternoon. He said he had been hiking alone in the canyon and had slipped down the hillside.

Lewis came recently from Kansas City with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Lewis, who are visiting relatives at the Davis Margaret Home, an orphanage at Laverne. He is a grandson of Rev. J. B. Woodcock, a minister at Olinda.

Because incomplete first reports received at the Sheriff's office indicated suspicious circumstances the case was investigated by deputies of the homicide squad. The youth had been employed in the oil fields. He planned to enter the University of Southern California next fall.

CLAIMS OF OWENS FOLK THROWN OUT

Council Rejects Demand of Residents for $2,812,125 Damages in Water Dispute

Claims amounting to $2,812,125 filed with the Board of Water and Power Commissioners by residents of Owens Valley, asserting property damage through the acquisition of lands and withdrawal of water, were denied by the unanimous vote of the City Council yesterday.

In presenting the motion that the Council concur with the recommendation of the board that the claims be denied, Councilman Criswell questioned the constitutionality of the State law under which the claims were filed. He also expressed doubt whether the action of the city of Los Angeles had at any time injured property values in Inyo county.

"The tax rolls of Inyo county in 1907 were $43,000," he pointed out, "while last year Los Angeles alone paid over $70,000 in taxes to Inyo county. Today the tax rolls of the county are $200,000 and it would be extremely difficult to prove that the county had been harmed in the slightest through the acquisition of lands and water by Los Angeles."

In its letter recommending that the claims be denied the Board of Water and Power Commissioners said action on the claims had been deferred for months at the request of Dist.-Atty. Hession of Inyo county and his associates, who wished to appear before the board. When they failed repeatedly to do so the board voted, feeling that it would be unreasonable to wait longer.

YOUNG WOMEN MAY KEEP WELL

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Here is Proof

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers," Mrs. Jack Lorberter of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. "If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results." In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shades so that nobody could see me." One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own. "I bought the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorberter continued, "and have had fine results. The condition I was in made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask "How is housekeeping?" and he says, "It is just like being in Heaven!"

STUBBORN, UN-SIGHTLY PIMPLES ON FACE AND BACK

Skin now clear and smooth

Doubs, Md., July 15:—"Three or four years ago, my face and back broke out with pimples and blackheads. When I picked or pressed them they would get very sore and burn. I used several kinds of cold cream, but none of them helped a bit. Then I happened to see your advertisement and thought I would try Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. Within a few weeks I had not a pimple or blackhead at all and now my face is nice and smooth. I have also found Resinol Soap very refreshing after coming in out of the sun or wind." (Signed) Miss Elsie E. Painter.

If you are troubled with a rough, pimply skin, ask your druggist today for Resinol Soap and Ointment, and see what an improvement a week's use will make.

AMERICAN DRYS IN FIGHT ABROAD

Foes of Prohibition Have Congress in Rome

Drive on Liquor Held Lost in Latin Nations

Battle on Saloon Gains in Northern Europe

ROME, May 6. (AP)—American dry advocates are aiding prohibitionist activities in European countries, notably in Germany, by granting subsidies, it was declared in the general report on the world wide war between the wet and dry forces read at the Congress of the International League of adversaries of prohibition.

The propaganda of the German prohibitionists, claiming a membership of 1,000,000, cost more than 6,000,000 marks, ($1,500,000) in 1926, compared with 2,280,000 marks spent by the advocates of liquor.

The dry cause, it was declared by some of the members of the congress, was utterly lost in the Latin countries as well as in Great Britain, but continued "dangerous" in Central and Northern Europe. Slight victories for liquor, however, were said to be noticeable in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. In Finland the prohibitionists were reported by the congress committee of inquiry to be "triumphant, with dire results."

In Holland the government was heavily increasing liquor taxes. In Sweden the drys had won over the government, while in Norway, after a serious setback, they were again working hard to create a bone-dry regime.

The league decided to intensify its "defense" activities in 1927 which will include a fight to prevent the League of Nations from taking up the prohibition question. A resolution was adopted reaffirming the principle of "personal liberty; drinking with sane moderation is the best method of combatting alcoholism, which is made worse by integral prohibition systems."

WOMAN STRUCK BY MOTORIST SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Mabel Houston, 62 years of age, of 1128 Santa Monica Boulevard, Santa Monica, died yesterday in Longshore Hospital, Santa Monica, and a charge of drunken driving booked against James O. O'Brien, 26 years of age, of Universal City, was changed to suspected manslaughter. On the 1st inst., according to police records, a car driven by O'Brien struck Mrs. Houston and another woman at One Hundred and Twelfth avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard, Sawtelle. John Harris, a passenger in O'Brien's car, was held as a material witness.

WESTGATER ARRESTED AS SHOOTING SUSPECT

Winfield S. Russell, 51 years of age, 11748 Dorothy avenue, Westgate, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Howry, charged with suspected assault with intent to murder.

According to Howry, Russell is believed to have fired two shots at Washington Turner of 11728 Mayfield avenue, Westgate, yesterday morning. Neither shot took effect.

DE PINEDO TUNES UP PLANE FOR FLIGHT

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—Francesco De Pinedo was tuning up his new seaplane, the Santa Maria II today preparatory to a trial flight tomorrow. As he watched the weather, none too promising at the moment, the Italian airman whose four-continent flight was interrupted when his plane was destroyed by fire in Arizona, said he expected to resume his journey Monday or Tuesday.

AN ODD JOB!

Authors dislike clearance sales, for, according to two English authors, nothing is so injurious to the seven-shillings and sixpence-novelist "than for the public to see his works offered at two and eleven." They have, therefore, engaged a literary reviewer to tour the bookshops and buy up all their books which are on sale at reduced prices. Surely a unique job, and only equaled by that of a man who regularly attends all auctions buying up medals of the brigade guards in order "to keep them from becoming common."—[Market for Exchange.

TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE

Federal, State and county governments are now spending about $13,000,000 a year in eradicating tuberculosis from the cattle which supply milk to the large cities. More than 8,000,000 cows are tested annually by a large army of veterinarians engaged in this important work. Between 3 and 4 per cent of the cattle tested are found diseased. A constant fight is also waged by these agencies against tuberculosis in hogs and fowls.—[Thrift Magazine.

THE QUARRY NOT DESCRIBED

A gentleman "up from the country" was inspecting a London picture gallery. One painting aroused his sporting instincts. It was an oil of two alert, shaggy retrievers and was entitled, "Two Dogs—After Landseer." "Well," muttered the old fellow, "I see the two dogs, all right, but here be that fellow Landseer?"—[Yorkshire News.
